Fewer-White

A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized at St. Bonaventure Church Williamstown Tuesday morning June 18 by Rev. Father Bradley. When Miss Lucy Agnes, only daughter of Mrs. Mary A. White was united in marriage to Ernest P. Fewer of Farmerston. The bride was attired in white silk colienne with pearl and crystal trimming, she wore a bridal veil and orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and a white prayer book.

The bride was assisted as bridesmaid by the groom's cousin Miss Gertrude Fewer, who wore a becoming gown of white batiste with large white picture hat, and carried a bouquet of pink rose buds.

The groom was supported by James E. White brother of the bride.

After the wedding ceremony the guests returned to the home of the bride's mother where a very dainty wedding dinner was served. Later in afternoon the happy couple left for their future home in Farmerston.

Mr. and Mrs. Fewer received many valuable presents.

Dibblee-Taylor

On Tuesday morning at Grafton St. Methodist Church, Rev. Dr. Bond officiated at the marriage of Miss Sarah Aitken Taylor, daughter of the late Henry A. Taylor, and Mrs. Deborah E. Taylor, 90 Sackville Street, Halifax, and Mr. Irvine Dibblee, formerly of Woodstock, N. B., now of Montreal, partner in the firm of McDonnell and Dibblee, Railway Contractors, who are engaged in doing considerable work for the C. P. R., in and about Montreal.

The wedding although quiet and at an early hour, was nevertheless a very pretty one. The church was decorated from the Conservatory of an old friend of the family who has known the bride since childhood, the decorations consisting of palms, white hawthorne, Dentzie and bridal wreaths.

The bride, who was given away by her Mother, looked very charming in a handsome tan tailored suit, with large Tuscan hat, trimmed with sweet peas beautifully blended from deep cream to brown with their accompanying leaves. She carried a bridal bouquet of cream roses, and lilies of the valley.

The bridesmaid being Miss Mabelle M. Bates of Truro was most becomingly attired in a tailored suit of cream, with large picture hat trimmed with pink roses and black lace. Miss Bates carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

Mr. Le Baron Dibblee, assistant Supt. of the Great Northern Paper Co's plant of Madison, Maine, was groomsmen.

The bridesgroom's present to the bride was a gold necklace with pendant of diamonds and pearls.

The bridesmaid received a gold pendant set with pearls and amethysts; to the groomsmen a scarf pin set with a diamond and pearl.

Miss Elsie Taylor presided at the organ rendering the wedding march from "Lohengrin" as the bridal party entered the church and her rendition of "Mendelssohn," was played as only a talented artist could play, as the happy wedding party left the church.

The large collection of beautiful and costly presents served to indicate the high esteem in which Mr. and Mrs. Dibblee are held by their many friends.

Among the visiting guests were Mrs. W. Jack Dibblee of Woodstock, N. B., sister of the groom, Mrs. M. E. Bates, Truro and Mrs. George Taylor, Fredericton, N. B.

Mr. and Mrs. Dibblee left on the Ocean Limited for Boston, and New York, contemplating taking in the beautiful boat trips up the Hudson, through the Lakes and the Thousand Islands to their home in Montreal.

WEAK, TIRED, PEOPLE

Are Usually the Victims of Pale, Watery Blood.

Anaemia is the medical term for poor or watery blood. It may arise from a variety of causes, such as lack of exercise, hard study, improperly ventilated rooms or workshops, imperfect assimilation of food, etc. The chief symptoms are extreme pallor of the face, lips and gums; rapid breathing and palpitation of the heart after slight exertion; headaches, dizziness, sometimes fainting spells and a tendency to hysterics, swelling of the feet and limbs, a feeling of constant tiredness and a distaste for food. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a certain cure for anaemia, because they make new, rich blood, which stimulates and strengthens every organ and every part of the body. The following is one among thousands of cases of this serious trouble cured by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Miss Georgina Raymond, St. Jerome, Que., says:

"About a year ago my health began to give out. I suffered from head aches, heart palpitation, dizziness and appeared to be threatened with a general breakdown. I was at this time employed in the family of a doctor, who, seeing my condition, gave me medicine. I took this faithfully for some time, but with no benefit, and I grew much discouraged. Then a friend advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, saying that she had found a cure through them in similar conditions. I took her advice, got a supply of the pills and took them regularly for some time. Gradually I became strong and in the course of a month or so I was again enjoying the best of health, and have not since had the least return of the old symptoms. I can heartily recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to all weak girls."

Sold by all medicine dealers at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 or sent by mail, post paid, by The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co.

Morgan-Hutchinson

At 6.30 on Wednesday evening June 26th, Charles Selwyn Morgan of Plattsburg, N. Y., son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Morgan of this city, took as his bride, Miss Francis Luella Hutchinson, daughter of the late Albert Hutchinson and Granddaughter of Theodore H. Estey of Wicklow, New Brunswick, and a niece of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Whelpley at whose residence, 196 Lowell street, the ceremony took place. The bride was charming in a gown of chiffon over pearl white messaline with trimmings of princess lace, pearls and hand-made artificial mulle roses. She carried a hand arrangement of bride's roses in shower fashion, suspended from the stems of which was a cluster of bow knots, hanging in long ends, these of pure white satin ribbon, adding to the delicacy of the bride's attire.

Miss Laura Whelpley, a cousin of the bride, in a gown of pink crepe de chine and carrying a bouquet of pink sweet peas, attended the bride, and the best man was Benjamin Proud of New York. Little Miss Marion Whelpley, another cousin of the bride, in a little novelty dress of Baby Irish lace with pink sash, preceded the wedding party, strewing roses in the path which was later trodden by the maid of honor and best man, and bride and groom. Miss Helen Estabrooks cousin of the bride presided at the piano and played the strains from Lohengrin's wedding march and at the arrival of the wedding party at the bank of laural panels Miss Harriet Seaman, seated at the piano accompanied an orchestra composed of Miss Grace Seaman and Miss Hazel Burt. violinists, who redereed, "Oh, promise me," during the progress of the double ring service, which was performed by the Rev. M. R. Foshay, pastor of the First Baptist church.

The laural-decked staircase was a scene of beauty, the rail being profusely wound with the beautiful pink blooms and everywhere, in every nook and corner, was an abundance of artistically arranged laurel. Following on immediately after the ceremony was a reception from 7 until 9 o'clock, at which time Mr. and Mrs. Morgan were assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. Selwyn Morgan of New York city, an uncle and aunt of the groom, and Mr. and Mrs. Whelpley, an aunt and uncle of the bride. Frank Austin Stanley, Benjamin Proud and Clarence E. Page assisted in introducing the guests during the reception season, Mr. Page receiving at the door. Later, the Guests were shown the way to the magnificently appointed dining room, where Fearon, the caterer, served luncheon. Assisting as servers were Miss Helen Whelpley, Miss Olive Mansau and Miss Bernice Boyd, the latter of Nashua, all in dainty robes and lace caps.

Mr. and Mrs. Morgan were generously remembered with presents both handsome and useful. Among them was a purse of gold money, a cedar chest, several foreign pictures, china, cut glass, silver, linen and other substantial articles. These were most tastefully arranged in the north room, and were greatly admired. Miss Hutchinson remembered her bridesmaid with a quaintly designed gold pendant with amethyst setting and gold chain. To her musician friends and relatives who assisted she gave each a silver bar pin set with amethyst, to the little flower girl a plain gold pendant and to the servers each a silver finger ring with turquoise stone settings.

The groom's gift to his bride was a brooch of topaz encircled with pearls, and to his best man and ushers jewelry.

Leaving by automobile, Mr. and Mrs. Morgan received the heartiest congratulations from their relatives and hosts of friends for a future as bright as the day they selected for this great event. The bride went away in a handsome suit of navy blue with trimmings of buttons and lace, and a black hemp hat finished with ostrich plumes and lace over pink silk. After September 1 they will be at home to their friends at 156 Oak street, Plattsburg, N. Y., where a newly furnished home awaits the arrival of Mr. and Mrs. Morgan.

Mr. and Mrs. Whelpley, with whom the bride has resided since coming to this city six years ago, arranged the reception in her honor.

The wedding trip will be a most pleasant one, including New York city, Philadelphia, a trip up the Hudson, Saratoga Springs, Lake George, Ausable chasm, Lake Champlain, Fort Ticonderoga and other places, their journey to embrace ten days.

Among the out-of-town guests numbered at the ceremony was Mrs. C. B. Wheeler and Mrs. J. F. McCain of Wicklow, New Brunswick, mother and sister, Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Kidder and Richard J. Kidder of New York city, and Miss Helen Estabrooks, of Chester New Brunswick, Leonard Kidder of New York city, Mrs. Frank Haskell and daughter, Eileen Scott of Dorchester, Mass.

Since coming to this city Miss Hutchinson has been employed in the Stark mills, for the last three years holding the position of shipping clerk. She is a most lovable girl and the one regret of her friends is that her new relation with Mr. Morgan takes her from this city.

Mr. Morgan was formerly of this city going to Plattsburg the latter part of January to be commercial manager of the gas company of that city. While in Manchester, after completing his education; he was employed for some time in the city library and later, for four years was connected with the gas company of this city, where he "made good," so to $10,000 Fire at Hartland N. B.

Hartland, N. B., July 1—At 8 o'clock Sunday morning fire started from a burning flue in the Commercial Hotel and resulted in a total loss of the building, which was owned by J. T. G. Carr. The building was a two and a half story wooden structure and housed besides the hotel, the C. P. R. dining rooms, sample rooms, a warehouse occupied by A. F. Randolph & Sons, and warehouse occupied by Mr. Carr.

The value of the building and contents is reckoned at $10,000. A small portion of the furnishings of the hotel was saved and most of the contents of the warehouses. The hotel was managed by G. G. McCollum, who had $870 insurance. The other losses are covered. The action of the firemen and the excellent water system alone saved one-half of the town from destruction.

C. P. R. trains stop here for dinner and until further arrangement are made it is likely that the other hotels will be called upon to furnish refreshments. This is the first time that the value of the new pumping apparatus has been tested by a fire. There was abundance of water at a high pressure, although the four streams were played continuously for four hours, without diminution of the force.

Benjamin Kilburn

Benjamin Kilburn, aged 63 years, one of Victoria Co's most widely known citizens died at his home at Kilburn on Wednesday morning June 26th. He was the son of William and Jane (Hagerman) Kilburn and was born at Kilburn Landing, afterwards called Kilburn upon the coming of the railroad. What education he had was received in a country school. He combined the occupation of merchant with that of farming and achieved a degree of success seldom attained. At a comparatively early age he professed religion and united with the Methodist church in the work of which he was always actively engaged.

For many years he was superintendent of the Sunday school; and also held the office of Recording Steward.

Mr. Kilburn is survived by a sorrowing widow who was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Harper, of Jacksonville, four daughters, the Misses Bessie, Elva, Gertrude and Marion and one son Fred, all at home. Miss Bessie graduated this year from Mount Allison, with honors. He also leaves two sisters, Mrs. B. T. Gaskin, of Kilburn and Mrs. Wm. Coy of Saskatoon, Sask.

His funeral was held from his late residence on Friday June 28 and was very largely attended. The services at the house was conducted by Rev. J. A. Ives and that at the grave by the F. and A. Masons.
