JACKSONVILLE

Sept. 8th., 1913.

Ernest W. Harper accompanied by his bride of two months, returned to Prince Edward Island this morning after a pleasant visit with Mr. Harper's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Harper. While here the young couple were entertained by their many friends and carry with them the hearty good wishes of all. Mrs. Harper made many friends here, winning them by her gracious manner and pleasing personality. She was a music student at Mt. Allison and has an exceptionally sweet soprano voice.

has many friends in Wakefield Centre where she taught for seven terms with great success.
The people at Jacksonville are fortunate in securing a teacher so competent to train their young people.

A number of people met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fraser Burt on Thursday evening last to present their daughter, Miss Uarda with a remembrance before her departure for the West.
The gift was a handsome silver scallop dish and was received with great surprise and pleasure by Miss Burt, who was not at home when the people first began to gather. Many kind wishes were extended to the young lady who has many sincere friends, who regret her leaving their midst, but are ready to wish her all good things since she has such a fine position offered to her.

Heavy Frosts do Damage to Crops

Reports from different sections of the central portion of New Brunswick indicate considerable damage resulting from recent heavy frosts to the late crops.

Friday night the frost was more severe than on any previous occasion this season and was felt along the Nashwaak Valley and Oromocto, as well as in other districts. Just what effect the frosts will have in curtailing the crops it is yet too early to state.

The fruit crop throughout Canada will be unusually short this year, as a result of frosts in the spring and cold, wet and otherwise unfavorable weather in the blooming season. In Nova Scotia the crop will be from 40 to 50 per cent short; in New Brunswick the shortage will probably exceed 60 per cent, while in both Ontario and British Columbia not more than half a crop is expected.

Bridges

David Jackson, structural superintendent for the local government, has been doing good work in this county during the present summer. He has newly built and repaired over twenty bridges, ranging in cost from $50 to $1800. He is now at work on the new bridge at Jacksonville, which was estimated to cost $1800, but will cost something less than that amount. The bridge is made of concrete pipe and stone embankment fill, 150 feet long by 23 feet high. The job will be done by day's work and 600 cords of stone will be used. He has completed a new bridge at Victoria, concrete pipe and earth embankment fill, 100 feet long by 18 feet high, costing $500. He has started a bridge at Carlisle, costing $600, one span of 40 feet with stone filling. He has lumber on the ground for the Downey Creek bridge, and expects to complete the Boyd bridge in Simonds this fall.

Clinton Briggs, of Belleville, and Robert Hay left on Monday to continue their studies at Mount Allison.
