Heroism Rewarded

It will be remembered that on June 10th, 1913, Mr B Frank Smith, of East Florenceville, at the risk of his life, dove under a raft in the river and rescued a lad from drowning. The secretary of the Royal Humane Association, Mr C. A. P. Powis, after being put in possession of the facts, has forwarded a medal with the request that the award be presented in as suitable a manner as possible. The medal, which is of bronze, suitably engraved, with badge for bravery and ribbons, will be presented by Premier Fleming at East Florenceville in the presence of the child whom he rescued and its parents, at a date of which due notice will be given. We believe that this is the first medal to be presented in the province outside of St John for a similar act.

Centreville Exhibition

The two days annual exhibition at Centreville closed on Thursday night. It was one of the most successful held by the Wicklow, Wilmot & Kent Agricultural Society whose officers are C A Simonds of Royalton, president; A A H Margison, of East Centreville, secretary, and H J Clark of Centreville, treasurer. There were 1035 entries which exceeded by far the number last year. There was a very large attendance throughout particularly on the afternoon of the second day, some hundreds going by auto and team from Woodstock. The band from Mars Hill, Me, furnished delightful music for the occasion. In cattle there was a good showing of Ayrshires and Holsteins; in horses, the Clydes and Percherons prevailed, while in pigs, the White Chesters and Yorkshires were numerous. There was a great improvement in many departments, particularly in poultry and other live stock, especially swine, sheep and horses.

W H Moore of Scotch Lake, York Co, who was the judge for roots and vegetables, says the exhibits were very satisfactory. The object of exhibitions, he said, is to produce and exhibit roots and vegetables good for seed, which object was lost sight of by many of the exhibitors. He was pleased with the exhibit of oats and wheat, and there was a particularly nice showing of carrots; he thought there should have been more exhibits of honey.

The school exhibit in charge of Miss Fern Page was the contribution of eight schools, and was highly spoken of by the judges, Rev J W Hurlow and Dr H W Peppers.

The following were the judges in the different departments:—
Fruit—R P Gorham of Fredericton.
Manufactured Articles—J Hood of Glassville.
Woolen and Fancy Work—Mrs R P Gorham of Fredericton and Miss Ronald of Glassville.
Dairy Products—N W Everleigh of Sussex.

Horses—J F Frost and J T Prescott of Sussex.

Immediately after the exhibition closed J B Daggett, secretary for agriculture, and Seth Jones, poultry expert, and Amos Downey of Centreville, who has been appointed assistant to Mr Jones for the next three months, will establish a poultry fattening station at Centreville, of which Bert Cliff will be in charge; one was opened in Hartland Friday with Robert Kidney in charge. One each will be established by Messrs Jones and Downey, in Gagetown, Sussex, Moncton and Rogersville. Buildings will be rented in these places and fitted up with fattening crates; a weekly demonstration will be given in each place showing the best methods of fattening, dressing and packing poultry for foreign markets.

Verlie Thornton.

A very sad death occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Amos Thornton, Central Waterville, on Sept. 21st., when their only daughter, Verlie, aged fourteen years, passed peacefully away after a lingering illness of tuberculosis.

She leaves beside her father and mother, three brothers and an aged grandmother to mourn their loss. Much sympathy is felt for them in their sad bereavement, but we thank God that they do not sorrow even as others which have no hope for she passed away in the triumph of Faith. Funeral services were conducted by P. J. Quigg.

Supper was served after the ceremony. The dining room was beautifully decorated with autumn leaves. CENTREVILLE.

The Agricultural Exhibition was a grand success this year about four hundred and fifty dollars gate money was received. Exhibitors will secure from eight to nine hundred dollars in prizes. J. McDougal supplied the eatables and the way and manner in which it was done was better felt than told. Centreville has a wide reputation for the abundance of good things to satisfy the hungry when the ladies have the matter in hand.

The R. R. bridge is progressing slowly and the prospects of the train getting into the village by Nov. 1st is not bright but if cars can be loaded on the south side of the stream it will be a great convenience to the shippers.

The apple crop is much larger than expected in the early season but help is so scarce that all of the crop will not likely be secured

The forresters are making a grievous complaint over the action of the supreme court in assessing the policies of the 99 members. Ontario Courts are being stirred over the matter, but there seems to be little chance of any change for the better being made by the executive. Members here are leaving the order by the score.
