CENTREVILLE

Aaron Doherty, who, with his family went West a number of years ago, has returned and will locate at Tracy Mills. He will occupy the premises formerly owned by the Late Capt. Isaac Adams.

Harley Thomas has also returned from Cedar Cottage, Vancouver, where he has been for some years. They each report good opportunities for making money in the west, and opportunities for losing it equally good.

Rev. Mr. Coy, of Woodstock, has been engaged by the Royalton Reformed Baptist Church for the winter months. Mr. Grant who with his associates held a series of meetings in Royalton a few weeks ago is engaged in special meetings now at Summertield, having crowded houses and very interesting services.

The Agricultural Society held a session last Saturday afternoon at which a good deal of business was transacted. There was a goodly number present and motions were passed to pay expenses incurred and prize money awarded by the Judges at the fair.

Hollowness was observed as usual by the boys and there were few who felt offended at the harmless jokes perpetrated by the youngsters but sometimes boys are found who take advantage of this occasion to do some very offensive acts even to those who have always treated them with the greatest courtesy. It is sad that the boys of this village very suddenly vacated the Premises of Mr. Chas. A. Long when a gun was discharged by some one in the darkness quite near them.

The concrete works have been closed down for the winter on the Howard Stewart farm but will be resumed in the early spring with greater activity as the manufacturing now on hand will fill but a small part of the contract with the Valley Railroad Co.

The ground is getting pretty well cleaned of the potatoes but there are yet large fields of grain to be gathered in.

The parties having charge of the Highway Repairs between Centreville and Orchard's Corner on the Knoxford road are certainly very remiss in their duties and as certainly infringing upon the sanctity of their oaths when they allow the roads to remain in the state it has been during the past summer. It is to be hoped that something will be done yet this fall and that an outlet be made for the water to pass under the road instead of flooding some ten rods of it.
