CAMPBELL'S CLOTHES

Cannot be excelled from an economic standpoint. Other clothes may cost considerably less. They may have the fit and style but will the saving in price be proved in the wearing value

There's a price below which good clothes cannot be made.

We do not know just how low that is—as we have not tried to make cheap clothes. The idea is to give the maximum of fit, style and wearing value and charge an honest price for it

Campbell's Clothing

DANIEL DONNELLY

The death of Daniel Donnelly occurred at Hillendale March 4, at the age of 76 years. He had been in failing health since October, but able to be about the house part of the time. He was born July 27, 1833, about two miles below the village of Andover. He was a kind neighbor in sickness or trouble, and as his life neared its close he looked trustfully forward to Jesus to bear him safely over that dark borne, from which the traveler who once enters never returns. His last resting place was a beautiful rosewood casket where he lay peaceful and happy, with no thought of the sorrow of those he had left to mourn the death of a kind husband and affectionate father. Interment was made in the Church of England Cemetery, Bairdsville. Rev J R Hopkins officiated at the funeral. The singing was beautifully rendered by those present, the Hymns being "Asleep in Jesus," and "Nearer My God To Thee." —Fort Fairfield Review

Mr. Sutton had been ill for many months with Brights disease, and though everything was done for him that could be by the doctors in Portland and Winlock, yet his life could not be saved. THE BEST MEDICINE SO MOTNERS SAY Mothers say Baby's Own Tablets are the very best medicine they can give their little ones. It is the happy experience of one mother that helps others to keep their little ones well. Thousands of mothers have found the Tablets a never-failing cure for the ailments that afflict their little ones. Mrs E Sandwell, Coldwater, Ont says:—I find Baby's Own Tablets the best medicine any mother can give her little ones. I tried "soothing" mixtures but they did not help my baby, but as soon as I began giving him the Tablets they made his teething easy and I would hardly know he was cutting a tooth. I would not be without the Tablets, and always recommend them to my friends." Baby's Own Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville Ont.

Mrs John Simouson, of Centerville, was a guest at the Turner House on Monday. She left on Tuesday for Temple where she will visit her daughter, Mrs Hanford Shaw for some weeks.

REV FRANK BAIRD TO GO TO WOODSTOCK.

The Presbytery met in special session at St Andrew's church on Wednesday afternoon.

The call from St Paul's church, Woodstock, to Rev Mr Baird was first read. They agree to pay $900 salary with free use of the manse, and one months vacation annually.

J Rankine Brown, representative of the Woodstock Kirk session, spoke of the financial soundness of that congregation.

H S White, in behalf of the Sussex congregation, said Rev Mr Baird had been with them for ten years and had filled the position with great satisfaction but if Mr Baird felt like making themselves, they did not desire to stand in his way.

Mr Baird announced that he would accept.

It was decided that the induction should take place Thursday, June 1, at 7.30 p.m. Rev Mr McDonald was appointed to preside and induct, Rev L B Gibson will deliver the charge to the people, and Rev Mr McCaskill to the minister. Rev Mr Anderson was appointed interim moderator of the Sussex congregation, and Rev George Farquhar interim moderator for Norton, while Waterford will be under control of the Home Mission Committee.

The clerk read a post card from Rev H C Fraser, of Grand Falls, asking the Presbytery to adjourn to meet at Grand Falls on the 17th inst. The matter was left in the hands of the interim moderator, Rev Mr McDonald, to arrange.

Rev Mr Ross said he desired to speak to a question of privilege, and complained of a caucus of those opposed to union, saying he strongly disapproved of such methods of doing business, especially among brethren. All but one of the commissioners to the General Assembly were anti union men, and an effort was made to corral the vote of the elders as well. Had he known of this before, the conditions would have been different.

Rev Mr McDonald, as one of those who had been present at the union debate in Fredericton, denied all knowledge of any caucus or meeting of any kind at which the appointment of commissioners to the general Assembly had been discussed. He had attended a meeting at which an overture to the general Assembly referring to federation had been considered. No candidates had been picked for commissioner, but the nominations and voting had been in the regular way.

Rev Mr McCaskill, as one of those who opposed union, said if a caucus has been held here, he knew nothing of it, and had been unable to meet anyone who knew anything of it.

Rev Mr Ross declared he could prove his statements. He did not want any action taken.

Adjourned
The minutes of the last meeting contain this reference to the St Stephen's church vested choir matter

'Whilst regretting the irregularity in the procedure of the session of St Stephen's church, the Presbytery would strongly and cordially urge all parties to cooperate in the interests of peace and would further urge all sessions to avoid disturbance through introducing innovations'—St John Globe

SAYS WEST IS ADVERTISED IN THE OLD COUNTRY AT THE EXPENSE OF THE EAST

W Campbell, of Dundee, Scotland, who at the invitation of the dominion government, is touring Canada with the view of studying business and agricultural possibilities in the city last evening and registered at the Royal "My object in touring Canada," he said is to find out what are the business and agricultural possibilities with the hope of increasing immigration into Canada. I am doing this at the invitation of the dominion government, and I consider that the tour will result beneficially. Each week I furnish articles for four of the leading journals in Scotland, The Dundee Courier, The News, The Ardrossan & Saltcoats Herald, and The Regiment. The last named journal has a circulation of nearly 1,000,000.

So far I have been in Nova Scotia and I was much impressed with the opportunities there for dairy products. I was agreeable surprised to find that your farms here were equally as good if not better than those in the Highlands to which I am so much attached. From reports circulated in the Old Country I expected to find the farms here in more or less of a primitive state. Here and there it is true, I have found farms held by men who might be called 'tired'. These are the exceptions however. The Canadian farmer has impressed me by his adaptability hence the reason for his great success. Unfortunately, I find a tendency in parts for farmers to neglect their farms and go in search of lumber. I have no doubt that the lumber, business is good but at the same time it is a pity that such excellent agricultural opportunities as the east presents should be allowed to run dry.

At present my object is to see the opportunities of my countrymen in New Brunswick. I met Mr Wilmot, superintendent of Immigration for the province this evening and he impressed me very much. He evidently is a practical man and I will no doubt get much assistance from him. I am afraid that the west is being over advertised in the Old Country, at the expense of the east. I have no doubt, however that the east will soon come into its own, and I shall certainly recommend it to my fellow countrymen.

Mr Campbell will this morning for Fredericton, where he expects to meet Mr Hubbard.—Telegraph
