The interest in this form of sport has attained great prominence among many of our young people and so long as its fascination is kept within the due bounds and not allowed to gain too strong a grip on thought feelings and energies it has its own educative influence socially and as a character builder.

The study and devotional Society of Greenfield has changed its date of meeting to Thursday evening this week in view of the Agricultural meeting to be held on Friday evening in the Assembly Hall of the Florenceville School House. The subject for the social this week is the things that make a man.

For the agricultural meeting there is a large list of prominent speakers and the meeting promises to be of great interest and productive of important practical results. W. W. Hubbard, Hon. J. K. Flemming, Geo. Upham and others are expected to speak. An orchestra is to be in attendance.

Rev. M. H. Manuel's sermon on the 26th from the text "What ye hear in the ear that preach ye upon the housetops" Matt. 10:27 was a strong and reasonable appeal to his hearers to be individual agents for Christ and not leave the work wholly to the minister, church officers or special Christian workers. The Mohammedans are specially enterprising in spreading their religion. School teachers, clerks, business men etc. in their intervals of opportunity are energetic to multiply the number of the followers of the hammed.

He adduced the two fold division used by some Economists—Producers and Non Producers. Professing Christians might be classed in the same way. Those who were enjoyers of the good things of the gospel and those who exerted themselves to swell the number of these who accepted Christ. He quoted in one part of his discourse the immortal illuminative and silencing banquet retort of James Russell Lowell in which with inimitable literary precision of thought and mind gripping condensation of truth he tells those who irreverently cavil at the Christian can be found upon this planet where age, womanhood and in fancy are duly regarded and where Christianity has not first gone in and prepared the way that not till then will it be in order to ventilate their views against that to which they owe their safety, their comfort, their privilege and which alone makes true civilization possible.

KILBURN

Rev. W. A. Ross, Field Secretary gave an interesting, instructive and profitable address on Sunday school work, in the Methodist church here on last Friday night.

Rev. J. A. Ives of Andover, preached here last Sunday night.

The W. M. S. will hold its monthly meeting the first Wednesday in April.

The first part of March was very mild and fine here. The latter part has given us some cold weather and severe snow storms. We reverently believe that there is a Providence that shapes our end, rough hew them as we will, we held this to be true even such matters as the weather. The Palmist says that snow, rain, hail and stormy wind fulfill His word. We think it irreverent to convey the idea that the weather man has control of such matters. The best that he can do is to forecast what kind of weather will come.

Centreville

Rev. Mr. Walden and Rev. Jos. Cahill exchanged pulpits last Sunday. A large and appreciative congregation greeted Mr. Cahill in Centreville.

Rev. Mr. Daggett writes many encouraging notes from the Foresters Sanitarium at Rainbow Lake, New York, making the impression upon those who receive them that if there is any place in the wide world when any one with health unpaired as his was could recuperate it would certainly be at Rainbow Lake.

Mrs. James Anderson, of Williamstown, died at noon last Sunday at the home of her adopted son Havelock Anderson. She was one of those generous Christian characters whom every one having an acquaintance learn to love and respect. Her acts will long live in the memory of those with whom she came in contact and will no doubt reproduce themselves in the lives of others.

The newly organized Board of Trade held a meeting last Saturday evening and made further arrangements for a charter from the Dominion Government.

Mr. J. White, Solicitor for the Victoria

County News has spent a few days very profitably here and while he has added largely to the list of subscribers for his paper he has made many friends for himself.

Let us all try to have handsome homes this spring, it makes us feel better. We all ways notice that Rimesy's Paints are home beauty makers. The colors are correct, and the price is right. You will find them at the store of E. Tabrook and Sherwood, Centreville.

At a meeting of the Agricultural Society last Saturday it was decided to send to Ontario for a number of animals of pure bred stock. The feeling of the Society is that more attention should be paid to cattle raising and that high grade animals would be much more profitable accordingly than others. The prices of young horses suitable for farm purposes are about all the farmers could wish, and range from $200 up. The hay, grain and potatoe business is drawing near the close as the farmers have their produce nearly all marketed.

SAMUEL ROGERS

Again that silent solemn and one inspiring visitor the black robed Messenger of Death has once more with noiseless tread, entered into our midst bearing away on his silent pinions to the vast realms of the great unknown, one of the oldest and most respected residents of this place in the person of Samuel Rogers Sr., who died at the home of his cousin B. Rogers of Bristol where he had gone on a visit about a week previous to his death. He had been in his usual health but thought it was just a slight attack of grippe but all was done that medical skill and kindness could do but his sickness proved fatal and death took place on March 17th 1911, surrounded by his wife and all of his children that were in this country. He died at the advanced age of 74 years being a native of this county, an honored and respected member of society, an honest and upright citizen, a kind and indulgent husband and father.

He is survived by his widow, five sons, Barnet of Washington, Almon of Bangor, Alexander and Wellington of Springfield and Samuel of Bridgewater and two daughters Mrs. Tart Dickinson of Meductic and Mrs. David Watson of Houlton, 16 grandchildren and one great grandchild besides a large host of relatives and friends to whom we extend our heartfelt sympathy in this their sad hour of affliction.

The funeral services were very beautifully conducted on March 20th, 1911, the funeral sermon being preached by Rev. G. B. MacDonald from Psalm 107, 30th verse, "So He bringeth them unto their desired haven." The hymns were "Meet me there," "There'll be no dark river there" and "Safe in the arms of Jesus." The music was furnished by the choir from Meductic with Miss Violet Oils as organist. The services were conducted by Mr. G. P. Oils of Meductic; the pall bearers were the two sons Alex and Wellington of this place and two grandsons Walter and Arnold Dickinson of Meductic. The large company that attended the funeral showed the high esteem in which deceased was held by all. The funeral sermon was preached in the church at Springfield and interment was made in the Benton cemetery.

It Grows Hair

Here Are Facts We Want You to Prove at Our Risk

Marvelous as it may seem, Rexall '93' Hair Tonic has grown hair on heads that were once bald. Of course, in none of these cases were the hair roots dead, nor had the scalp taken on a glazed, shiny appearance.

Rexall '93' Hair Tonic acts scientifically, destroying the germs which are usually responsible for baldness. It penetrates to the roots of the hair, stimulating and nourishing them. It is a most pleasant toilet necessity, is delicately perfumed, and will not gum or permanently stain the hair.

We want you to get a bottle of Rexall '93' Hair Tonic and use it as directed. If it does not relieve scalp irritation, remove dandruff, prevent the hair from falling out and promote an increased growth of hair, and in every way give entire satisfaction, simply come back and tell us, and without question or formality we will hand back to you every penny you paid us for it. Two sizes, 50c and $1.00. Sold only at our store—The Rexall Store.—E. W. Main.

CANADIAN TRADE

The Portland, Maine, Argus notes that "Canada keeps up her swift pace in industrial and commercial development. For the first eleven months of the current fiscal year, Canada's total trade has been $687,377,488 an increase of $76,709,507, as compared with the corresponding period of last year, and within six millions of the record total for the whole of the twelve months of 1909-10. For the full year ending with this month, it is expected that the Dominion's trade will run close to $780,000,000, or more than double the total trade of nine years ago."

and an increase of over two hundred millions in two years. That is "going some." Doubling the amount of trade in nine years is doing well, but the next nine years will tell a better story even, when reciprocity is developing the trade between Canada and the United States. New Brunswick will have its share in this growth. A St. John river steambost owner looks for trade in the river section being quadrupled in the very first year.—St. John Globe

THIRD COMPETITOR IN RACE FOR SOUTH POLE.

London, March 28—The race for the South Pole between Capt. Scott, the British explorer, and Amundsen, the Norwegian, may find itself with a third competitor. Advices say here that a Japanese Antarctic expedition left Wellington, New Zealand, last month en route for the South Pole, having sworn an oath to get there or die.

There are many who expected them also to appear at McMurdo Sound by this time, so that there is every possibility of four different expeditions being within the same quarter at the same time later in the year.

WIRELESS TELEGRAPHY FOR UNDERGROUND USE.

BERLIN, March 24.—Two German scientists, Drs. Leibach and Loeny, have successfully applied wireless telegraphy for underground communication. Messages have been sent between P. fish mines in the North Hartz Mountains, a distance of nearly a mile, and a half at a level of 16,100 feet below the surface. The messages were so clearly delivered that the scientists conclude that greater distances are feasible. The discovery is regarded as highly important in case of mine disasters.

LOBSTERS SCARCE.

The present season for lobster fishing has been a remarkable poor one, but fishermen who have been lucky enough to catch even a few have made a good sum out of their labor. In New York and Boston they have been dear eating and those who had them on their bill of fare paid as high as 65 cents a pound which would mean that an average lobster would cost 80 or 90 cents. Of course if they could be had for local consumption, fish dealers say, the cost would only be half that amount. The cold and stormy weather is said to be the cause of the scarcity.
