GOD GUIDES.

This is the way;
And yonder lies the goal,
Breaketh the day;
I will my God extol.
Shineth the sun,
And all the sky is blue,
When work is done;
'Twill be a golden hue.
Meanwhile I press,
Along the pathway rough;
Nor fear distress:
My God is Help enough.
Guiding my feet,
And pointing out the way:
It is most meet.
I should be glad to-day.
Setteth the sun;
Gold tinging all the west.
No work is done,
Now is the time for rest.
I thank thee, God,
Thou help'st me all the way;

ENGLAND'S NAVAL AIRSHIP LAUNCHED.

Barrow in Furness Eng, May 22—Great Britain's first naval airship, the construction of which has been surrounded by much secrecy, was successfully launched here to-day and is now anchored behind wind screens erected in the harbor. The airship was christened the Mayfly. The airship which is 52 feet in length, is of the rigid type, with a blunt nose tapering to a pointed stern. A feature of the construction is the provision for two separate gondolas for the engines. The airship is specially designed for naval purposes and can be moored on the water. The outer covering of the upper half of the dirigible which is 48 feet in diameter, consists of silk treated with a special waterproof dressing over which aluminum dust has been sprinkled. The lower part of the bag is of yellow silk, treated with the same water-proofing material but without the aluminum. The frame work contains eighteen gas bags filled with hydrogen.

TO KEEP FRUIT TEMPORARILY

To keep fruit and some vegetables perfectly fresh for a week or more without canning, look over and pick out only sound ones. Do not wash hull or otherwise prepare; but fill fruit jars, screw covers on tightly, and place in ice-chest. They will keep perfectly. Such a device enables house-keepers to buy more advantageously in larger quantities.

CHEST INFLAMMATION

Suffered From a Heavy Cold, Pleuritic Pains in Side—Constant Coughing.
"NERVILINE" CURED QUICKLY

"Anyone that goes through all that I suffered last winter will appreciate the value of a remedy that cures like Nerviline cured me." These are the opening words of the solemn declaration of E. P. Von Hayden, the well-known violinist of Middleton. "My work kept me out late at night, and playing in cold, drafty places brought on a severe cold that settled on my chest. I had a harsh, racking cough and severe pains darted through my sides and settled in my shoulders. I used different liniments, but none broke up my cold till I used Nerviline. I rubbed it on my neck, chest, and shoulders morning and night, and all the pain disappeared. Realizing that such a heavy cold had run down my system, I took Ferrozone at meals, and was completely built up and strengthened. Since using Nerviline I have no more colds or pleurisy, and enjoy perfect health."
It's because Nerviline contains the purest and most healing essences and medicinal principles, because it has the power of sinking through the pores to the kernel of the pain—these are the reasons why it breaks up colds, cures lumbago, stiffness, neuralgia, sciatica, and rheumatism.

POCKETS ON APRONS

If the pocket usually placed on an ordinary house apron is put on the underside, a little way in from the right-hand edge, it will be found a great improvement over the usual manner of putting it on the outside. Keys and other articles will not drop from the pocket if you stoop over. The pocket will not catch upon door knobs and other places that often tear both pocket and apron, and dirt cannot find a lodging place so readily. If a deep pocket is put on in this manner, much can be carried in it for the convenience of the worker, and it does not show the fulness, as when a pocket is sewn on the outside of the apron.

At 1.30 P. M., last Sunday an alarm of fire was rung on account of the burning of Patrick Greenier's woodworking shop and Frank Weatherhead, Jr.'s residence on Burleigh street. The fire started in the second story of Mr Greenier's building by some unknown cause and the building was soon wrapped in flames. On account of water not being on hand soon enough Mr Weatherhead's building was soon on fire. It was just one hour from the time the fire started until both buildings were completely burned. Willing hands saved all of Mr Greenier's and Mr Weatherhead's household goods. S. C. Boulter's house the next building to the fire, was saved by brave and daring fighting. Several of the potato houses and the B & A freight house caught several times, but watchers were posted to prevent further damages. Mr Greenier had no insurance on his building. There was $1,000 on Mr Weatherhead's—Fortfairfield Review.

O'er stone and clod,
And kept me through the day
Here in the calm
Of quiet eventide,
Thou great 'I am,'
I cling close to thy side.
As the soft shade,
Presaging coming night,
Drops on my head,
Thou still shalt be my Light,
C. B. McLauchlan.

CORONATION PRICES SLUMP

London, May 25—There is a slump in Coronation prices. Without doubt seats and windows are at present too expensive, and in consequence, despite the reports of agents, the demand for them is not so brisk as it should be. Instead of the abnormal rush of bookings by the transatlantic liners that was expected, owing to the Coronation, the traffic up to the present has not exceeded that of the average season. Similarly, advances received from Paris and other continental capitals reflect the danger of boycott. No matter how much persons desire to see the great events of Coronation week, it is beginning to dawn on Londoners that they refuse to pay outrageously for the privilege.

THE ALTERNATIVE.

A woman in one of the factory towns of Massachusetts recently agreed to take charge of a little girl while her mother, a seamstress, went to another town for a day's work. The woman with whom the child had been left endeavored to keep her contented, and among other things gave her a candy dog, with which she played happily all day. At night the dog had disappeared, and the woman inquired whether it had been lost. "No, it ain't lost," answered the little girl. "I kept it most all day, but it got so dirty that I was ashamed to look at it; so I let it."
—June Lippincott's.

There will be groups of working women factory workers, contingents of nurses, typists, teachers, sanitary inspectors, gardeners and gymnastic teachers: there will be mothers of families, and those engaged in domestic occupations. It is not merely a demonstration of numbers not merely an index of the public opinion behind the Enfranchisement Bill, says the W. S. P. U. organ, above all the procession of June 17 will be symbolic of the new sense of solidarity amongst women, who have realized to day a sense of unity which no difference of class or status or creed can touch.

In windy spring weather the hands suffer much from cold while hanging out clothes. Before going out just try rubbing vinegar until the skin is quite dry and your hands will feel warm.
