IRON ORE HILL

The Woodstock Development Co are meeting with good success in their efforts to test the ore deposits at Iron Ore and Moody Hills. In the hole they are now drilling they struck the ore bodies at a depth of 155 feet and on Sunday evening they were still in iron at 223 feet deep.

They propose sinking the hole to a depth of 1500 feet which will cut 6 or 8 parallel veins and prove their exact width and value at depth.

At Moody Hill, about one half mile distant from Iron Ore Hill, a vein of Magnetic Iron Ore has been uncovered which shows a width of 40 feet.

This work should be continued and several holes be put down to test the character and depth. It is difficult to tell what the results may be, but there is one thing certain, we will never know until a test is made and there is no more suitable time than right now while the government diamond drill is available and on the ground at work.

The company is selling each one thousand shares of their interest in a prospect of 10 square miles for $10, which, when capitalized at 1000000, is equal selling 1000 shares for $10 or one cent per share. They will continue to sell at that low figure until sufficient funds are raised to bore several holes. $10 is not much to lose and it may not only bring big returns but be the means of starting an industry that will mean great things for the future.

The company respectfully solicits your subscription to these $10 shares.

IN THE PATH OF THE CANADIAN FOREST FIRE

Early reports of the terrible conditions existing in the fire swept regions of Canada have not been exaggerated. In the Porcupine district alone the property loss is estimated at more than $2,000,000.

The exact number of dead cannot be accurately estimated but it is believed to be between four and five hundred. Those who escaped the ravages of the fire were driven by the flames into the lakes and drowned.

TERRIBLE TOLL OF PLAGUE IN INDIA

London, July 10—According to figures received in this city the deaths from the plague in India have reached the enormous total of 650,690 for the half year ended on June 30th. The disease has taken such a hold on the country that its ravages are little heard of except through the occasional official statistics. The British India office in recent reports stated that the epidemic was most violent this year, and that the most persistent efforts to stamp it out failed to effect a permanent improvement.

WILL PRODUCE SERUM FATAL TO LEPROSY

San Francisco, July 19—Experiments now being conducted by the Federal Leprosy Investigation Commission at Honolulu undoubtedly will produce serums and vaccines fatal to leprosy germs, according to Dr Clegg assistant director of the station, who arrived yesterday from Honolulu. The germ itself, Dr Clegg says, has been isolated.

THE LONG WAY TO THE WEST.

The opening of the Panama Canal will make material changes in ocean passenger and freight routes. Even now British settlers' effects intended for points in British Columbia are frequently sent through the Suez and across the Pacific. A steamer from Liverpool that had carried sixty-five cases of settlers' effects across the Mediterranean and the Indian Ocean and the Pacific arrived recently at Vancouver. She had no less than 6,000 tons of cargo from Great Britain, consisting of such things as cement, plate glass, liquors, and earthenware, while from the Orient she brought 43,000 sacks of rice.

When the Panama Canal is opened the sea route from Liverpool to Victoria and Vancouver will not require a voyage little short of the circumnavigation of the globe or a trip around the Horn, which is greatly disliked by all sailormen. The opening of the canal will permit vessels to make the voyage out and back to Liverpool in much less than half the time now required, and will therefore greatly lessen the freight rates. It will enable Canadian shipping on both the Atlantic and Pacific coasts to be come very active competitors in the carrying of heavy and cheap articles from one coast to the other. Even now steel rails, bridge material, and similar things are carried from our Atlantic coast around the Horn to British Columbia more cheaply than they can be hauled by rail. In a few years, when it will be no longer necessary for vessels to sail thousands of miles along the South American coast to pass by water from one coast of the Dominion to the other, this traffic will be very greatly increased. The shipbuilders and shipowners of Canada are vitally interested in the progress of work at the Isthmus.—Toronto Globe.

SALT LAKES IN BRITAIN

The existence of salt lakes and deserts in Britain in pre-glacial times was stated by W. W. Watts, professor of geology to the Imperial College of Science, at the Royal Institution, to be shown by the peculiar geological features of Charnwood Forest, Leicestershire. It was by far the oldest landscape known in Britain. Today where the marl had been swept away by denuding agents the rocks protruded in peaks, and in some cases the rocks were harder than steel. The resemblance of the scenery to deserts in Arabia and Arizona, he said, went to show that in the pre-glacial period there must have been deserts in Britain occupied by salt seas. As a further proof of the existence of deserts ages ago he indicated by means of slides the smoothness of a number of the rocks in Charnwood Forest. Their polish, he said could only have been produced by the action of the wind drifting sand against them. From vastly ancient days the marl had preserved the original rocky landscape.—Dundee Advertiser.
