The year 1913 will go down in Aroostook history as the famous and favorable year of no potato bugs. Many farmers have hardly seen a potato bug this year. Their absence is supposed to be due to the thawing and freezing that the eggs and old bugs had to undergo last winter. —Fort Fairfield Review.

Bnabar grass grows in large quantities throughout India and extending into Afghanistan. It is extremely fibrous and strong, and as a paper pulp material now holds first place in India.
