We are having very cold, windy weather, and some have not pulled their turnips yet and they are frozen hard, some have acres of potatoes frozen in the ground and if it had not been for the V. R. John A. Porter has bought a fine horse from Wm. McWaid.

Our roads are very rough, being cut so deeply by the heavy loads in the wet weather, hauling to the V. R. R.

The mayor read a communication from the Maine & New Brunswick Electrical Power Co., Ltd., whose power house is at Aroostook Falls in this province, stating their intention to install a modern electric light system in this town and asking what course they should pursue in the erecting of poles, etc.

The mayor stated that the matter should be referred to the solicitor to see what rights the company and town respectively had in the matter.

Moved by Coun. Dibblee, seconded by Coun. Lindsay and passed, that the matter be referred to the solicitor to report at Friday night's session.

Coun. Lindsay said that the fire committee had asked for and received three tenders for driver of the town team, viz: Ernest Shea, Herb S. Hamilton and Banford Niles.

Moved in amendment by Coun. Jones seconded by Coun. Gallagher, that the tender of Herb Hamilton be accepted.

The amendment was carried, four to two, Couns. Jones, Gallagher, Dibblee and Burden voting for it and Couns. Lindsay and Balmain against it.

The motion was defeated by the same vote reversed.

A committee from the Board of Trade was heard before the board in reference to the town taking a page advertisement in the proposed look on Canada to be issued by Sells, Ltd., London, England.

George E. Balmain—The gentleman representing Sells, Ltd., was in town for a few days and had a meeting with the council of the board of trade. This matter of advertising in the book was a good one in the way of publicity. This concern will publish a book for the whole of Canada, taking each province separately, and dividing it into sections. They gather the facts and publish nothing but the facts. Mr. Lewis, the representative of the firm, has 30 men working under him. They will give a whole lot of advertising in the book even if the town makes no investment, but it is reasonable to suppose that if the town does invest, Woodstock will be especially well featured and advertised as it has never been before. This publication will not interest laborers, and we are not in need of them. What we do want are farmers with money and those who have money to invest in manufactories, say in a furniture factory. It takes only a little capital to get an ad in the book and the whole proposition is a good one.

E. W. Mair—The council will remember that it agreed to give us $500 for publicity. We found that the advertising we had mapped out would take much money, and we have not yet taken any part of the town money, because we could not see just where we could get the money to finance the scheme. Now this proposition, endorsed by the board of trade, was a good one, and I trust the Council will see that it is a business proposition that is worth while.

W. S. Sutton—I was around with Mr. Lewis and the advertising scheme he proposed has impressed me very much. The book will sell for $51. It will be placed in all the public libraries, chambers of commerce, workmen's clubs, etc., in the world as a work of reference. The sum of $250 will pay for an advertisement in the book and a copy of the book. The firm will send their own photographers here for suitable pictures for the article on Woodstock, and the town will make no mistake by assisting in this movement for publicity.

The members of the board of trade then withdrew.

Coun. Dibblee—Each of the delegates who have just spoken has approved highly of the work now under way by Sells, Ltd. If we can only get one manufactory here as a result of the advertisement in the book it will be money well spent. Now is the time to work for new industries, and now is the time for enterprising capitalists to invest their money in Woodstock. Mr. Lewis said that St. John and Fredericton were known about in the old country by their publicity campaign but that Woodstock was practically unknown there.

Coun. Dibblee moved that the Council appropriate the sum of $250 for an advertisement in the book, $165 to be paid over when the contract is signed with the company, and the balance to be paid when the book is delivered.

Coun. Balmain—I second the motion. At the same time our finances are a little depleted. The appropriation of $500 was voted after the estimates had been made up, nevertheless we can finance it some way. The scheme is one of the best for publicity yet placed before the town. The book will be placed in public libraries the world over, and if one industry is attracted the money invested will return a hundred fold.

Coun. Jones—While I believe in advertising, I am not sure that I can vote for it at this time. When the town agreed last March to spend $500 for advertising, things then looked rosy. They do not look so good now, and the end of the year we will have a nice deficit at the bank. The scheme does not altogether appeal to me. The better way would be to take the money and have a good man go directly as a promoter, and try to get parties start industries here.

Moved by Coun. Jones, seconded by Coun. Lindsay, in amendment, that a committee from the Town Council meet a committee from the board of trade, talk the matter over, and report back on Friday night.

Mr. George Flemming, who was heard before the board, said that he was not there to ask the town to do something for him. His case was similar to others that had been passed upon by the council, and he thought the councillors understood the situation. He owned a house in Wellington ward, and the only way to keep the wash of the street from rushing into his building was to build a retaining wall. When he first approached the Council on the matter, if it had been grappled with, the work could have been completed by this time; now it is too late until next spring. He had built a stone wall under his building three years ago and the rush of water is already destroying the wall. The street gutters can be cleared out sufficiently to keep the water back and the wall can be built in the spring. The retaining wall will cost about $125. He would be willing to pay the bill in full, the town to give him credit for one half of the amount on his taxes.

Upon being appealed to by Coun. Burden, the mayor decided that inasmuch as the work could not be done until next year. The next Council should deal with the matter.

The Mayor said he had interviewed Premier Flemming relatives to the bill of the provincial hospital against the town. He had suggested to the Premier that the government accept $600, in payment. To this the premier would not consent but he would take off $300., making the amount $840., with the understanding that it be paid this year. The matter is outside our appropriation and we will have to issue an ordinary bond to cover it.
