Plummer-Carpenter,

A very pretty home wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Carpenter on Wednesday October 9th when their eldest daughter Ina Pearl was united in marriage to Frank Plummer of Woodstock.

The ceremony was performed in the parlors which was beautifully decorated in green and white, the marriage service being impressively read by the Rev. George Ayers. Mendelssohn's Wedding March was played before the ceremony by Miss Deware and as the bride took her place beside the groom "The Voice That Breathed O'er Eden" was rendered very softly.

The bride wore a dainty gown of cream serge with satin and silver fringe trimmings. The bridal veil and bouquet of brides roses completed an extremely pretty costume. The bridesmaid Miss Lulu Carpenter wore a cream serge dress and carried a charming arrangement of carnations. Mr. Ray DeWitt of Upper Woodstock supported the groom. Immediately after congratulations an elaborate luncheon was served in the dining room, the color scheme being carried out in pink and white. The presents were very beautiful consisting of cut glass, rare china and silver. Mr. and Mrs. Plummer will reside in Woodstock.

A special train carrying a 117 Greeks arrived at Chicago, Wednesday, from San Francisco. The Greeks chartered the train to take them across the country to New York, whence they will sail to their native land to fight in the Balkan war.

The Becker Case.

The conviction of Police Lieutenant Becker is a condemnation of the New York police system, proving as it does that there has been collusion between the men in authority and the criminal classes who prey on society. When Rosenthal, the gambler, was murdered in cold blood by hired assassins, the District Attorney laid his plans not alone to punish the murderers, but to discover and punish, if possible, the men "higher up" in police circles who were able to give protection to criminals and to effectively block the administration of justice. The first step was to prosecute the police officer who, it was alleged, had given directions to men to cause a murder and had guaranteed the murderers that they would escape punishment. In this the District Attorney has been successful. But will he succeed in reaching those in authority above the police officer—the men who stand behind officers of the Becker class? That is the great problem. The importance of the question was forcibly stated lately in the New York World:

"Herman Rosenthal was murdered in cold blood by the System.

"The System is the partnership between the police of New York City and the criminals of New York City.

"This partnership is an organized conspiracy against the lives and property of 5,000,000 persons. This partnership buys and sells the privilege of violating the laws of New York. It buys and sells the privilege of over-riding the acts of the New York Legislature. It buys and sells the privileges of nullifying the Penal Code. When necessary to its purposes it buys and sells the privilege of committing murder. It makes itself superior to Commissioners, to Mayors, to Governors and to all other lawful authority in the State.

"The system murdered Herman Rosenthal because he threatened to expose it and had begun to expose it. It murdered him because he had conferred with the District Attorney about the blackmail that the gamblers are compelled to pay the police for the privilege of carrying on their occupation. It murdered him because he came to the World office Saturday night and made affidavit as to the System's activities. It murdered him because he had declared that he would submit his evidence to the press of New York and make public the criminal profits that the police derive from the protection of lawbreakers. It murdered him in a desperate effort to save itself from destruction.

And again:
"City administration after city administration had been wrecked by this mysterious, unseen force. Mayor after Mayor had grappled with it, only to go down to defeat. Police Commissioner after Police Commissioner has tried to subdue it only to retire from office baffled and discredited.

Lowe and McClellan and Gaynor are all honest men, but none of them could cope with the system. McAdoo and Bingham and Waldo are all honest men but none of them could break up the partnership between the police and the criminals. This partnership never can be dissolved and never will be dissolved until the Legislature of New York intervenes. The System will remain until a corrupt city police department is legislated out of existence and a State police is established under the direct authority of the Governor."

It is surely a bad state of affairs when it is confessed that the people of New York City are not able to govern themselves.—St. John Globe.
