Sparkling Eyes
and Ruby Lips.The Birthright of Every Girl
With Rich Red Blood

The sad eye that goes with bloodlessness is a sure sign of misery and weakness. Anaemic—that is bloodless—girls and women have dull heavy eyes with dark lines underneath. The eyelid is pulled down, looks pale and bloodshot inside. This is not all. Anaemia works havoc all through the system; girls grow painfully weak and irritable; they are breathless and incapable of much exertion, while older women who are anaemic complain of being "never really well."

There is only one way to brighten, better health for pale, pining girls and women. That way is to invigorate the body with new blood—the rich, healthy blood that imparts strength, cleanses the system of all impurities, and restores the bright eyes and red lips of perfect health. Thousands of girls and women know that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People make this new, rich, red blood, and so restore health and strength more surely than any other medicine known. There would not be an anaemic woman or girl in the land if those suffering from this condition would give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial. That is why so many recommend these pills to their suffering sisters. Mrs. R. B. Keith, Steeves Settlement, N. B., says:—"At the age of 13 my daughter Sadie began to complain of constant headaches, and did not have her usual good appetite. I went to a doctor and got some medicine, but it did not help her, and finally she had to discontinue going to school. She seemed to be growing weaker every day and wanted to lie down all the time, and would continually complain of being tired. The doctor gave her another bottle of medicine, but with no better results. There was not a bit of color in her face or lips, and I was afraid she was going into a decline. A friend who was in to see her said 'if she was my child I would try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills,' and I decided I would take the advice. In a couple of weeks we could see a difference, as her eyes looked brighter, and she would try to eat a little. When she began the pills she could not dress herself alone, but little by little her strength came back until she could go for a walk. She continued the use of the Pills several months with the result that she was again strong and active. This was over two years ago, and she has been a strong, healthy girl ever since. We have since used the pills for other purposes and find them a good family medicine."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all medicine dealers, or will be sent by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by writing The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

A Wintery Wave
Before Christmas

Washington, D. C., Nov. 24.—Last bulletin gave forecasts of disturbance to cross continent Nov. 21 to 25, warm wave 20 to 24, cool wave 23 to 27. This disturbance will bring a great rise in temperatures, a period of unseasonable weather and weather extremes. Most precipitation will continue to be in northern sections of our northwestern mountains, in northwestern sections, and about the Gulf of Mexico. Our warnings of severe northern storms to occur first half of November proved fairly good but storms continued to be severe further east than we anticipated.

Next disturbance will reach Pacific coast about Nov. 26, cross Pacific slope by close of 27, great central valleys 28 to 30, eastern sections December 1. Warm wave will cross Pacific slope about Nov. 26, great central valleys 28 to 30, eastern sections 30. Cool wave will cross Pacific slope about Dec. 1, great central valleys 2 to 4, eastern sections 3 to 5.

The disturbance will continue the high temperatures but the fluctuations will be great, bringing some cold winter storms, while the average temperatures will be above normal.

The location of precipitation will continue to be about the same as for the past month; in northeastern sections, on Pacific slope, particularly in northern sections and about the Gulf of Mexico. The location of rainfall depends largely on the location of the fogs. These fogs for Nov. were located south of Greenland and Iceland, in the Bering Sea and immediately east and west of Central America.

The storms that cross the continent from west to east and those that move northeastward draw their moisture from the fogs. It is well known that the locations of the rising fogs frequently change. To forecast rainfall we must keep close after the locations of the fogs and we are learning more and more about this all the time.

This Nov. 27 to Dec 1 disturbance will be a dangerous storm in northern sections, particularly in northeastern and northwestern. Our success has been good in giving dates of these severe storms and we are making progress in locating them. When the warm wave strikes your section not far from Nov. 27 in the far west, and 29 in the middle sections and Dec. 1 in the eastern sections, you would better prepare for a bad winter storm. For this year these winter storms are inclined to play about certain centre in the northwestern Rockies, the northeastern Alleghenies and the Gulf of Mexico.

The great storms of Dec. will cluster around Dec. 1 to 5, Dec. 23 and Dec. 29 to Jan. 1. The coldest weather of Dec. will reach meridian 90°

WOODSTOCK SCHOOL OF MUSIC

The most successful Music School in Canada

THE WOODSTOCK SCHOOL OF MUSIC was started by Mrs. Adney simply as a Name under which the scope of work of the most successful teacher of music in this Province might be extended. We shall not here refer to the course of study offered, except in a passing way, but to those more personal matters which so far out-weigh all other considerations as to make the list of truly successful schools of any kind very few in number. It is altogether a matter of the TEACHER.

The secret of Mrs. Adney's widely known success is that resolved upon having the best instruction at any cost she had the wisdom to select or the good fortune to be directed to the BEST TEACHERS IN AMERICA, and has the faculty of imparting what they taught her. William Mason was our greatest teacher of Piano and admitted as the equal of the best of Europe. He was a pupil of the immortal Liszt. Her lessons, over an extended period, were cheap at six dollars apiece. Previously, she had instruction from Gonzalo Nunez, a distinguished graduate of the Paris Conservatory, where Prof. Le Couppey was Instructor on Piano. This world's greatest music school also perpetuates the musical theories of Liszt. These ideas lead to a technique in contrast with that of the dry, mechanical German technique. We criticize German execution, not German music. The influence, however, of this nation of musicians is such that their "method" is the one nearly everywhere met with. Combining Mason's "Touch&Technic" with the thus rarely taught "Conservatoire method," it is worthy of note that Mrs. Adney's steady use of "Le Couppey" has exhausted the American edition, and a new one is being printed for her use.

In Voice, Mrs. Adney was in a sense almost equally fortunate. After some instruction from a famous (that is to say, well advertised) teacher, whose method was not as great as his celebrity, nor his charges, she took lessons under Mr. A. A. Pattou, a distinguished French singer and teacher, who with the finest credentials that France had to offer, came to New York to make his debut where German influence controlled everything from orchestra members to press critics, and it being shortly after the Franco-Prussian war his reception was so hostile that he abandoned his intended career in Grand Opera, and retired to the routine work of a teacher. Later she studied at the N. Y. Vocal Institute, under the talented Mr. Tubbs, editor of The Vocalist, and derived many ideas that have proven of great value here. So it happened that, by accident or otherwise, Mrs. Adney acquired the method in singing of the great Garcia, and the almost equally famous Shakespeare—the only true method of voice production and that which has produced the great singers of Italian and French Opera.

When deciding to carry on her well known private work in Piano, Singing, Musical Theory, etc., under the name at the head of this section, it was with the idea of extending its scope as opportunity might offer. It perhaps did not occur that Woodstock could not maintain a Victoria Conservatory of Music, which during her three years after its establishment became an institution of such recognized importance in the music world of Canada, that a special publication entitled "Musical Toronto" gave her and her work extended space. Perhaps it was because one of her pupils, solely instructed by her, went to the Toronto College of Music and in the same year took the Gold Medal in Piano. Two other pupils sisters, one fifteen and one thirteen years of age, after studying with Mrs. Adney entered one of the foremost Conservatories in Europe and began immediately to play in public recitals. The head master writing to their parents said "they have had the perfection of piano forte training and are artists already." Today her work has become so well recognized in the United States, that she has been invited to become a member of the International Musical Society, formed thirteen years ago by the very leading musical professors and patrons of the world, and only seeking membership of those identified with "advanced musical research and its results."

There is a point relating to "Diplomas," "Graduation," etc., upon which Mrs. Adney needs again to remind the public. Except for theoretical studies such as harmony, this School gives no "Diplomas," has no "Graduates." In all practical, artistic work, the only test of proficiency recognized among artists is that of the actual work itself, except for the degree of Doctor of music, for which only the masters ever qualify, and which is recognition of exceptional proficiency and musical learning. For all others the only recognized test is ability to perform, from memory, to say, two recitals, a program of pieces of certain grades of difficulty, one of ordinary music, and one from the representative works of the great Masters. The program itself is the "certificate" and no teacher of high standing ever offers anything else; and whatever institutions hold forth as an inducement the prospect of a "Diploma" for a certain length of time in study, it may be taken as certain that the actual teacher is indifferent—any person whom the institution finds convenient from time to time to employ. Even a school or institution becomes famous only through some exceptional TEACHER in it. An artist of real distinction offers only his program: no one asks or cares WHAT school he studied at, but who was his TEACHER. The aim of this school is not to grind out graduates with diplomas: we offer the best musical instruction, in our lines, that can be obtained in the Maritime Provinces, if not in Canada, and better than will be obtained by going to any but the few greater masters in the large cities of the United States.

Thus Woodstock offers advantages for musical study that one may go to any city in Canada, or to New York or London, and perchance not get. Mrs. Adney did not in the first instance select Woodstock as furnishing the full scope for her exceptional talents as a teacher, but she has made it and the work done here by pupils who are now successful teachers in various parts of United States and Canada, a credit to Town and Province.

Harmony, History and Theory of Music taught in classes which are free to pupils of the school. Ensemble classes taught by Mrs. Adney are also free.

moving eastward not far from 3, 15, 23 and 29, and the highest temperatures not far from Dec. 1, 6, 12, 18, 26 and Jan. 2. Precipitation will be less than usual within 500 miles of Omaha and increasing outside of that circle, the greatest precipitation clustering around the Gulf of Mexico and the Caribbean Sea, around that section of which Vancouver, B. C., is a centre, and to a less extent, along lines connecting those centres.

It seems that the middle west, where winter wheat is an important product, is not promised a sufficient amount of moisture during the winter for best conditions of that crop.

No Change In Mexican Matters

Washington, Nov. 24.—President Wilson's belief that the Huerta government slowly is crumbling was reiterated to-day at the White House. Discussing the situation generally, the President pointed out that the local press in Mexico City could print uncontradicted, baseless statements as to the future intentions of the United States.

As evidence of the Huerta government to spread any impression it pleased through the Mexican press, the President referred, incidentally, to optimistic predictions during the last few days in Mexican newspapers that recognition of the Huerta government by the United States was forthcoming. The Washington government, it is known, is irrevocably determined under no circumstances to recognize Huerta.

There were no new developments to-day in the situation generally, according to White House officials, but added interest was developed in the President's forthcoming annual message which he will read to Congress, when it became known that among the subjects to be discussed will be included a statement giving the status of the Mexican situation. The President indicated that he would keep his message abreast of developments in Mexico so that his presentation of events would be up to the day of delivery.

Mr. Wilson expressed satisfaction to-day over the attitude of foreign governments, and indicated it was wholly friendly and showed a desire to co-operate with the United States wherever possible.

As to the conference between Sir William Tyrrell, private secretary to Sir Edward Grey, the British foreign secretary, and President Wilson last night, it was stated at the White House that the meeting was for "mutual information."
