A Young Boy Whose Wonderful Eyesight is Strong Enough to Penetrate Substances in Same Fashion as the X Rays. In the Dark.

They may be freaks of Nature, but all the same it is doubtful whether there are more wonderful babies in the world than those mentioned in the following article. There is Arthur Keene, a six-year-old boy, living with his parents at Penarth, Wales, in whom about a year ago, British medical men were much interested. The boy had lived on milk ever since his birth, not a particle of solid food being taken. At six years of age he was finely developed and healthy, and his diet consisted of thirty pints of milk per week mixed with sugar and a little water.

Then there is James Adolph Cody, of Chicago, who is two years and three months old. He weighs 119 lbs., measures 14 in. round the neck, 36 in. round the waist, 16 in. above the knee, and 13 in. below. He eats more than both his parents.

For breakfast young James eats numerous biscuits spread with butter and syrup, and drinks two glasses of milk as well as a couple of cups of coffee. For dinner and supper he is supplied with a large plate of boiled bacon and vegetables, and he gives full vent to a lusty pair of lungs if he is not given light refreshment between meals.

X-Ray Eyes

When Lionel Brett, a young boy of Massachusetts, was a baby in arms, his mother noticed that there was something peculiar about his eyes, and fearing that he was in danger of going blind she had him examined by several oculists. These gentlemen discovered that the child was possessed of the most wonderful pair of eyes, his sight penetrating substances in the same fashion as the X-rays.

Dr. Ferroul, of Narbonne, and Dr. Grasset, of Montpellier, some years back examined a young girl of Narbonne, and she was found to possess eyes similar to those of Lionel Brett. Experiments proved that she could see through opaque bodies as clearly and penetratingly as if her eyes generated Rontgen rays.

Another child possessed of wonderful sight was a German lad named Schaefer, who created a furor in scientific circles some time ago. There was nothing unusual in his appearance, and yet he had a very strange pair of eyes. The usual order of things was reversed; in the day he was practically blind, while in the darkness of thenight the keenness of his sight was astonishing. When night came on, young Schaefer could see with an acuteness which many ordinary people would have given much to possess even in daytime.

A MOORISH MARRIAGE

What They Ate at a Wedding Feast That Lasted Two Days.

A remarkable wedding, uniting the two most powerful families, has taken place at Tetuan. The son of the celebrated Moor, Lebady, lately the Basha of Tetuan, has married the daughter of the Moor, Alcayna.

Nearly all the Christian residents in Tetuan attended the ceremony, as well as others who journeyed from Ceuta.

The Moors who were invited to the feasting and revelry, which lasted two days, had such enormous appetites that for the purposes of different banquets they slaughtered 2,000 hens, 2,000 chickens, 500 sheep, 4 oxen, and 500 pigeons. Honey and cheese were consumed by the hundredweight, and bottles of lemonade disappeared by the thousand.

For coffee and tea, 5,000 lb. of sugar was required, and Lebady spent $600 on biscuits, pastry, and confectionery. The Christians dined in European style in an hotel, and Lebady's house, which is beautiful Moorish palace of high artistic merit, was full of presents.

RUSSIAN LETTER-OPENERS

In Russia one letter in every ten passing through the post is opened by the authorities as a matter of course. Indeed, the postal authorities of every country have experts who have raised letter-opening to a fine art. Some kinds of paper can be steamed open without leaving any traces, and this simple operation is finished by re-burnishing the flap with a bone instrument.

In the case of a seal, a matrix is taken by means of new bread before breaking the wax. When other methods fail, the envelope is placed between pieces of wood, with edge projecting one-twentieth of an inch. The edge of the envelope is first flattened, then roughened, and finally slit open. Later a hair line of strong white gum is applied and the edges united under pressure.

SHALL BOOKS BE BURNED?

Quite recently Lord Roseberry decried against the system of hoarding up thousands upon thousands of books in public and private libraries.

It is probably a fact that many of the bulky tomes so carefully guarded and stored will never be of use again; but who shall weed out the works that have lost their pristine value?

Libraries are as old as our civilization. Aristotle possessed a collection of books centuries before the Chris-

Unlike common coffees, RED ROSE has the same rare flavor when it reaches your table as it had when it left the roaster. For it is sold only in airtight tins, hence none of its strength or flavor is lost.

Crushed (not ground) So Brews Clear

Our new process crushes this coffee into grains of uniform size and takes away the chaff which makes most coffees bitter. Thus Red Rose Coffee is as easily made as Red Rose Tea, and pours clear without any "settling." For a "full-bodied," bright, brisk coffee we commend tian era, and Plutarch owned 200,000 of the curious volumes of his day. As proof of the enormous number of books that have been shepherded into public keeping, it may be mentioned that the Bodleian Library, at Oxford, contains no fewer than 600,000 volumes, and the Advocates' Library, in Edinburgh, 430,000.

Police Court

James Long and Albert Bagley were before Police Magistrate Holyoke on Tuesday last charged with giving intoxicating liquor to an Indian and having intoxicating liquor on the Indian Reservation. Both men pleaded guilty, and a fine of fifty dollars or two months with hard labour was handed out to each. The penalty was allowed to stand over pending their future good behaviour. The Magistrate stated to the accused that if he followed his own inclination the penalties would not be allowed to stand, but would be enforced forthwith, as he looked upon the offence as a very serious one and one for which severe penalty was provided. In view of the fact that this was the first information of the kind that had been laid, and in view of the fact that Indian Commissioner Smith, who was present at the trial, had suggested that the penalty be allowed to stand, he was willing to do so.

Two Scott Act cases against Charles A. McKeen were dismissed by the Police magistrate last week.

Michael Courtney, Albert Bagley and Fred McCluskey, had fines registered against them in the Police Court last week for imbibing too much Joy Juice?

SCOTT'S EMULSION

has helped countless thousands of thin, weak, delicate children—made them strong, plump and robust.

It creates an appetite, aids digestion, fills the veins with rich red blood.

After illness or loss of weight from any cause, it brings strength and flesh quicker than anything else.
