Frozen To Death At Petrovsk
Russia.

SARATOV, Russia, Dec. 31—Four teen persons have been frozen to death in a severe snowstorm in the Petrovsk District. Many others are missing.

BERNE, Switzerland, Dec. 31—An avalanche overwhelmed a skiing party yesterday, burying two of the party, an architect, named Glu, and a school teacher named Stucki, under a mountain of snow. Glu's wife and a local teacher caught a pine and saved themselves. A relief column has been despatched to the scene of the accident, but small hope is entertained of recovering the bodies before spring on account of the enormous amount of snow which has recently fallen.

WOODSTOCK SCHOOL OF MUSIC

The most successful Music School in Canada

THE WOODSTOCK SCHOOL OF MUSIC was started by Mrs. Adney simply as a Name under which the scope of work of the most successful teacher of music in this Province might be extended. We shall not here refer to the course of study offered, except in a passing way, but to those more personal matters which so far out-weigh all other considerations as to make the list of truly successful schools of any kind very few in number. It is altogether a matter of the TEACHER.

The secret of Mrs. Adney's widely known success is that resolved upon having the best instruction at any cost she had the wisdom to select or the good fortune to be directed to the BEST TEACHERS IN AMERICA, and has the faculty of imparting what they taught her. William Mason was our greatest teacher of Piano and admitted as the equal of the best of Europe. He was a pupil of the immortal Liszt. Her lessons, over an extended period, were cheap at six dollars apiece. Previously, she had instruction from Gonzalo Nunez, a distinguished graduate of the Paris Conservatory, where Prof. Le Coupey was Instructor on Piano. This world's greatest music school also perpetuates the musical theories of Liszt. These ideas lead to a technique in contrast with that of the dry, mechanical German technique. We criticize German execution, not German music. The influence, however, of this nation of musicians is such that their "method" is the one nearly everywhere met with. Combining Mason's "Touch & Technique" with the thus rarely taught "Conservatoire method," it is worthy of note that Mrs. Adney's steady use of "Le Coupey" has exhausted the American edition, and a new one is being printed for her use.

In Voice, Mrs. Adney was in a sense almost equally fortunate. After some instruction from a famous (th is to say, well advertised) teacher, whose method was not as great as his celebrity, nor his charges, she took lessons under Mr. A. A. Pattou, a distinguished French singer and teacher, who with the finest credentials that France had to offer, came to New York to make his debut where German influence controlled everything from orchestra members to press critics, and it being shortly after the Franco-Prussian war his reception was so hostile that he abandoned his intended career in Grand Opera, and retired to the routine work of a teacher. Later she studied at the N. Y. Vocal Institute, under the talented Mr. Tubbs, editor of The Vocalist, and derived many ideas that have proven of great value here. So it happened that, by accident or otherwise, Mrs. Adney acquired the method in singing of the great Garcia, and the almost equally famous Shakespeare—the only true method of voice production and that which has produced the great singers of Italian and French Opera.

When deciding to carry on her well known private work in Piano, Singing, Musical Theory, etc., under the name at the head of this section, it was with the idea of extending its scope as opportunity might offer. It perhaps did not occur that Woodstock could not maintain a Victoria Conservatory of Music, which during her three years after its establishment became an institution of such recognized importance in the music world of Canada, that a special publication entitled "Musical Toronto" gave her and her work extended space. Perhaps it was because one of her pupils, solely instructed by her, went to the Toronto College of Music and in the same year took the Gold Medal in Piano. Two other pupils sisters, one fifteen and one thirteen years of age, after studying with Mrs. Adney entered one of the foremost Conservatories in Europe and began immediately to play in public recitals. The head master writing to thei parents said "they have had the perfection of piano forte training and are artists already." Today her work has become so well recognized in the United States, that she has been invited to become a member of the International Musica Society, formed thirteen years ago by the very leading musical professors and patrons of the world, and only seeking membership of those identified with "advanced musical research and its results."

There is a point relating to "Diplomas," "Graduation," etc., upon which Mrs. Adney needs again to remind the public. Except for theoretical studies such as harmony, this School gives no "Diplomas," has no "Graduates."
In all practical, artistic work, the only test of proficiency recognized among artists is that of the actual work itself, except for the degree of Doctor of music, for which only the masters ever qualify, and which is recognition of exceptional proficiency and musical learning. For all others the only recognized test is ability to perform, from memory, to say, two recitals, a program of pieces of certain grades of difficulty, one of ordinary music, and one from the representative works of the great Masters. The program itself is the "certificate" and no teacher of high standing ever offers anything else; and whatever institutions hold forth as an inducement the prospect of a "Diploma" for a certain length of time in study, it may be taken as certain that the actual teacher is indifferent—any person whom the institution finds it convenient from time to time to employ. Even a school or institution becomes famous only through some exceptional TEACHER in it. An artist of real distinction offers only his program: no one asks or cares WHAT school he studied at, but who was his TEACHER. The aim of this school is not to grind out graduates with diplomas: we offer the best musical instruction, in our lines, that can be obtained in the Maritime Provinces, if not in Canada, and better than will be obtained by going to any but the few greater masters in the large cities of the United States.

Thus Woodstock offers advantages for musical study that one may go to any city in Canada, or to New York or London, and perchance not get. Mrs. Adney did not in the first instance select Woodstock as furnishing the fuscope for her exceptional talents as a teacher, but she has made it and the work done here by pupils who are now successful teachers in various parts of United States and Canada, a credit to Town and Province.

Harmony, History and Theory of Music taught in classes which are free to pupils of the school. Ensemble classes taught by Mrs. Adney are also free.

Little Change In Sir James Whitney

New York, Jan. 6.—At the Hotel Manhattan this morning it was said that Sir James Whitney had a fairly good night and slept well.

While those in attendance on Sir James Whitney this morning did not minimize the very serious condition the attack of cardiac trouble had placed him in, and while they admitted that with a man of his advanced age the worst was always to be expected, they were most hopeful.
Throughout the stages of the illness which finally laid him low in the Hotel Manhattan, the Prime Minister has put up a plucky fight, though amenable at all times to the advice of his medical attendants. Sir James was acquainted with the serious nature of the trouble affecting him, and knew early in its stages that this illness might be his last.

NOTICE

A DAILY THOUGHT.

"How can a man learn to know himself? By observation, never; but by action. Endeavor to do thy duty and thou shalt know what is within thee."

Gustave Hamel, for the first time in the history of aviation, Friday looped the loop in an aeroplane with a woman passenger at Hendon, Eng.

Details of his discovery of a germ which is believed to be the cause of scarlet fever were told to the Society of American Bacteriologists by Dr.
Newell S. Ferry of Detroit, at McGill, Montreal, on Friday.

KNEW HER BUSINESS

A weather beaten woman, dressed in new and stylish clothing, was marching up the street one Sunday morning when down came a sudden shower.
The woman had no umbrella, but quick as a flash she caught up her dress skirt and threw it over her hat.

"You'll get your ankles all wet, Maria," said her husband, who was coming along in the rear.
"Oh, never mind the ankles," called out the woman as she hurried along.
"I've had them the last sixty years and I only got the hat yesterday."

LORD NORTHCLIFFE IN POOR HEALTH

London, Jan. 3.—Lord Northcliffe has been suffering severely from weak eyes for some time and will go abroad. Several operations have been performed and he has suffered intensely. His health generally is bad.

According to gossip in Fleet Street, His Lordship has got rid of all his newspaper holdings, including the Daily Mirror, and the Daily Mail.
Other publications have been acquired by his brother, Sir Harold Harmsworth, who superintends the financial part of the Harmsworth publications.
It is believed that Lord Northcliffe will retain control only of the Times.

Announcement Of
J. P. Morgan & Co

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—J. P. Morgan & Co. to-day announced that they had severed their connection with some of the greatest corporations with which they have long been connected. This step, the firm announced, was taken voluntarily in response to an apparent change in public sentiment on account of some of the problems and interlocking directorates. Among the companies from which they retired are the New York Central and the New Haven Railroads.
