A HINDOO QUEEN.

An Oriental royalty who will be in England for the coronation is the Begum of Bhopal, a Hindoo princess who rules over a million subjects. The Begum is not only a princess but is regarded in her State as something approaching a divinity. She will take to King George the homage of her people.

The Begum travels with a throng of attendants, women cooks, servants, and priests of her religion. She must be very careful not to eat abroad anything which her religion forbids at home, therefore she travels with native cooks, who serve her, on massive dishes of gold encrusted with turquoise, with the food her usual recommendations. The Begum's baggage fills several vans on the train. Her apartments at the hotels where she stays are immediately spread by her attendants with the richest, most luxurious rugs of the Orient.

The Begum is a descendant of Dost Mahomed Khan, who founded the State of Bhopal in the early part of the eighteenth century. She is a Mahomedan, and so strict in the observance of her religion that she is always heavily veiled from head to foot when she goes out. The Begum is over fifty years of age.

A LONDON PHILANTHROPIST.

John Passmore Edwards, who died at the age of 87 a few days ago, was says the London correspondent of the New York Sun, one of the best known of English philanthropists. He made a great fortune, but he has probably died a poor man, most of his wealth having been devoted to the establishing and endowment of libraries, convalescent homes, and other charitable institutions.

The son of a working carpenter, he made his way to wealth and position by sheer industry and pluck. No sooner was he on the high road to success than a long illness took him away from his publishing business with the result that he was forced into bankruptcy. On his return to business he denied himself everything until he could call his creditors together and pay them all twenty shillings in the pound.

In 1876 he brought the Echo, started the first half penny newspaper in London, and rigorously excluded all mention or reference to betting and horse racing. In spite of that the paper was soon a success, and made him a fortune. At one time he sold the controlling interest in the paper to the Storey Carnegie combination, which aimed at establishing a chain of Echoes, covering a good part of the United Kingdom. In less than three years he bought the Echo back at an enhanced price, and the Storey Carnegie combination was at an end.

GENERAL NEWS

A report by the State Controller of California shows that thirty eight lions were killed in that state last month. Returns were received from thirty two counties of which Mendocino County had the largest collection of trophies.

The game of golf has many adherents among the French. La Bouillie is the most celebrated golf club, though not the oldest. There are excellent golf courses at Fontainebleau, Chantilly, Compiègne, and new ones are proposed for some of the suburbs of Paris.

A use has been found for the dogfish which abound off the Nova Scotia coast. A rendering factory at Clark Harbor converted 700,000 fish into oil and fertilizer during one month, and the factory, which was built three years ago, is to be enlarged so that the capacity will be doubled.

Sea water is to be used by the street sprinklers of Seattle, Wash. A health expert of that city says that sea water contains several gallons of chloride of sodium to the ton, and that the action of the sun on this material deposited on the streets will produce a gas of the greatest efficacy as a disinfectant.

ORDERS PAPER TOWELS FOR KANSAS SCHOOL PUPILS

Topeka, May 6.—Individual paper towels for the use of every Kansas school pupil will be installed before the next school year begins. Success has attended all the experimental trials.

The State Board of Health abolished the common drinking cup two years ago, and there has not been a single epidemic of typhoid fever in the State since and very few isolated cases. The Board also prohibited the use of the common drinking cup in railroad trains and stations, and April 1 the common drinking cups were abolished in all hotels. The next move will be on hotels.

It is believed that the paper towel will not be much more expensive than the roller towel laundry bills. The towels are 10 inches wide and 18 inches long. They are heavy, absorbent tissue paper. One will dry the face and hands easily. A set of fixtures and a roll of 1,000 towels cost from $2 to $3 and extra rolls cost 50 cents for each 1,000 towels. After use the towels are to be burned.

A BEAR STORY.

Newcastle Advocate:—The following is vouched for by one of our correspondents. About a year ago Mr. Martin Fox, who is a well-known hunter, set some traps for bears. When he went to look at them one morning, he found a she-bear and three cubs up a tree. He cut down the tree and killed the old bear and took the cubs home with him. He sold two cubs at the St. John exhibition last fall and kept the other one. Late in the fall young Bruin dug a hole and buried himself. A few days ago, after a five months' sleep, he came out of his winter bed as fat and sleek as ever.

The latest wonder in the telephone business is that direct communication has been opened between New York and Denver, Colorado. The distance is 2,011 miles, which is much farther than a voice has hitherto been carried. This is done, the New York World says, by the use of the Pupin induction coils to rein force the current and the perfection of the phantom circuit. It is possible at the same time to transmit telegraph despatches over the wires.—St. John Globe.

VALUE OF ONIONS.

Despite the objectionable odor, onions are indispensable in cookery. When sliced, the onion absorbs bad odors and disease germs from the atmosphere, removing bad smells. For this reason, a cut onion, left lying about, should not be eaten.

Raw onions eaten are excellent in cases of bronchitis, throat ailments and colds. Eaten raw, they help food digestion. Its sharp taste is due to a small amount of sulphur, which has to do with the odor. A cooked onion has not the stimulating effect of the raw.

How Children of the Ignorant Are Robbed of Oatmeal

A canvass made among the intelligent shows that seven homes in eight serve oatmeal. Among the ignorant another canvass shows that not one home in twelve serves oats. The children grow up incapable because bodies and brains are starved. Nature stores in oats more energy food, more brain food, more nerve food than in any other grain that grows. That's why children crave oatmeal. There is nothing to take its place.

This is a food on which it doesn't pay to be careless. There is a very wide difference in oat foods—a difference in richness and food value. Don't serve the common kind. Only the richest, plumpest grains are used in Quaker Oats. They are selected by 62 "ings. Only ten pounds are obtained from a bushel. The result is a food rich in all the elements—the utmost in oatmeal. Yet the cost to you is but one-half cent per dish. Made in Canada. (171)

NOT WHAT SHE MEANT.

"Dear teacher," wrote little Edith's mother, "please excuse Edith for not coming to school yesterday, as she fell in the gutter. By doing the same you will greatly oblige her mother."

I had often ruined enamel pans by chipping them when washing or account of scraping with a knife, until I tried a bit of sandpaper. It will do wonders toward cleaning anything on which you usually use scouring soap or a knife, doing the work instantly. A sheet sufficient to last several weeks will cost two cents.

PUT RIB IN SKULL OF INJURED MAN.

St. Louis, May 5.—George Williams, a patient at the City Hospital, put his hand to the back of his head and felt his sixth rib to say and said he was feeling fine.

Williams was admitted at a patient March 25. A year and one half ago he was struck on the head with a club and in order to save his life a part of the bone at the back of his skull was removed.

The pressure of the scalp on the unprotected meninges beneath it, caused an irritation of the brain cells and Williams' became subject to fainting spells and periods of unconsciousness.

No one will tell the name of the surgeon who conceived the idea of putting one of Williams' ribs where the back of his skull ought to be. A piece four inches long and an inch wide was cut from the end and carefully fitted in the aperture in his skull. The scalp was then sewed over it. Williams has not had a fit since the operation was performed.

WIRELESS COMMUNICATION BETWEEN MINES.

(The Scientific American, New York)

According to a press despatch, Drs. Leinbach and Loewy, two German scientists, have established an underground wireless system of communication. They have succeeded in sending messages a distance of nearly a mile and a half at a level of 1,600 feet below the surface, between the potash mines in the North Harz Mountains. The inventors of this system hope that their discovery may be of value in saving life in case of mine disaster.

SEASON'S CATCH OF SEAL SHOWS FALLING OFF.

St. John's, Nfld., May 11.—Three hundred and five thousand seals, valued at $493,000, were secured by the eighteen vessels of the Newfoundland Sealing Fleet during the season that has just closed. Last year the fleet reported a catch of 333,000 with a value of $612,000.

DEVELOPED A SODA LAKE

The syndicate which has acquired the concession of the great soda lake in the East African Protectorate has now completed all the preliminary arrangements. The actual operations on the deposits will soon begin. The agreement with the Government for the construction of a branch railway from the lake to the main line has been signed.

Under its terms the Uganda Railway administration undertakes to effect improvements in its main line so as to provide for the carriage, as a beginning, of at least 50,000 tons of soda annually over and above its ordinary traffic. The lake is fifty square miles in extent, and it is calculated that at this rate of extraction it will take nearly eight hundred years to exhaust the soda deposits.

TRAINING HORSES FOR THE CORN NATION.

The Master of the King's Horse is having all the animals to be used in the Coronation procession specially trained, says the London correspondent of the New York Sun. The course includes making the animals accustomed to all sorts of sights and sounds, and they are not considered fit until flags can be waved in their faces, guns fired at close quarters and shouting crowds paraded in front of them without making them restive.

The Royal Riding School is a noisy place during practice. Loud voiced youths rush about yelling and waving brightly colored flags, rifles are fired, and a miscellaneous band makes all sorts of hideous noises. When the horses can stand all this without flinching they are reported as fit.

The idea is to avoid the spoiling of effect by some unlooked for and unrehearsed incident. In the past training of this kind has proved to be absolutely necessary.

NO ROOM.

"Bertie," said the hospitable hostess at a Sunday school treat, "won't you eat some more cookies?"

"I can't. I'm full!" sighed Bertie.

"Well, then, put some in your pockets."

"I can't. They're full, too," was the regretful answer.
