The Right Thing

A young recruit was set on sentry-go, and was, of course, new to the business.
A good-natured comrade brought him a sandwich, and the recruit was about to consume it, when the major appeared.
As the officer was in mufti, the sentry did not recognize him, and did not salute. The major took in the situation and asked—'What's that?' 'A sandwich,' replied the recruit. 'Have a bit?' 'Do you know who I am?' asked the major. 'Don't know you from Adam; perhaps you're the major's coachy.' 'No, I am not.' 'His groom, perhaps?' 'No. Try again.' 'Perhaps the old chap himself.' 'Right this time,' said the major. 'Oh, goodness!' exclaimed the frightened sentry. 'Hold this sandwich while I present arms!' and rub well on scratch.

Cocoanut Balls.—Beat a quarter of a pound of butter and a quarter pound of sugar to a cream; add three well beaten eggs and sift in two ounces of flour; beat till quite smooth and light; then add a quarter of a pound of cocoanut.
Pour this into a round cake tin lined with buttered paper. Bake thirty minutes in a moderate oven; lift carefully out and remove the paper. When cold, stamp out in rounds with a plain cutter about two inches in diameter.
Whip up half a pint of thick cream until stiff; add one tablespoonful of vanilla extract and one tablespoonful of sugar; dip the rounds in the cream, sprinkle with cocoanut, and serve.

Soft Molasses Cake.—One cupful of molasses, one tablespoonful lard, one egg, one-half cup of water, small teaspoonful of soda, two cups of flour, pinch of salt. Same amount of coffee can be added instead of water. Also cup of raisins.

A Daily Thought

Thoughtfulness is refinement.
Thoughtfulness is one of the best tests of a fine character.

We shall then have joy without sorrow and rest without weariness. There is no mixture of corruption with our graces, nor of suffering with our comfort. There are none of those waves in that harbour which now so toss us up and down.—Richard Baxter.

GLADSTONE'S FAVORITE GRANDCHILD
"It is Vain for You to Rise Up Early."

The announcement of the engagement of Miss Dorothy Drew to Lieutenant Parish, one of Lord Gladstone's A.D.C.'s, recalls the fact that Miss Drew was the favorite grandchild and companion of the late Mr.
W. E. Gladstone. She has been the subject of many pretty stories, one being to the effect that she once nonplussed the G.O.M. on a Biblical subject. The famous statesman was trying to induce her to get up earlier. "Why don't you get up, my child?" he asked. "Why, grandpa," replied Miss Dorothy, "didn't you tell me to do what the Bible says?"
"Yes, certainly," said Mr Gladstone.
The little girl then proudly opened her Bible at Psalm cxxvii. and read the second verse: "It is vain for you to rise up early."

RICARDO'S REPLY.

Professor Nichols, a famous physicist, during the recitation of a freshmen class in natural philosophy, observed a tall, lanky youth in the rear seat, his head in a recumbent position, his body in a languid pose, his eyes half closed, and his legs extended far out. He was either asleep or about to lose consciousness.
"Mr. Ricardo," said the great scientist, "you may recite." The freshman opened his eyes he did not change his somnolent pose.
"Mr. Ricardo, what is work?"
"Everything is work," was the drowsy reply.
"What! Everything is work?"
"Yes, sir."
"Then I take it you would like the class to believe that this desk is work?"
"Yes, sir," replied the youth, wearily; "wood-work."

French Language Used in England.

Though we are in the twentieth century the Norman French of Edward the Confessor is still, in a way, the legal voice of Parliament. Whenever a Bill has passed the British Commons, the Clerk, before he forwards it to the House of Lords, writes upon it according to ancient usage: "Soit baillé aux Seigneurs" (Let it be sent to the Lords). If it is sent from the Peers to the Commons, it bears the like endorsement: "Soit baillé aux Communes" (Let it be sent to the Commons).

SERVANT PROBLEM.

It Has Been Solved in Berlin—Work For $8 a Month.

The eternal domestic servant problem seems to be nearing a solution in Berlin, and it is a very simple one —namely, the substitution of men for women.
Of recent years a vast increase in the immigration from the country to the city has taken place, with the result that a capable man servant can now be hired for from between $8 and $10 a month with board.
The Berlin hausfrau testifies that the new servant is infinitely superior to the old, besides leading a social glory to the household, as hitherto men servants have been employed almost solely by the noble and aristocratic or very wealthy families.
Experience shows that they can do and do as well or better all that the woman servant does—dusting, cleaning, brushing, attending at table, even cooking; in short, everything except washing and ironing, against which the manly soul revolts.

They are far more easily satisfied, far more obliging and far less capricious, and their sense of duty is illustrated by the fact that they will actually clean and put away the silver and china before they go to bed.
They are a source of economy, too, for when in their charge china cups and saucers do not acquire the habit of automatically sliding off the salvor to the ground, or valuable vases and ornaments that of suddenly jumping from their places in the dead watches of the night and being smashed.

Nor does this exhaust the list of their superior qualities, for they rarely give notice in a fit of temper and more readily become attached to their employers. Still, no man is perfect, and the master where a man servant is employed must be prepared for a mysterious fading away of color in his whisky and a high rate of mortality among his cigars.

KEEPING YOUNG

Oatmeal is Said to Ward Off Age—Often 20 Years

Two noted scientists, by experiments on animals, have proved that youthfulness depends on the thyroid gland. And that something in oats seems to feed that gland.
It appears that old age can be deferred many years by caring for this gland. The main care is to feed it, and the proper food is oats.
Oats contain more energy food, more food for the brain, more food for the nerves, than any other grain that grows. And now it seems that they also serve to keep one young.
But common oatmeal isn't good enough for such an important diet. The rich, plump grains alone are used in the making of Quaker Oats. They are selected by 62 siftings, and only ten pounds are obtained from a bushel.
Quaker Oats means just the cream of the oats made delicious. It costs but one-half cent per dish.
Made in Canada.

Buttered Eggs

Beat up as many fresh eggs as you require, put a piece of butter in a saucepan, shake it one way until melted, add two tablespoons of cream, put in the beaten eggs, and stir constantly until they become thick. Have slices of hot buttered toast on which to pile the eggs.

Beef Olives

Take three-fourths of a pound of tender beefsteak, one tablespoonful of bread crumbs, one tablespoonful of chopped suet, three anchovies, one hard boiled egg, one teaspoon of chopped parsley, and one teaspoonful of grated lemon rind. Cut the beef into thin, even sized slices. Put the anchovies, chopped egg, parsley, suet, lemon rind and bread crumbs into a basin, season with salt and pepper to taste, and add enough beaten egg to bind them together. Put a little of this forcemeat into each slice of beef, then roll it up and tie loosely with string. Put these "olives" into a saucepan and add enough stock to cover them, then let them stew gently for three-quarters of an hour. Serve them with gravy and baked tomatoes.

Hopeful

much by being very poor until you are thirty-five years of age." Impetuous Poet (eagerly): "And then?" Fortune-teller: "You will get used to it."
