100 F ANNUAL MEETING

The 58th annual convention of the Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows of the Maritime Provinces and Newfoundland will meet here next year. This was decided on at the Grand Lodge meeting in Chatham last week. The Rebekahs will meet here on the second Tuesday in August, 1914, and the following day the Grand Lodge will open to continue the remainder of the week. These societies have about 11,000 members in the Maritime Provinces, there will be some 500 delegates in attendance, and they will spend while in town between $3000 and $4000.

The fact that Amherst, N. S., and St. John, N. B., were applicants for the next convention and that Woodstock won out speaks well for the delegates. John Atherton, J. Fred. Davidson and H. D. Stevens who so ably championed the cause of Woodstock on the floors of the convention hall.

This town appreciates the compliment tendered it in deciding to hold the Grand Lodge here. Woodstock is a pretty place. It is one of the most progressive towns of 4000 inhabitants in the Maritime Provinces. The convention will likely be held in the Fisher Memorial School, the equal to which is not in the Maritime Provinces today. Our people are hospitable, have done big things in the past and can do them well. The houses are large, the grounds spacious, and the former will be thrown open to the visitors, to whom in advance the PRESS extends a cordial welcome.

The Odd Fellows is a charitable society, the larger number of whose members reside in Great Britain and the United States. The society was started in London in the latter part of the 18th century, under the title "Ancient and Honorable Loyal Odd Fellows." Later it was named the "Union Order of Odd Fellows," which had its seat of government in London and spread rapidly to other English cities during the years following 1813.

Thomas Wildey and four other organized Washington Lodge, No. 1, in Baltimore, Md., April 26th, 1819, to work according to the usages of the London order. A lodge was organized in Boston, Mass., March 26th, 1820, and one in Philadelphia December 26, 1821, both of which received grand charters from Baltimore in June, 1823. At the same time a grand charter was granted to the past grands in New York. Since then the order has been established in every state and territory of the Union and Canada. Since 1843 the order in America has had no connection with that in Great Britain. There are organizations of Odd Fellows in Germany, Switzerland, Australia, Sth. America and the Hawaiian Islands, working under charters received from the American order.

Candidates for admission to the order must be white males, 21 years of age or over, who believe in a Supreme Being, the creator and preserver of the universe. Fidelity not only to the laws and obligations of the order, but to laws of God, the laws of the land and all the duties of citizenship is strictly enjoined, but the order is a moral not a religious organization; it provides the means to meet the claims of the sick and distressed members, to bury the dead, to relieve the widows and to educate the orphans, and is a society of much benefit to any community.

Thrilling Escape of Harry K. Thaw
From Matteawan.

New York, Aug. 18.—The absence of Harry K. Thaw for more than 24 hours from the Matteawan Asylum for the criminal insane has established this forenoon little beyond the fact that he had escaped and that the State of New York, in the opinion of those qualified to speak, had but slim chances of extraditing him. That he is beyond the borders of the State was regarded as certain. With the Connecticut State line but thirty miles from the asylum, and that he and his conspirators, travelling by motor at a rate of more than 60 miles an hour, reached Connecticut in about 30 minutes or less, is almost sure. Whether the slayer of Stanford White boarded a yacht off South Norwalk, Conn., the theory advanced by the presence and sailing from there yesterday afternoon of a yellow-funnelled craft, had not been born out to-day. No trace of Thaw had been found in Connecticut, nor were there clues to his having sped on toward the Canadian border.

When found—and it was considered to-day a foregone conclusion that he would be found—the New York authorities, it was said, might try for his extradition on one of two grounds. First, that in escaping he technically assaulted a keeper; second that bribery of some attaché of the asylum could be shown. Either of these, if sustained, would constitute an extraditable offence.

Howard Barnum, the venerable gate keeper past whom Harry Thaw darted through the open gate and was dragged into an automobile, remains in jail at Poughkeepsie to-day. He maintains that he was innocent of implication in any plot.

In New York, Mrs. Mary Copley Thaw, mother of the fugitive, continued to receive visitors at her hotel apartments, to all of whom she expressed her unfeigned joy at her son's escape, meateime indignantly denying that the Thaw family had any hint of the matter until the newspapers informed them. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, lamenting that her husband is at large, pronounced him dangerous to the community and applied for police protection. She recalled his threats to kill her and professed to believe that her presence on the New York state at this time had goaded him to the dash for liberty.

One of the clearest accounts of Thaw's escape came from Mrs. James Mahar, a laundress at Matteawan Asylum. She was standing in the laundry tower overlooking the yard below. She noticed Thaw on the roadway outside and two cars. I stayed at the window longer than usual," she relates, "because I noticed a fine big touring car at the bottom of the low hill, and I saw another automobile right close to the yard gate. A man was working on the machinery and I thought it was out of order. But the chugging was so loud that I was afraid every moment it might start and crash through the fence. Then I noticed two big men step out. They opened both side doors of the car, which looked like a taxicab. One of the men waved his handkerchief to a man who was leaning against the open car at the bottom of the hill.

"Thaw suddenly walked over to the gate, and I saw Hickey's milk wagon coming up the hill. Mr. Hickey was driving slowly. As he stopped in front of the gate he climbed from his seat. The milkman walked over to the bell button and the next moment I heard the big gong ring. Then I saw Thaw lean against the gate post as Barnum drew back the lock and pushed the door open. I could hear Hickey urge his horses ahead and saw him drive through the gateway.

"There goes Harry Thaw, I shouted out of the window, as I saw Thaw slip past the milk wagon and out of the yard. The two men caught Thaw by both arms and threw or half dragged him into the automobile."

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—There is a belief, which is growing stronger, that Harry Thaw is heading for Canadian waters, and that he will buy a ticket for Gregetbook. The asylum authorities and the detectives investigating Thaw's sensational escape from Matteawan are convinced that he reached Long Island Sound and there went on board a yacht, which is now en route for some Canadian port, probably St. John or Halifax, where he can complete arrangements to proceed to England without delay.

New Health Rules For Toronto Bakeries.

(Toronto Globe)

Dirty bakeshops and unclean lodging houses are to go. Dr. C. J. Hastings, Medical Officer of Health, Wednesday issued rules and regulations governing the sale of all bakery products, the bakeries and lodging houses of the city, and a small army of men will see that they are observed.

The ordinance concerning lodging houses affect any house "in which persons are harbored, received or lodged for hire." They must have licenses, obtained upon application to the Medical Officer of Health.

Strict Code of Rules.

No more lodgers will be allowed in any sleeping room in a lodging house than the number permitted under the Public Health Act, which rule is chiefly designed to regulate conditions in the slums.

Six hundred cubic feet of air space has to be provided for each lodger.

No beds or bunks shall be placed one above another and no one shall be permitted to sleep in a basement or cellar.

All bed clothing, etc., shall be kept clean at all times and free from vermin. No comforter shall be permitted.

Nothing but iron or metal bedsteads shall be used.

Must Provide Shower Bath.

At least one shower bath shall be provided on each floor, supplied with hot and cold water and open at all times for the use of lodgers.

Clean towels shall be provided free of charge.

Cuspidors must be provided and no expectorating shall be permitted in any lodging house except in the proper receptacles provided for the purpose.

The keeper of the lodging house is required to report to the Department of Health any person suffering from any communicable disease.

What Word "Bakery" Means.

Bakeries affected by the new ordinance include "any dwelling room or place used for producing, mixing, compounding or baking for human consumption, bread, biscuit, pies or any other food products of which flour or meal is the principal ingredient." The regulations, however, do not apply to places where the food products in question are made for home consumption. All bakeshops will be inspected by the department of health before licenses are issued.

No Bad Odors Or Flies.

Disagreeable or obnoxious odors are prohibited.

Every bakery shall be kept free from flies and the doors and other openings shall, from April 1 to December 1, in each year, be fitted with self-closing wire screen doors and window screens.

The walls, floors, etc., of the bakeshops shall be kept perfectly clean.

Every bakeshop shall be provided with adequate plumbing and drainage facilities and well ventilated sanitary conveniences and other toilet arrangements.

No Cats Allowed.

Domestic animals, including cats, shall not be permitted in any bakery or place where flour or meal is stored.

Employees of bakeries shall be provided with suitable slippers or shoes and a suit of white, washable material.

Regarding the sale and delivery of bakeshop products, the ordinance says no person employed as a deliverer of any bakery products shall carry bread or kindred articles in his hands or on his arms unless said articles are wrapped in paper or other materials that will keep out dirt.

"All bread shall be delivered in baskets," the ordinance adds.

Heavy Rain Storm Swept Over Rivers

RIVERS, Man., Aug. 16—Farmers of this district will lose heavily as the result of a heavy rain storm which swept over here yesterday. The storm started about 4 p. m., the wind increasing to a velocity of 50 miles an hour. One house was over-turned, while several others were unroofed, sheds were blown down, fences smashed down, while the tops of a string of box cars were carried long distances. The grain for miles around is lying flat, and every garden has been completely destroyed. The loss will be heavy, the crop being the best in years, and the grain almost ripe enough for cutting, which was expected next week.

BENTON

Murchie's mill-crew is putting through the winter's cut quite rapidly they expect to finish by the last of August or first of September.

Our genial barber is giving his house a new foundation and making other improvements,

George Mills, sr. is building a new boat for fishing and hunting on the river, and McElroy & Sons are putting extensive repairs on their.

The members of the Mission Band of the United Baptist church, are preparing for a concert in the near future. Benton is noted for its concerts and this one bids fair to be up to the mark.

Miss Beu'a Brothers, late of the Provincial Normal School, will take charge of the school on Benton Ridge at the opening of the school term.

Thomas Purvis has purchased a house from Mr. McLeod Mills and is comfortably located.

Joseph McKinna's son, Benton Ridge is improving under the skillful treatment of Dr. Prescott of Woodstock.

F. B. Mills, Provincial Organizer of The Canadian Order Foresters spent a few days with his family, he left the 5th, to visit Lodges in Victoria Co.

The Golden Jubilee

The celebration of the Golden Jubilee of Fredericton's Exhibitions will feature the proceedings at the Big Fair this September and every effort is being made by the management to make the anniversary which marks the fiftieth year of the existence of Fredericton's Fairs, one long to be remembered. The event marks an epoch in the history of New Brunswick's Exhibition as it is the oldest and best established in the Province.

Several of Canada's most prominent men will figure the opening ceremonies. Bands representing many of the cities of New Brunswick and Maine have been engaged to participate in the week's festivities, and excursions are being arranged for almost every day of the Big Fair from all points by land and by water.

The complete success of the affair has already been assured. All the floor space in the main buildings has been taken up for some time and practically all the ground space has been granted for concessions representing such a large and unexcelled line of attractions and amusements as has never appeared before at any Exhibition in the province. The Midway will consist of twice the number of attractions seen at any previous show and a good many applications for space here have been refused. However, to cope with this shortage of space, all available grounds in the immediate vicinity of the Fair grounds have been secured and is being portioned off into concessions.

Three days racing will prove an attraction of great interest to lovers of that sport and a good field of entries is assured of.

THE DATES,—SEPT. 15—20.
