A SAFE TONIC FOR MOTHERS.

Who Do Not Recover Their Strength
as They Should

Every mother who fails to regain her health and strength after confinement needs a tonic. The years of weakness and suffering which so often follow are unnecessary and easily avoided. The fact that her strength does not return is a certain indication that her blood supply has been overtaxed and is impoverished. This condition is often made worse when the mother takes up her household duties while she is still weak, when a complete breakdown results. The strength a weak mother needs can be quickly found in the tonic treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These Pills increase and enrich the blood supply, and thus bring health and strength to the exhausted system. Mrs. Robt. Little says: "I have nursed for upwards of twenty-five years, and I could relate many cases, relieved and cured, through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. In maternity cases which I nurse I always use them and I know of no other medicine that so speedily builds up the mother at this critical time. I have also found them of great value in the case of young girls and I can add that as for myself they have saved me many a doctor's bill. I feel safe in saying they are the best tonic medicine I know of."

Nursing mothers will find Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will give her just the strength she needs, and they will at the same time aid in keeping her child healthy. If you do not find these Pills at your dealer's they will be sent by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by writing The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Surprise Party.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. James Stewart was the scene of a genuine surprise party on Wednesday evening Sept. 17th it being Mr. Stewart's birthday. For some days before the event whispered consultations, such as remind one of the coming of Santa Claus, were held among the neighbours; but the one most surprised Canny Scotsman as he is did not "smell a rat" as he termed the surprise until several of the advance guards of the surprise party had arrived at his home.

The house was soon filled with neighbours all of whom were smiling their satisfaction in knowing that their surprise had been complete. After some time had been spent in pleasant chat and in listening to phonograph selections of the number present read the following poem.

If I should die to-night,
My friends would look upon my quiet face

Before they laid it in its resting-place

And deem that death had left it almost fair;
And laying snow-white flowers against my hair

Would smooth it down with tearful tenderness,
And fold my hands with lingering caress.

Poor hand so empty and so cold to night!
If I should die to-night,

My friends would call to mind with loving thought
Some kindly deed the icy hands had wrought;

Some gentle word the frozen lips had said;
Errands on which the willing feet had sped;

The memory of my selfishness and pride—
My hasty words would all be put aside,

And so I should be loved and mourned to-night.

If I should die to-night
Even hearts estranged would turn once more to me

Recalling other days remorsefully;
The eyes that chill me with averted glance

Would look upon me as of yore, perchance,
And soften, in the old familiar way;

For who could war with dumb unconscious clay?
So I might rest, forgiven of all, to-night—

Oh friends, I pray to-night,
Keep not your kisses for my dead, cold brow,

The way is lone'y; let me feel them now.
Think gently of me; I am travel-worn

My faltering feet are pierced with many a thorn.
Forgive, oh, hearts estranged, forgive, I plead!

When dreamless rest is mine I shall not need
The tenderness for which I long to night.

The reader of the poem addressing Mr. Stewart said:—

"We are here to say that we do not wish to defer the expression of our kindly feelings until you have passed beyond times' boundary. We are here to congratulate you upon having safely passed another milestone on life's journey. We are here to present you with this suit-case as an expression of our affectionate regard; and hope that when your sun reaches the west that it may linger in its going down. We hope that in the evening time it shall be light and that in the sweet bye-and-bye we shall meet and live where time is not counted by years.

Mr. Stewart in replying thanked the neighbours most feelingly for the real surprise which those present had given him and for the gift with which they had presented him.

"MY KIDNEYS HURT ME ALL THE TIME"

Gin Pills Cured Them. Free Sample Box Leads to Cure.

Only those who have been tortured with Kidney Trouble can appreciate how Mr. Trumper suffered. Being a railroad man, he was called upon to do all kinds of heavy work. The constant strain of lifting, weakened the kidneys.

I received the sample box of Gin Pills and was greatly benefitted by them. My kidneys were in such bad condition I could not lift or stoop without pain. In fact, they pained me nearly all the time. I have taken three boxes of Gin Pills, working all the time at heavy work on the railroad and did not lose a day.

That a small fox ranch is begun by Messrs. Burpee and Hannah may be of interest to some. It is built of wire and within are four red foxes and a fisher. It is the intention of these gentlemen to breed red foxes and enlarge their ranch as necessity requires. On Sunday last Mr. Hannah was fortunate to secure a beautiful mink, caught by one front foot in a trap. This animal he now has in a pen at his home, where he may possibly keep it and secure a mate. The mink is only a few months old and will be of considerable value for its fur some months hence when fully grown.
