Great Immigration Congress A Success

Summary of the Important Resolutions Adopted

The great immigration congress held Friday at Fredericton was a success in every particular, and it is believed will have far-reaching results in making this province better known and in attracting the attention not only of many home people now living in the West and in the States, but also in influencing many new comers to consider seriously the claims of this province.

Some of the practical suggestions made by speakers and generally approved were:

1. Organization of a New Brunswick league, along the lines of the Canadian clubs, membership fees to be used for advertising the province.
2. Business men's excursion to New Brunswick from Ontario and the west, to be arranged through the boards of trade.
3. A central bureau for giving information to newly arrived immigrants, and officials to visit them and give advice.
4. Immigration officials to take legal options on lands for disposal to newcomers.
5. An agricultural loan commission to assist new settlers in the province.
6. The establishment of improved flour mills, to encourage wheat growing.

Mr. John T. Jennings, president of the Fredericton Board of Trade, opened the congress in an address of welcome and of hope for the future.

Mayor Thomas was also heard in a brief address of welcome.

Mr. J. D. McKenna took up "Publicity" and said that a successful advertising movement depended largely on the advertiser having faith in his goods. New Brunswick had goods to sell and should make them known. Enough gas has been discovered in Albert county to heat every house and run every factory in the Maritime Provinces. Besides there was Gloucester iron ore, the Valley Railway, Courtenay Bay development and other important works. The province should look to the transportation companies and federal government, but most important of all they must help themselves. He suggested an organization to be known as the New Brunswick League, along the lines of the Canadian Club, and using its funds for an advertising campaign. He moved the following resolution, seconded by T. W. Butler, of Newcastle, who spoke eloquently of the claims of the Miramichi region:

"That this congress desires to emphasize the necessity for greater publicity of the opportunities, resources and educational and social advantages of New Brunswick."

Mr. T. H. Estabrooks spoke of "Knockers" as a class being too prevalent.

Mr. R. E. Armstrong, of St. Andrews, advocated giving particular attention to securing farmers from Greta Britain.

Mr. James McQueen, of Shediac, made a strong plea for bringing back former New Brunswickers to the province.

Mr. J. S. Armstrong said New Brunswick had greater possibilities than any state in the United States. He suggested an advertising scheme marking out England on the map of New Brunswick showing the coal areas and manufacturing centres.

Mr. C. N. Vroom claimed the best natural port with shortest route from Montreal, the best summer resorts, the best fruit growing land, the best red granite, for Charlotte county.

Mr. M. G. Siddall, of Port Elgin, held that former New Brunswickers in the West were doing well and were boosters of New Brunswick, creating a market for our manufacturers. He thought it was a mistake to confine the immigration propaganda to Great Britain, and many continentals were better farmers. Other speakers on the subject were M. Lodge, A. D. Holyoke, and W. Currie, M. P. P.

The resolution carried and was referred to a committee.

Mr. C. Fred Chestnut, Fredericton, introduced a resolution in favor of running excursions from Ontario and the West to New Brunswick, and suggested business men's excursions from the West to be arranged by boards of trade.

Mayor Ketchum, of Woodstock, the seconder, thought the matter of bringing artisans to towns should be considered.

Mr. William Stitt, of the C. P. R., gave some figures to disprove that harvest excursions were responsible for people leaving New Brunswick. Only 1,500 people went from New Brunswick last year and 75 per cent returned. Statistics showed 160 home steads were taken by New Brunswickers. The census showed only 4,000 New Brunswickers in the west, while there were 50,000 New Brunswickers in the New England States. He thought the province should use every effort to get the 50,000 New Brunswickers back from New England.

Mr. George Ham, of the C. P. R., said New Brunswick should get out and hustle for immigrants. The Federal government were going to appoint two agents to represent New Brunswick specially. The C. P. R. was sending down a farming train and would start an illustration farm in some part of the province. The C. P. R. were heart and soul with the province.

Mr. John M. Lyons, of the I. C. R. said that people who were asked to settle on vacant lands would want to know why those farms were vacant.

Mr. J. A. Edwards, of the Grand Trunk, said New Brunswick was receiving her share in confederation by getting the Transcontinental, bigger docks and new harbors.

Mr. S. L. Peters, in discussing what New Brunswick had to offer the immigrant moved. "Resolved, that it is in the interests of new Brunswick to give greater publicity as to what we have to offer intending immigrants."

Mr. Peters expressed the hope of seeing an agricultural college and experimental farm established in connection with the U. N. B. He said that New Brunswick contained more acres of fruitful land in proportion to its total area than any other land under heaven.

Dr. T. Ives Byrne, Mayor of Chatham, suggested that free homesteads would prove an effective means of attracting immigration and advised that the government be memorialized for this as well as financial assistance.

Mr. Donald Innes, Tobique, favored assistance to settlers, but not the loaning of money by the government. He was apposed to the sale of ready-made farms.

Mr. H. H. Stuart, Newcastle, advocated rural mail delivery, nationalization of telephones and single tax and other reforms as features to make New Brunswick attractive.

Mr. James Telfer, Sussex, said he had chosen New Brunswick as his home after thorough investigation of the west. He recommended married men for settlers, the best coming from the hilly lands of Scotland.

Mr. O. W. Wetmore, Clifton, wanted to see graduates of agricultural colleges at work on farms as good examples for immigrants. It was possible to make $480 an acre from strawberries.

Mr. H. B. Scott, Meductic, introduced a resolution favoring the establishment of central bureau at St. John to give immigrants reliable information.

Mr. C. N. Vroom said the bureau should reach out to every part of the province.

At the evening session His Lordship Bishop Richardson spoke of optimism as a great asset for the province, and urged co-operation between the city and the rural district. It was time to stop importing $4,000,000 worth of farm products and sitting down in peace and contentment to western bread and Australian butter. He advocated the establishment of improved flour mills to encourage the growing of wheat. He laid great stress upon conservation and reforestation.

Mr. Charles H. McIntyre, of Boston, in the course of a lengthy and eloquent address, discussed the problem of immigration and a land settlement policy for New Brunswick from many standpoints, and said the most effective agency of revival would be cheap capital on long terms of credit. There are many other necessary things, but without the living water of capital you cannot achieve any substantial results. Mr. McIntyre urged using the savings bank deposits on the credit of the province for agricultural loans, or for the province to issue debentures at 4 per cent, placing the proceeds in the hands of a land settlement commission, or thirdly for the commission itself to issue bonds on the credit of the province.

A spirited discussion followed Mr. McIntyre's address and a resolution favoring the adoption of such a scheme for New Brunswick. Mr. J. E. Porter moved, and Mr. H. H. Stuart seconded, a resolution to refer the matter to a special committee to wait on the Provincial government and ask for its consideration.

Mr. R. E. Armstrong moved in amendment that the matter be referred to the boards of trade and union of municipalities, the recommendation to the government to come from those bodies. The amendment was defeated, and Mr. Porter's motion carried.

Mr. Arthur Hawkes declared the adoption of the foregoing resolution marked a great step in provincial progress, being a recognition of the principle that public credit must be used for the benefit of the farmers.

The chairman announced the names of committee selected to present the memorial of convention in various matters discussed as follows: M. E. Agar, T. H. Estabrooks, H. C. Schofield, St. John; E. W. Ward, St. Stephen; T. C. L. Ketchum, Woodstock; R. E. Armstrong, St. Andrews; J. D. Harquail, Campbellton; J. B. O'Connor, Fredericton; M. G. Siddall, Port Elgin.

Premier Flemming closed the convention in an excellent speech, speaking of the importance of immigration in general and of teaching children the beauty of the land. He said the government was prepared to do its duty in the matter.

Mr. C. L. Hanington moved and Mr. Barnstead seconded a vote of thanks to the committee and speakers and the meeting dispersed with cheers for the King.

The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Funeral Of Hon. Edward Blake On Sunday

Toronto, Mar. 4.—As befitting the rigid simplicity of his life and the enforced seclusion of his last years, the remains of Hon. Edward Blake were interred in St. James' cemetery yesterday with absolute privacy. At the service, held at the family residence, in Jarvis street, only immediate relatives were present, a few close friends of the late statesman being added to the party later in the cemetery chapel, when Ven. Archdeacon Cody pronounced the last solemn words before committing the body to earth. The mourners included S. H. Blake, deceased's brother, Hume Blake, the elder son, Senator J. K. Kerr, a brother-in-law, President R. A. Falconer and Principal Hutton. The last named two, who came in behalf of Toronto University, were the only representatives present of any public body.

B. P. R. Operator Cannot be Found

Ottawa, March 9—Harvey Boal, the young operator of the Hull station whom the C. P. R. officials claim, is alone responsible for the C. P. R. accident, which yesterday cost five lives, is still lost to sight. It is definitely certain that young Boal left Hull yesterday morning, shortly after ten o'clock, in a rig belonging to Messrs. Melleur and Pelletier, liverymen. Sheriff Wright, who is conducting the search for the missing operator at the Hull end, ascertained from the bank officials that Boal had withdrawn his savings account, amounting to one hundred dollars.
