CURRENT EVENTS

The mystery of the dynamiting of the Los Angeles (Cal) 'Times' newspaper building on the night of Oct. 1st, 1910 in which 21 lives were lost and valuable property destroyed may be on the eve of clearing up by the arrest on Saturday in Indianapolis (Ind.) of J J McNamara, secretary-treasurer of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, there, and 'J B Bryce,' otherwise J B McNamara, and Ortie E McManigal at Detroit, all of whom are being taken to Los Angeles to answer indictments charging them with complicity in the explosion. Explosives of various kinds, it is alleged, have been found in the association's headquarters and other places, for which McNamara was responsible. While many explosions in which vast amounts of property have been destroyed during the past seven months are attributed to McNamara and his abettors, the various labor organizations consider the arrests and charges as a 'conspiracy against organized labor,' and will contribute towards the defence of the accused.

An anti-Home Rule amendment to the Veto Bill was defeated in the British House of Commons on April 25, after a spirited debate, by a vote of 284 to 190. During the discussion Mr Asquith said the Cabinet was convinced that the electors had returned them to power with the full knowledge that they would give Ireland a measure of Home Rule.

The rebellion among the tribesmen in Morocco may eventually cause international complications. With the development of the revolt threatening the security of the Sultan's government and the preparations of Spain and France to protect their interests in the event that order was not soon restored have come rumors that the two countries were at odds over the measures to be taken and that Germany had intimated to Madrid that it was not in sympathy with the French plan. Premier Canalejas of Spain has refused to enlighten the Cortes as to the exact situation between Spain and France, or to say whether German influence had been brought to bear in the matter. He asserted that Spain had adopted a positive attitude, but he would not reveal the intent of France as disclosed in notes exchanged.

The coming Imperial Conference in London, which has been much discussed in Parliament and the press of Britain during the week, reveals, it is thought by some important personages, an unsuspected weak spot in the constitutional theory of the British Empire, namely, the increasing desire of the colonies to have their own foreign policy, irrespective of the Mother Country. The empire's attitude towards Japan undoubtedly is the subject of the gravest discussion. The Government promises to reveal all Cabinet secrets to the colonial premiers under absolute secrecy. One writer in the Times says that Canada may use her navy to support a policy which England does not want, and that Australia may be threatening Japan when England and Japan are engaged in delicate negotiations about a Japanese alliance. Australia, by the advice of the English admiral sent for the purpose, proposes to build a fleet of fifty-two vessels at a cost of £88,000,000.

The Emperor of Austria is again suffering from throat trouble, but his indisposition is officially stated to be unimportant. The Emperor Francis Joseph celebrated his eightieth birthday on August 18 last. He has reigned since 1848.

Premier Katsura of Japan has been created a prince, which indicates that the Emperor is pleased with his policies, especially in China and Corea.

The Council of the London Chamber of Commerce has passed a resolution to accede to the request of the New York Chamber of Commerce to co operate with it to bring about a treaty of arbitration between Gre

Britain and the United States as proposed by President Taft.

The decree of separation of church and state in Portugal is received with comparative indifference by the country. The north is perhaps the only part where protests may occur. It is estimated that the confiscation of Portuguese religious wealth will bring to the government a return of more than $30,000,000.

Defalcations of $50,000 have been discovered in the accounts of the Woman's Red Cross for the Colonies, a prominent social and philanthropic organization in Berlin.

A passenger train on the Kowie railway plunged into a gorge 250 feet deep when the Blaaukrantz bridge, fifteen miles from Grahamstown, Cape Colony, over which it was passing on April 22, collapsed, resulting in the death of 32 persons and the probably fatal injury of many more.

The British Government's Copyright bill has passed its second reading in the House of Commons. The measure not only sets forth amendments based on the Copyright Convention of 1908, but codifies the common law on copyright and the existing statutes, numbering about twenty. Copyright under the amended law would run as a general rule during the life of the author and fifty years after. Foreign authors may acquire copyright by making first publication within the British Dominions, but may be deprived of it by the Government if the country to which they belong refuses adequate protection to British authors. Imprisonment is substituted for a fine as punishment for piracy, and there is a clause giving authors protection against dramatic performances of any copyrighted work from pirated copies. Photographs, gramophone records, and perforated music rolls are to have copyright, the terms being for fifty years from the time the negative or plate is made.

The Minnesota legislature before proroguing on April 19 passed bills for a one mill tax for good roads, a general forestry bill, popular election of senators and abolition of capital punishment.

DEAF

For Thirteen Years. Catarrhazone Cured.

Mr. Geo. Warner, publisher of The Masonic Register, Toronto, was almost totally deaf in both ears for a number of years.

Mr. Warner says: "For the past thirteen years my hearing has been badly affected. The streets were as quiet to me as if I lived in the city of the dead. I could neither hear the noise of street cars nor sound of horses' feet on the pavement. Before I had used Catarrhazone Inhaler three days I was able to notice a great change in my condition, which gradually improved until now I can hear a whisper across the room. I cannot tell you how much I appreciate Catarrhazone, or of the wonderful results I have derived from using it. Catarrhazone has my strongest endorsement, and I am quite willing that you should use it."

Mr. Warner's unsolicited testimonial furnishes abundant proof that deafness can be cured, even in old age, if Catarrhazone is used. This remedy is scientific in its application, and meets with the endorsement of prominent ministers and doctors all over Canada. Our best equipped health institutions always keep it on hand, and cases are recorded where it has been used with great success in the Government deaf and dumb institutions where other means proved futile. Complete outfit, price $1.00. All dealers or the Catarrhazone Co., Kingston, Ont.

NON MILITANT LEADER.

The non militant suffragists of England are led by a woman of great intellectual power. Mrs Henry Fawcett, widow of England's blind postmaster general, to whom she was a most efficient helpmeet. Mrs Fawcett is the president of the great and increasing body of women known as the National Union of Women's Suffrage Societies. The union now includes two hundred societies. An immense amount of work is done on the constitutional lines by this army of non militant suffragists. For Mrs Fawcett herself the cause is now her life work, and she absorbs all her time and her great gifts. She does not write much, for lack of time. She recognizes that there is a force in the spoken word, as against the written word, which cannot be ignored. She endeavors to satisfy all demands made upon her, but it is clearly impossible to speak for all the two hundred societies, of which she is president, every year. She has devoted herself to the work since 1867, when John Stuart Mill moved the amendment in the House of Commons. But she has worked harder in the last six years than ever before. There is much to be done in the immediate future in addition to this regular work. Mrs Fawcett looks to the efforts of the conciliation committee as the great hope of the woman suffrage party at the present time. In the meantime—and should that not yield the desired results—Mrs Fawcett's scheme of action is that the same continuous line of work must be maintained unceasingly; reason, argument, and persuasion must be perpetually brought to bear upon the law makers and their electorate.—Montreal Witness.

6 YEAR OLD GIRL

Cured of Kidney Trouble

Mrs Alex Moore, of James St., Oxford, N. S., says: Booth's Kidney Pills cured our little daughter, Christian, age six years, of many symptoms of kidney weakness. She complained of a sore back, the kidney secretions were frequent and uncontrollable, especially at night. Her stomach was weak and her appetite poor. This caused her to have frequent, head aches, and the least exertion would tire her. We had tried many remedies, but she did not improve. Finally we learned of Booth's Kidney Pills and procured a box. In a short time she was well and does not now complain about her back, the kidney secretions have become normal, and she plays about the house with no apparent fatigue. We always recommend Booth's Kidney Pills.

Booth's Kidney Pills carry a guarantee that if you derive no benefit your money will be refunded. Booth's Kidney Pills are a specific for all diseases of the kidneys and bladder. Sold by all druggists, 50c box, or post paid from the R T Booth Co., Ltd., Fort Erie, Ont. Sold and guaranteed by E W. Mair.

ANGLO JAPANESE TREATY RATIFIED
TOKIO, May 5.—Ratifications of the Anglo Japanese Commercial Treaty were exchanged to day. Great Britain and Japan negotiated a commercial treaty which will come into force on July 17, replacing the existing treaty expiring on July 16. The new pact removes the opposition of British merchants to the recently adopted Japanese tariff which heavily increased the duty on British manufactures, as Japan grants reductions varying from 12 to 30 per cent. upon a large number of British imports.

BRAIN FAG

He belonged to the class of workman known as 'unskilled—very,' and he had not tasted food for twenty four hours. Or so he told the benevolent gentleman who answered his knock.

"Twenty four hours? Bless my soul!" exclaimed the benevolent gent. "Jobs are scarce just now, but I've a barrel of potatoes, some of which I fancy are a little decayed, and if you'll come in and sort 'em out I'll give you a meal."

The applicant accepted eagerly, and started upon his work. But when his genial benefactor popped in half an hour later to see how things were progressing, he found him resting disconsolately, with his head between his hands.

"What's the matter?" he asked. "Is the work too hard for you?"

"No, the work's easy enough," replied the man, with a perplexed look at the half sorted vegetables; "but, be gosh, it's an awful strain on the judgment!"

A DAILY THOUGHT.

Wind on the Stomach

A Well-Known Westerner Tells of Suffering, Misery, and Pain That He Cured With "Nerviline."

"A few weeks ago I ate some green vegetables and some fruit that was not quite ripe. It first brought on a fit of indigestion, but unfortunately it developed into hiccoughs, accompanied by nausea and cramps. I was dreadfully ill for two days—my head ached and throbbled; I belched gas continually, and I was unable to sleep at night. A neighbor happened in to see me and urged me to try Nerviline. Well, I wouldn't have believed that any preparation could help so quickly. I took half a teaspoonful of Nerviline in hot sweetened water, and my stomach felt better at once. I used Nerviline several times, and was completely restored."

NERVILINE STRENGTHENS WEAK STOMACHS

The above is from a letter written by G. E. Braun, a well-known stockman and farmer near Lethbridge, Alta. Mr. Braun's favorable opinion of the high merit of Nerviline is shared by thousands of Canadians who have proved Nerviline is simply a marvel for cramps, diarrhoea, flatulence, nausea, and stomach disorders. Safe to use, guaranteed to cure—you can make no mistake in keeping Nerviline for your family remedy. Large 25c bottles; five for $1.00. Sold everywhere, or The Catarrhazone Co., Kingston, Ont.
