Musical

Mr. B. C. Harvey entertained at a delightful soiree musicale on Saturday May 15, at his studio on Colby avenue in compliment to Miss Mabel Schuchart, whose marriage to Mr. George H. Nordgard will take place next week. Mr. Harvey presented several of his advanced pupils in a program which included numbers recently brought from Europe and new to an Everett audience. The young ladies presented were Miss Elizabeth Smith, Miss Dora Andrews, Miss Anna Martell and Miss Sophia Aalbu. Miss Corinne Bartholomew, soprano, assisted with three delightful solos, sung with rare appeal and sweetness, which were: "But Why," Logan; "Thy Sweet Voice," Cara-Roma and "Mother O' Mine," Cara Roma. Little Miss Sophia Aalbu was undoubtedly the most remarkable pianist presented, for with but six months of study she played in a finished manner "Norwegian Bridal Procession," Grieg, and "Dance Ecossaise," by Baker. Miss Smith particularly pleased in her numbers, "Polichinelle," by Rachmaninoff; "Clair de Lune," De Bussy and "Romance," by Sibelius, although her entire group was well executed and greatly enjoyed. Miss Andrews displayed excellent technique and interpretation, especially well performed was the "Etude" by Backer Grondahl and Liszt's "Hungarian Rhapsodie No 12." Her other numbers Etude op. 25, No. 1, Chopin and Lucia Adante and Finale for the Left Hand, Leschetizke were well received. Miss Anna Martell, who has often appeared on musical programs in Snohomish, played with a poise and finish that proved "delightful," her numbers which were "March Wind," McDowell, "Wedding Day," Grieg, and "Romance," Grunfeld. Her future appearances in this city will be looked forward to with pleasure.

About sixty friends of the guest of honor and the young ladies presented attended, the rooms being effectively decorated with bows and baskets of roses, pink predominating. At the close of the program refreshments were served. Mr. Harvey's mother, Mrs. J. H. Harvey, presiding at the tea table, which was centered with delicate pink carnations and feathery ferns. Assisting in the serving were Miss Alice Harvey, Miss Edith Paschke and Miss Nellie Lee.—Everett, Wash., paper.

"The Glittering Lure" is the title given by Bonnycastle Dale to a story of before-the-season fishing in the opening pages of June Rod and Gun which is published at Woodstock, Ont. but W. J. Taylor, Limited.

"Honest Weight" is an amusing tale of two rival fishermen as related by one of the French Canadian guides who accompanied them on their outing after "de boeg wan."

"Three Swedes there were" is also a humorous story relating the experiences of a "vulgar, rambling trio" showing how everything turns to ashes to those without a purpose. "Sport in and around the Rocky Mountains"

"Carefree Days in Newfoundland," etc. and the regular departments which latter are full of interest to the fisherman and gunner, make up a very interesting early summer issue!

Recruiting Meeting in Woodstock.

The public meeting held in the theatre Thursday evening should help a lot toward getting recruits for the 55th Battalion. It was a most enthusiastic gathering and the principal object was to impress upon all that the time had arrived in the affairs of the Dominion and the Empire when our people cannot afford to ignore this plea for help, particularly as the commanding officer of the 55th is a native of this county.

Before the meeting the Band gave a concert near the theatre, and selections during the meeting, which pleased all, but some fault was found that the band boys did not appear in uniform.

Between speeches little Miss Rowena Ketchum, daughter of Mr and Mrs. T. C. L. Ketchum, in uniform, recited Tommy Atkins, which drew forth well merited applause.

The speakers were Fred C. Squires, Robert Newton and Rev. Dr. MacDonald. Besides the speakers, Mayor Sutton, Col. F. H. J. Dibblee, and Lieut. W. H. A. Hamilton occupied seats on the platform.

MAYOR SUTTON.

His Worship said that he had called this meeting at the request of Colonel Kirkpatrick, officer commanding the 55th Batt., who expected to be here, but was called to his duties in Sussex. Its purpose was known to all, to get recruits to fill the gap in the 55th Battalion, made by transfers to other regiments. Among the speakers this evening would be Dr. McDonald, chaplain of the 26th Batt., one of the leading speakers in N. B., who has a son with the first contingent.

FRED C. SQUIRES.

Mr. Squires, who was greeted with great applause, spoke largely from an historical standpoint to show the greatness of the British Empire, the British soldiers and their descendants. All knew the mighty power of the British Empire. No nation is quite so glorious as Great Britain. It stands for mighty ideals. Germany has raised its mailed hand to strike against the standard bearer of righteousness. Britain has bound her colonies in love, loyalty and friendship, which the blood and iron policy of Germany could not destroy. The German war machine was a product of the German Empire. She argued that Britain having no military machine could be easily defeated. British freedom could not be crushed, while there are 3,000,000 men that can be put in the field—men unaccustomed to defeat on the plains of war. Any man who signs his name to the roll of honor tonight reaches a very high position, as he is strengthening the mightiest Empire the world has ever known.

ROBERT NEWTON.

Mr. Newton said that some months ago he gladly raised his voice at public meetings and appealed to the farmers in the interest of greater production of food stuffs. He told them that all should do their part, which was good advice. A nobler service, however, could be given the Empire. The one place of supreme importance now is at the front on the firing line. He was afraid that it was true that many thousands of the Canadian people were not engaged in producing food stuff and they were not at the front. There was an inglorious part, getting somebody to do their work at the front. It cannot be that the cause is not a just cause; it cannot be that such Canadians are not men. The fact is we are not represented according to population. There are two reasons: We do not realize that this is our war, or we do not realize the seriousness of the situation. We are fighting for our lives. If Germany wins she will develop her military power and rule the world. Britain has fostered our country and a sense of honor and patriotism should spur us on to do our duty.

REV. DR. MACDONALD.

Rev. Dr. MacDonald made a rousing speech on "why we are going to win out in this war." There were at least four reasons: First, because we are fighting for the cause of righteousness; second, by the strength of the British Empire; third, by the power of the colonies, and fourth because both Empire and colonies will do their share for victory. A special appeal should be made to the wives and mothers to give their consent to the enlistment of husbands and sons. Speaking of his own case, when the war broke out it found that both he and his son had worn the King's uniform; both wanted to go, but the boy got away first. Although it was not an easy thing to leave his mother, the boy said to her: "Mother, you did let me go to London at the time of the King's coronation, the time of his happiness, and you cannot refuse to let me go to him in the time of his trouble." Needless to say the mother consented. Some time afterwards, seeing that he also was anxious to get away, his wife said: "If you feel so keenly over the matter, get in your application as chaplain and I will put nothing in your way." We have not done our duty, said the speaker, although we have done a great deal. Every man physically fit should settle with himself whether he could do more by remaining at home or going to the front.

Before concluding the meeting by the National Anthem, the following young men stepped on the platform, signed the service roll in charge of Lieut. W. H. A. Hamilton and were sworn in by Magistrate A. D. Holyoke: James Lynett and John Danker, both of Woodstock; Earl W. Corey and Claire Corey of Centreville; George Murphy of West Glassville; Edward Barrett of Tracey Mills; J. A.
