SMOKING TOBACCO

It is a continuous strain for a builder to watch his buildings go up.

A pipe-full of MASTER WORKMAN tobacco is a great soother when some deep thinking has to be done. This world-famous brand may now be had at all tobacconists for 15c. per cut.

Several pictures of the wood-buffalo were obtained. The Indian Chief, Pierre Squirrel, who accompanied the party and who is most familiar with that region, estimated the number of the buffalo to be at least two hundred. Their worst enemy, at present, is the timber wolf and attempts will be made to exterminate this destroyer, by raising the bounty in this region.

The Highest Chimney Has To Be Removed

MONTREAL, July 28—The highest chimney in Canada, which stands in the rear of Windsor Street Station, and is sometimes called "the forty-thousand-dollar folly of the Canadian Pacific Railway," has to be removed in order to facilitate the lines of track running into the new extension of the terminals.

The chimney stands on an immense cement base on the west side of the C. P. R.'s St Antoine street power house, and it is said that the original intention was to build the massive structure some thirty feet nearer St. Antoine street. In its present position it stands directly in the way of preventing at least four lines of tracks entering the station.

Mr. B. N. Anderson has started to lead a donkey from Maine to Oregon in payment of an election bet. Already his companion is beginning to feel more disgusted than lonesome.

MONTREAL BACK TO DAYS OF 1860.

MONTREAL, July 30—With between eleven and twelve thousand telephones on seven thousand lines in the heart of the business and financial district out of commission, Canada's biggest city went back to-day to the days of 1860. Thousands of messenger boys, pressed into service, took the place of the telephone for interchange of messages in the business district where the great 'main' exchange was put out of business. Not until to-morrow night is it expected that the service will be back to its usual standard. The fire of yesterday afternoon, which in a few minutes burned a mass of wires, all connecting links in the city's big multiple system, did the damage, while the "main" district was early this morning sufficiently repaired to have both an "in" and "out" service with the other city exchanges. Thousands of telephones of the "main" system could not be connected with each other. As practically all the brokerage, wholesale, and transportation companies, including the Canadian Pacific Railway, the Grand Trunk, steamship companies, police, city hall, and stock exchange, are on the main exchanges the need for messengers became urgent early this morning. Newsboys and boys employed in every

DAILY FASHION HINT.

Ladies' Open Drawers.
This garment has absolutely no fullness around the hips, where darts adjust it to the figure, and there are seams down the centre of the front and also of the back, where the fastenings may be arranged. The lower edges may be trimmed, as suggested, with a flat band of lace or insertion without adding at all to the fullness of the garment.

Nainsook, cambric, muslin or wash silk are the materials generally employed for these garments, pongee also being serviceable.

The drawers pattern, No. 6198, is cut in sizes 22, 26 and 30 inches waist measure. Medium size requires 2 1/4 yards of 27 inch material, with 1 1/2 yards of edging, 1 1/2 yards of heading and 3 yards of ribbon to trim, as illustrated.

Dizziness

Mrs. J. B. Renaud of Goldrich St., Sturgeon Falls, Ont., says:

"I have suffered for months with a very weak stomach I had dizzy spells, and at times could not retain any food at all. I tried many number of remedies and prescriptions but none seemed to relieve me until I tried Mi-o-na Tablets. I used one box only and they have completely cured me of my troubles. I am pleased to recommend Mi-o-na as I know it to be a remedy of merit."

Mi-o-na is sold by druggists everywhere at 50 cents a box and is guaranteed to cure dyspepsia, indigestion, sick headache, nausea, heartburn, sour stomach, belching of gas, dizziness, heavy stomach and ear sickness, vomiting of pregnancy and the after effects of over-eating or drinking—or money back. An ex-mayor of Winnipeg is advocating before the Municipalities Convention in that city the establishment for Canada of a board similar in its scope to the local government board of Great Britain which shall pass approval on all applications for municipal loans. It is becoming more and more evident that thoughtful men recognize the necessity of some machinery that will check and control the borrowing tendencies of Canadian cities, towns and municipalities. The increased cost of money itself will probably prove more effective than any system of government or other control.

Will The Japanese Discard Their Alphabet?

In the last half-century the progress made by Japan towards the realization of a completely western civilization has been marvelously rapid; but there remains at least one province in which western systems and conventions have so far received but a limited welcome namely that of written speech. At the present moment the question is hotly debated whether it is expedient or not that the Latin alphabet should be substituted for the Japanese. There can be no doubt that the Japanese schoolboy wastes a very considerable portion of his life in learning the thousands of characters which compose the Chinese alphabet [which was adopted by Japan]; and probably the change is but a question of time, seeing that there is now in Japan an influential and energetic party which, from reasons of commercial and cultural advantages, advocates the speedy adoption of the Latin alphabet. Among the supporters of the innovation is the Mayor of Tokio, Baron Sakatani, who devotes a vigorous article in the 'Japan Magazine' to the support of the reform.—'Westminster Gazette.'

TWO SOULS.

Out in the dark last night,
Two souls went forth to look
For God, one sad and strained,
One glad and wonderous white.
And one went far, and lo!
He came, at last, to where
The starry angels stand,
And watch for souls they know.

But one stood still and wept;
And our dear Lord, asleep,
While God kept watch, half-turned,
And murmured as He slept.

Then he who neared the throne
Lo! when he saw the Face
Of Him asleep, stood back
Ashamed, "I came alone,

"Who is the way," he wept,
"I go again,
My brother in"—

Ballikinrain Castle.

Ballikinrain Castle, Stirling-shire, which has just been destroyed by fire; the work, it is supposed, of the suffragists, cost more than £100,000 to build and furnish. It was erected by the late Sir Archibald Orr-Ewing, and commanded a magnificent view of the Grampian range. The hall was 60 feet long, and beautifully paneled. On the stonework were carved two texts from Scripture: One was, 'I to the hills will lift mine eyes,' the other, 'Except the Lord build the house, they labor in vain that build it.'

In New York work has been commenced on the 1,000-foot pier made necessary by the size of the vessels which have already reached the point to demand such accommodations. The plans for the new Tilbury docks provide berths for vessels 1,250 feet long. It has been predicted that the 1,250-foot boat will be with us in 1930, based on recent strides in ship-building, but there are many authorities who look for it at an earlier date. In order to take care of the increased size of the modern vessel, the Suez Canal will be deepened to 39 feet by 1915.

Wood-Buffalo Herds

Many Bands Still Range North Alberta Wilds.

There are yet vast areas in northern Canada consisting of stunted forests and open grasslands and muskeg, of which practically nothing is known save what can be gathered from the stories of trap pers and explorers, who have penetrated this northern wilderness. Such a country exists on the extreme northern boundary of Alberta to the West of the Slave River and from this country have come rumors of large bands of wild buffalo, the only remnants, not in captivity, of the great herds which once roamed the Western plains.

To verify the rumors and to take steps to prevent the extinction of these herds, the Forestry Branch of the Dominion Government sent out an investigation party, working under the direction of Mr. A. J. Bell, the Government Agent at Fort Smith in the North West Territories. The report sent in reads like a book of adventure and will be contained in the Annual Report of the Director of Forestry, which will shortly go to press.

The existence of at least three herds of buffalo was proved, each herd consisting of bulls, cows and yearlings to the number of about forty-five. In appearance they closely resemble the plain buffalo, of which they are the remnants, but, being forced by necessity to live in the hilly wooded regions remote from settlement, they have changed their habits somewhat, and are fleet of foot and more agile than their ancestors of the plains. In summer they may be found in twos and threes, roaming through the birch woodlands, but in winter they travel in large bands for great security against the wolves. In winter when passing from one feeding ground to another, they travel in single file through the snow, making a narrow trail on which the snow is packed as hard as a rock. When they come to a grassy sough or meadow they stay there until all the feed is exhausted and the whole area is compactly trampled down. Unlike the western horses, which paw the snow away with their front feet the buffalo uses its huge head as a shovel and scatters the snow in
