CENTREVILLE

Rev. J. W. Williams of St. John was given a call by the United Baptist church of Centreville to its pastorate. He is a young man of pleasing manner earnest in his endeavour and a warm friend of the young.

The representatives of the Court of Forresters here to the High Court at Moncton report that Supreme Officers present at the High Court suggest a reduction of seven per cent of the indemnities of members of the order who joined before 1898 or that the rates be again increased. If there is a surplus fund of over twenty one millions it seems strange that the rates must again be increased unless some one is looking with covetous eyes toward that surplus.

Messrs Connors and Howard were in Centreville last week arranging business matters for the St. John and Quebec Railway Company.

Hon. J. K. Flemming and party spent a night in Centreville last week on their way up river.

Amos Downey has accepted a Government position and will accompany the party touring the up river counties.

Rev. Mr. Simonson has returned from a visit to his down river friends and is a most welcome visitor whenever he comes to Centreville.

Miss Irene Corey of North Woodstock New Hampshire, is visiting her grandparents Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Clark.

Mrs. Bessie Campbell and daughter Margariette are visiting friends in Boston and vicinity.

Our annual school meeting passed off very pleasantly, sixteen hundred dollars was voted for school purposes for ensuing year. Dr. H. W. Peppers was elected trustee. Some repairs was ordered to the school house and premises and a flag pole erected.

The rains of the past two weeks will largely increase the crops especially that of hay which will be well up to the average in this section.
