Presentation to Arthur Glidden

Arthur A Glidden, a very popular young man, who was married on Wednesday to Miss Pearl Elizabeth Lindsay, was presented with a case of silverware and two oak chairs, mission style, at the Victoria Hotel, Tuesday evening, the gift of his numerous friends.

Premier Flemming, in making the presentation, first read the following address:—

To Arthur A Glidden:—

Your friends having heard of a change in your life and knowing the young lady whom you are making your wife, felt that they would like to tender you with an address and at the same time with a few mementoes of their appreciation of you, with good wishes for you and your wife, and wishing you every happiness in your new condition of life,

Sincerely your friends,

Among the telegrams of congratulation read by the premier was one from J C Berrie, of St John, formerly of Woodstock.

Premier Flemming, after reading the address, reminded Mr Glidden that if in the past he had not followed the path of rectitude, in future he must travel the straight way. He had the best wishes of all for a long and happy life. They hoped he would have much of sunshine and very little of shadow; but the latter comes to all; with a good helpmate, however, the shadows will soon pass away; he trusted that Mr and Mrs Glidden would enjoy rest and comfort in the chairs and that their lives would be just as bright and pure as the chest of silver.

Mr Glidden briefly replied, thanking his friends for their good wishes, after which short addresses were made by Donald Munro, M L A, George E Balmain, E K Connell, W P Lindow and others. Chief Kelly, who was in charge of the affair, was much pleased over the success of the function.

Presentation and Address

Miss Gertrude K Courtney, lately an experienced and popular young sales lady in the Manzer departmental establishment, and who resigned her position with a view to the taking of a course of hospital training, was surprised by the unexpected visit of members of the staff and other lady friends on last Thursday evening. The visiting party, heedless of a tempest of wind and rain, chose the occasion to present Miss Courtney with a valuable specimen of a lady's travelling satchel accompanied by an address which was as follows:—

Woodstock, N B, Oct 2nd, 1913.

Miss Gertrude K Courtney,—

We (the undersigned) have learned of your contemplated departure from the midst of many friends.

While we regret the separation, even temporarily, from one to whom we have long cherished the kindest of friendly relations, and as we ask of you to accept this slight token of our esteem and regard, we wish also to tender the assurance of our good wishes that the new field of action, which you now have chosen, will prove to you a successful and profitable one and yield the merits which follow a faithful, cheerful and dutiful administration to the needs of afflicted humanity.

Miss Courtney, a little embarrassed by the surprise replied briefly, but with her words of thanks, dwelt with earnestness upon the expressed kindly sentiments of regard as being mutual; the kindly motives prompting such a gift being appreciated and the occasion ever living in her memory.

J. Lewis Milmore

The death of "Lou" Milmore occurred at Edmonton, Alberta, on Wednesday, October 1st. He was well known and highly esteemed for his many excellent virtues, and will be greatly missed by his many friends.

Deceased was the son of J C Milmore of Woodstock and received his education in this town. After graduating from the High School, he studied law with Hon W P Jones for a couple of years and successfully passed the preliminary examinations.

Preferring newspaper work to law, he did some special writing for the local newspapers, and wishing to follow the profession in Boston, he went to that city. After working for the Messrs Raymond in their general stores, an opening was made for him on the Boston Post which he accepted and continued in that position for a few years. Returning home owing to the sickness of his mother, he played ball one summer with the local team, after which he accepted the position of editor and manager of the Victoria County News.

About a year ago his health beginning to fail he left for the milder climate in the Canadian West. He was employed as clerk in railway construction work, but not feeling well he entered the hospital in Edmonton a few months ago where he remained until his death. He was an all-round athlete and was the best baseball pitcher turned out by the town. As a newspaper man when in the employ of the Boston Post he was considered one of its best reporters.

The deceased, who was 28 years of age, is survived by his father, two brothers, T Emmett Milmore, editor of a paper in Murray County, Georgia, and Augustus, of Boston, and two sisters, Misses Mary and Frances Milmore, of the teaching staff of the town schools. The remains will probably arrive here next Thursday for interment, and the funeral will be held from St Gertrude's church on Friday morning.

Burt-McCallum

The residence of Mr. Alonzo McCallum, Dominion Street, was the scene of brightness and joy on Tuesday evening, September 30, when his daughter, Myrtle E., was joined in marriage to Ernest H. Burt of Woodstock, N. B.

The drawing-room was artistically decorated with palm, ferns and marguerittes, the colors being green and white. Many of the friends of the contracting parties had assembled to share the festivities and manifest their deep interest in their welfare.

At 8.30 p. m. the silence was broken by the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March, played by Mr. Stafford McKenzie, and the bride appeared leaning on the arm of her father. She was charmingly gowned in white silk; wearing a gold necklace, to which was attached a sun-burst of pearls—the gift of the groom.

The marriage service was celebrated by Rev. J. Strothard, pastor of Pleasant Street Methodist church, of which church the bride is a highly esteemed member.

After the ceremony dainty refreshments were served.

The bride was the recipient of many beautiful and useful presents.

Her travelling-costume was of tan cloth with hat to match.

A large number of friends accompanied the happy couple to the station, where they took the 10.55 p. m. train for St. John, N. B., followed by the best wishes of many friends for a prosperous and happy life.

Mr. and Mrs. Burt will take up their residence in Woodstock, N. B.

Truro Daily News.

Miles-Smith

A very pretty wedding took place in St. Luke's church on Wednesday afternoon Oct. 1st at 3.30 o'clock when Miss Mary Marguerite Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Duppa Smith was united in marriage with Mr. Edmund Lancelot Miles, of Calgary, Alta. The church was beautifully decorated for occasion with cut flowers and autumn leaves. The bride entered the church with her father, who gave her in marriage. She wore her travelling suit of navy blue serge with black picture hat and carried a shower bouquet of white roses. Her sister, Miss Maude Smith, was her bridesmaid. She wore a gown of brown velvet trimmed with lace and fur and brown velvet hat with tango plume and carried a bouquet of crimson roses. Mr. John Haddon, of Winnipeg, was the groomsman. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. A. S. Hazel.

As the bridal party entered the church, the choir sang "The Voice That Breathed O'er Eden," and during the ceremony the Hymn "O Perfect Love," was sung. As they were leaving the church, the Wedding March was played by the organist, Miss Fannie Raymond. After the ceremony a reception was held at the residence of the bride's parents. The house was beautifully decorated with pink and white asters. The groom's gift to the bride was a gold bracelet set with emeralds and pearls, to the bridesmaid a silver card case and the groomsman a silver cigarette case. The ushers, Mr. Frank Woolverton and Mr. Geo. Dibblee, received gold cuff buttons. The bride received many beautiful presents of silver, cut glass and china. Among the gifts was a chest of silver from the groomsman.

Cried Night and Day

Mrs. Adelaide Oullette, St. Bruno, Que., says: "My little boy cried night and day from stomach trouble and nothing seemed to help him till I got a box of Baby's Own Tablets. They soon made him well and happy again. I have also found them valuable at teething time." Thousands of mothers have the same praise to offer not only for stomach trouble and teething troubles but for all the minor ills of little ones. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Harold Ferguson and Gorden Baily, of the Royal Bank staff, left last week to spend their vacation in Boston.
