He was brought to the Fisher hospital by train, arriving here 2.30 a. m., Thursday. Hospital doctors think he has a chance of recovery.

Tennis.

A very successful tournament was held on Wednesday last on the courts of the Centreville Tennis Club, between Lindsay and Centreville Clubs, which resulted in a draw. The score being as follows. McKay-Burt 6-4-6-4. Rigby-Smith 4-6-5-7, Strong-McBride 6-4-6-3, Croasdale-Baldwin 1-6-6-2-6-3, Rigby-McKay-Baldwin-Smith 4-6-4-6, Croasdale-Strong-McBride-Burt 6-1-4-6-4-6. A dainty supper was served by the lady members of the Centreville Club, at the conclusion of the match, which was pronounced "por Excellence" by all and reflected great credit on and spoke volumes for the Culinary abilities of the young ladies of Centreville. But a word to the wise is sufficient. After supper the visitors were entertained at the Theatre, a very successful day was brought to a close with a dance and it was the wee small hours when the gathering broke up, all being very tired. A return match will be played on the Lindsay Courts at an early date.

Ready Made Farms

A W Hay, special commissioner of the New Brunswick Farm Settlement Board, arrived home Friday by auto after spending several days in York County. He reports that applications for properties under the ready-made farms policy are coming in more rapidly than it is possible to handle them. This week Mr Hay has arranged the transfer of the William A Flemming farm, near Debec, Carleton county, to Alfred P Hubbard, formerly of Philadelphia. Mr Hubbard came to Carleton county last spring, and has been residing on a rented farm. He was so pleased with his success that he decided to purchase the farm which he now owns and is near that which he has been occupying. He has made a specialty of raising early vegetables for the C P R hotel at McAdam Junction. On Friday Mr Hay closed a deal for the sale of what is known as Trail farm at Nackawick to a Mr Ferguson. This week Mr Hay will go to the North Shore to spend two weeks in that section of the province.
