Painless Extracting a Specialty

The contemplated construction of artificial lakes on the Sila river in Calabria for irrigation and hydroelectric power purposes, involving an expenditure of some $12,000,000, has met with approval by the Italian Government.

One of the largest wireless stations in the world will be established at the United States Naval Training Station at Lake Buff, Chicago. Captain E. R.
Clark, commandant, announced that $100,000 will be expended in its construction. The station will be able to communicate directly with San Francisco and New York.

HOUSEHOLD.

Sweet Corn.

Sweet Corn is now at its best and should be used in a variety of ways. The simplest and best way is to boil it on the cob. To have the best flavor the corn should be young and quite fresh and boiled for only 5 minutes, counting from the time the water boils.

Another method is to remove the outer husks, turn back the inner husks, remove the silk and replace the inner husks then boil for 10 minutes or until the corn is tender. This gives a different flavor. The corn on the cob which is left over may be cut off and used in a variety of ways. If it is not young and tender, a sharp knife should be run down the centre of each row of grains and the pulp pressed out with the back of the knife. A few methods of using corn are, Stewed corn with milk, stewed corn with tomatoes, or green pepper, escaloped corn, corn griddle cakes corn fritters and corn cream soup; which may be garnished with a few kernels of popcorn.

While it does not pay usually to purchase corn to can, the following recipe for canned corn may be of use when there are a few dozen extra ears on hand.

Canned Corn.

To 20 cups of corn, add 1 1/2 cups salt and 1 cup sugar. Add enough water to prevent scorching and cook 20 minutes. Seal in glass jars. When this corn is used it must be parboiled for 15 minutes and the water thrown away or else it may be soaked twice in cold water which is drained off.

Cheese.

Cheese as a substitute for meat is growing in popularity in America. If not cooked until it is tough, it is very digestible, although there is a tradition to the contrary. Every particle of cheese may be utilized. That which can be dried will keep well if not placed in a closed container where it will mold.

Cheese may be added to omelets, souffles, soups, French toast, asparagus on toast, creamed vegetables and other dishes. Cheese straws are made by adding grated cheese, salt and cayenne pepper to plain pastry rolled thin. The paste is then folded, rolled again, cut in strips and baked. Cheese crackers are quickly made by sprinkling grated cheese, salt and cayenne over square crackers or Saratoga flakes and heating in the oven enough to partly melt the cheese.

Cheese Sticks.

One cup flour, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons butter, 1-3 cup milk, 1 teaspoon baking powder, cayenne, 1 egg, yolk, 1-4 cup grated cheese. Sift together the baking powder, flour, salt, cayenne; rub in the butter, add the beaten yolks to the milk and make a dough with the flour. Add the cheese and roll out thin. Cut in sticks 8 inches long and 1-8 inch wide. Make a few rings of these sticks the size of a half-dollar, through which several sticks may be slipped after they are baked.
Bake until light brown. Serve while still crisp. If they must be kept a day or two, crisp them in the oven before serving.

Portuguese Salad.

Peel and cut in halves two medium, sound cucumbers. Remove spongy parts and slice finely.
Also slice very thin one small Spanish onion, two medium, fresh red tomatoes, two small red peppers and two sound, peeled and cored apples. Place these in a salad bowl, cover with four tablespoons of French dressing, mix well and serve.

meal for pigs led to the following conclusion:

This series of experiments appear to indicate that maize is worth approximately 10s. ($2.50) per ton more than barley meal for pigs feeding. As regards the quality of the pork barley meal seems to be slightly superior to maize meal.

SPROUTED GRAIN FOR FOWLS

Where it is possible a winter crop should be planted to furnish green food for the fowls. It does not take a large area to furnish green food for the fowls, and usually plenty of space may be found for this purpose. But where one has only a city lot, and a green crop is out of the question, arrangements should be made to sprout oats, rye, wheat or barley. If no other space is available a box of soil will suffice. The box may be filled with rich garden loam if the seeds are to remain long enough for the plants to grow. If the grain is to be fed as soon as the seed sprouts a box of sand is sufficient.
The box may be set in a cellar or in the kitchen near the stove in very cold weather.

Green food may also be supplied in the form of any surplus vegetables that you may happen to have on hand.
The best plan for feeding them is to place a nail in the houses on the wall just high enough so that the hens will be compelled to jump a little to reach it.
Then take a beet or any other vegetables that you desire to feed and stick them on the nails. It is a handy little arrangement, and compels the fowls to exercise for their food.

Officers Inspected Ball Pouches And Rifles.

CHATHAM, Ont., Aug. 28—When the blue army in its manoeuvres halted at noon yesterday, an inspection was made of ball pouches and rifles.
The officers were startled to find that several men were carrying loaded shells such as are used in the regimental shooting galleries. A thorough search was made and all such shells were taken up. Serious results might have followed the first skirmish, had these shells not been discovered, for in the heat of action it would have been very easy for a man to confuse the loaded and the blank shells. There will be an inquiry as to the manner in which the men were accidentally served with loaded shells.

HIS OWN FAULT.

"Promise me," said Aunt Nancy, on what was supposed to be her death bed, "that you will never take another wife."

"I dunno know about that," replied Uncle Eben, gently stroking his beard, "these here 1913 models look mighty allurin'."

In one short week Aunt Nancy was as well as ever.
