ANNOUNCEMENT

The popular American Elocutionist W. H. Easton, A. M., has announced his intention of visiting Hartland on Wednesday, March 6th. Considering the large crowds which have waited on Mr. Easton both in the States and in Canadian Cities, the success of his Hartland visit seems assured.

MRS. JOHN C. COLE

There passed away on Friday, Jan. 26th., at the residence of her son-in-law, Dr. McCann, Bangor, a former resident of Woodstock, Mrs. John Cole. Many of the older people will remember her as a zealous worker in her church (St. Gertrude's) and also for her many deeds of kindness to the sick and those in need. Mrs. Cole was the sister of the late Mr. P. Gillen, of Woodstock. —Com.

Business Change

On the 8th. of January there was a change in the business of the Woodstock Woodworking Co. The old firm was composed of Messrs. J. T. Allen Dibblee, Hon. W. P. Jones, H. A. Seely and W. S. Sutton. Mr. Dibblee and Mr. Jones have retired from the business and the new firm is now composed of the following members. E. R. Teed, president; E. W. Mair, vice-president; H. A. Seely, secretary-treasurer; W. S. Sutton, general manager. The new firm will be still known as the Woodstock Woodworking Company. Preparations have already been begun for the erection of large buildings with an up-to-date plant on the old site.

Baby's Health In Winter

During the winter months the mother finds it very difficult to keep her little ones well. Colds come on quickly and the discomfort to the baby affects the whole household. To keep baby well during the winter he should be warmly clothed, have a daily bath, lots of fresh air, and Baby's Own Tablets should be given him occasionally to keep his little bowels working regularly, as nothing will bring on colds so quickly as a clogged condition of the bowels. Baby's Own Tablets are the best medicine a mother can give her little ones. They break up colds, cure constipation and indigestion, expel worms and make baby bright and happy. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Cork Plugs for a Novel Purpose

Cork plugs are utilized in a cotton gin roller. The roller has a number of radial recesses, and the plugs of cork are fitted in the recesses and project beyond the surface of the roller. The cork plugs are described by a writer as constituting the operation friction surface of the roller, and the construction is inexpensive to manufacture and is otherwise advantageous, since the cork plugs being fitted to the recesses, may be readily renewed when worn or damaged.

PROGRESS IN THE WEST

A piece of railway construction that is almost unique is now under way on the British Columbia Division of the Canadian Northern Railway. It is a three mile stretch between "Honey's Bridge" and Welhachin located at a point about an equal distance from the towns of Lytton and Ashcroft and in that strip of right of way four tunnels are to be built. One will be fifteen hundred feet in length, another a thousand feet and the two others five hundred feet each.

Recently six hundred men were employed there but this number will probably be doubled in the immediate future. Owing to the anxiety of the Canadian Northern to complete the entire section of their line from Edmonton to Vancouver it is probable that construction work will be proceeded with during the winter. This, however, should prove in so sense a hardship because of the mellow climate of the coast province and of the fact that this underground cutting will place the men employed beyond the interference of conditions obtaining outside.

In addition to this section of heavy rock work there are two other tunnels to be built in this mountain district that are even of greater size. One of these, which is located near the town of Yale is to be almost half a mile long, or to be exact 2,070 feet. The other bore is to be made in the Black Canyon close to the town of Ashcroft.

THE TALKING NEWSPAPER

A System by Which all the News can be Phoned to Your Office

There certainly seems to be no limit to newspaper enterprise, but it has remained for Budapest to inaugurate a system of news distribution in which there seems to be great possibilities, particularly in view of the remarkable invention in the old country of Mr. Grindell Matthews, who has been demonstrating how easy it is to telephone without the use of wires. Mr. Matthews, with the aid of his apparatus, which consists solely of a small box, containing the battery, motor, and transformer, which can easily be carried about and thus enable every man, if he wishes, to have his own telephone with him, has managed to speak clearly and distinctly by his system of wireless telephony over a distance of six miles. Shortly he hopes to speak over fifty miles, and as time goes on and he improves his invention, he does not see why the distance should have any limit.

The voice travels through the air in rippling waves, and what Mr. Matthews has achieved is the control of the direction of the waves by means of electricity, so that they are attracted by the receiving machine wherever it may be.

All the City Listens.

Among the people most interested in this invention are the newspaper proprietors of Budapest, who some time ago adopted a unique device which spreads the latest local and foreign news throughout the city in less than ten minutes after the central news office has received the information.

The instrument of dispatch is called the "talking newspaper," and it is neither a public phonograph nor a news sheet hurriedly distributed. It is a sort of telephonic news service, and is the only thing of its kind in the world. Working in connection with the associated newspapers of the city, a central office has been established, which is the core of the curious system. At the first hint of

NOTICE

We the undersigned, James W. Astle and Peter L. Cosman, heretofore doing business under the name, style and firm of Astle and Cosman, do hereby give notice that the said firm has been dissolved by mutual consent, and all debts due and owing to the said firm will be collected by said Peter L. Cosman, and accounts due and owing by said firm will be paid by him upon presentation thereof at his office.

The said James W. Astle has retired from the said firm and is no longer connected therewith.

We wish to thank our many friends for their favors in the past and would ask for our successor Perley S. Marsten your same hearty support.

Dated this first day of January A. D., 1912.

JAMES W. ASTLE,
PETER L. COSMAN.

Notice is hereby given that I have purchased from Peter L. Cosman the insurance business formerly conducted by him and James W. Astle and am now in a position to look after your requirements in all lines of insurance.

By extending the same liberal treatment that the old firm have always accorded, I trust to warrant and receive the same confidence from the insuring public.

Soliciting a generous share of your business, I am,

Yours truly,
PERLEY S. MARSTEN.

news coming in over the telephone instrument to any or all of the newspaper offices, this central telephone office is called, and whatever the news is, from far or near, the bureau is advised of it in full.

The bureau agent then rings his signal calls to his special news telephone at the same instant every subscriber in Budapest. After a reasonably long interval, long enough to allow subscribers to get to their receivers, the despatch is slowly and distinctly read at the central office and subscribers all over the city stand listening to the same voice. After the news is read it is once repeated for the benefit of those who may not have clearly understood the first time or who may have been delayed in answering the signal.

On Laziness.

Dr. Charles A. Eaton said in the course of an after-dinner speech in Cleveland:—

"Laziness is responsible for too much of the misery we see about us. It is all very well to blame alcohol for this misery, to blame oppression and injustice; but to what heights might we not have climbed but for our laziness!"

He paused and smiled.
"We are too much like the supernumerary in the drama," he went on, "who had to enter from the right and say, 'My lord, the carriage waits.'"
"Look here, super," said the stage-manager one night, "I want you to come on from the left instead of the right after this, and I want you to transpose your speech. Make it run hereafter, 'The carriage waits, my lord.'"

"The super pressed his hand to his brow.

"More study! More study!" he groaned."
