WOODSTOCK - and - HARTLAND

Woodstock a Divisional Point on the Quebec and St. John Valley Railroad.

FIRST: Because Woodstock is the proper distance from the terminal at St. John, one hundred thirty miles being about one third the distance between St. John and Quebec.

SECOND: Because Woodstock has a sufficient supply of electric power at hand.

THIRD: Because Woodstock has available a good acreage of level ground for yard space, roundhouse and machine shops.

FOURTH: Because the citizens of Woodstock are sufficiently alive to the situation to hold out further inducements for the establishment of a divisional point here.

The distance from St. John to Quebec by the Quebec and St. John Valley Railway route is about 380 miles, which, for economic operation of the road, is about the right distance for three divisions and as Woodstock is about one third the distance from St. John, Woodstock stands the best chance of becoming a divisional point.

"There is a tide in the affairs of men which taken at the flood leads on to fortune," this is Woodstock's psychological moment, and Woodstock and vicinity have the men that are capable of grasping the situation. Now, if ever is the time for the people to bestir themselves and get after that which will boom the town and county. Now is the time to throw off all pessimistic ideas and see the bright future that is before us. Now is the time to get busy and help to boost the town while the current is setting in the right direction. We have the advantage in location, space, power and men, of all other locations, and it is a matter of putting our arguments and inducements before the proper authorities and making a long pull, a strong pull, and a pull together. Let us forget that there ever was an election, that there is to be an election, but all work for the common good, common prosperity and common development.

If we get the divisional point it will mean growth, expansion, more business, more money, more local manufacturers, better markets, larger and better equipped schools and public buildings, greater influence, better times, more hustle—surely it is worthy the effort of all!

Big Mass Meeting Friday Night

Woodstock Wants to be Divisional Point

Woodstock being first in the field, stands a good chance of getting the cars shops and being made a divisional point for the St. John Valley Railway. At a monster meeting in the town hall, Friday evening, Dec. 15, attended by members of the board of trade, the town councillors, and citizens generally, and presided over by Mayor Ketchum, the committee that interviewed Premier Flemming and A. R. Gould at Centreville three weeks ago on the subject reported.

Speeches were made by Mayor Ketchum, A. D. Holyoke, J. T. A. Dibblee, W. W. Hay, Geo. E. Balmain, E. R. Teed, E. W. Mair, J. E. Cogger, Dr. Rankin; Thomas Neddin, I. Draper, H. D. Stevens, G. A. White, J. W. Gallagher, William Balmain, and many others. The following resolution among others carried:

"That this meeting of the town council, board of trade, and citizens of the town of Woodstock desire to express their hearty appreciation of the determined efforts to secure a railway along the valley of the St. John made during the last two years by Premier Flemming, and especially to note that his efforts backed up by the government have resulted in the execution of a contract, and the assurance of the completion of the railway within a reasonable time; We desire also to press on both the local and federal governments the advantages of Woodstock as a divisional point, and to urge that the fixing of such divisional point and the location of shops be taken up with the council of the town before a final decision is made, and that the matter be taken up with A. R. Gould to make this town a divisional point for the railway that will run from Quebec through Maine and tapping the Valley Railway at or near Beechwood, N. B.

Premier Fleming Says

"If our people will cease dreaming of the opportunities of the Golden West, and embrace the opportunities of the Golden East, New Brunswick during the next five years will enjoy a period of prosperity and progress far beyond any previous era in its history."

Others May Join McNamaras Soon

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 15—Government officials, who are co-operating with District Attorney Miller in conducting the investigation of the dynamite conspiracy before the federal grand jury, learned from two sources today the details of explosions in which it is said others than the McNamaras were implicated.

W. A. Griffin, chief of police of Kansas City (Mo.), who had knowledge of five explosions in Kansas City, was questioned about certain facts which it is said have never been revealed. These explosions, all directed against structures erected by firms employing non-union men, occurred from 1908 to 1910. As not more than two of them were confessedly the work of McManigal, Chief Griffin's information was sifted to ascertain who else might have destroyed the property.

Much important testimony bearing on the records taken from the headquarters of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers was also obtained from Miss Mary Dye, who went before the grand jury. Up to a few years ago Miss Dye, now of Pittsburg, was confidential secretary in the iron workers' headquarters, and she had to do with the correspondence of J. J. McNamara, the secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. Andrew J. Hull, the iron workers' former bookkeeper, also visited the federal building. Many hotel clerks from various parts of the country have been subpoenaed to tell what they knew of the movements of McManigal while he was on his dynamiting expeditions. The hotel men are to be questioned to corroborate McManigal's confession, wherein he related visits to certain towns with a suit case filled either with dynamite or nitro-glycerine.

Cleveland, Ohio, Dec. 15.—Declaring that other arrests in the McNamara case may be expected soon and that attempts to bribe him and his men had been made, Detective William J. Burns made an address here today before 100 members of the National Metal Trades Association. He stopped here on his way to Indianapolis, where he will continue his investigations.

Burns made another attack on Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, declaring he would not cease his attacks until Gompers is thrown out of organized labor.

Los Angeles, Dec. 15—A little package of indictments numbering perhaps four, probably will be returned here next Tuesday or Wednesday against men living in California, and suspected of complicity in nation-wide dynamite plots. This will end the western section of the government investigation and will transfer the scene of all activities to Indianapolis, where another grand jury is in session.

A canvas and leather case, ten inches square and as tall as a small ice cream freezer, was shown the jury today. This case and others like it are said to have been used in carrying about the country dynamite used for various "jobs."

It was such a case that Ortic McManigal carried when, according to his own statement, he came west to blow up the Llewellyn iron works. McManigal was so accustomed to its presence that he gave it to a porter, giving him also a dollar to take care of it.
