

EVEN THE VIENNA ROLL MUST HAVE A NEW NAME

Rome, July 13.—The Vienna roll excumbered to the feeding of the Italian people against all things with Austrian names. Hereafter that particular article of food will be known "the Trieste roll."

Trying to Escape Perjury Charge

New York, July 12.—Gustav Stahl, who swore that he saw four guns mounted aboard the Lusitania the day before she sailed on her last voyage, and who is a German reservist, withdrew his plea of "not guilty" to the indictment charging him with perjury and substituted three pleas in abatement. Argument on the pleas will be heard at a later date. The alleged illegal present of a stenographer in the grand jury room when he testified, the failure of the Government to swear an interpreter as such but only as a witness, and a question as to the proper qualifications of one of the grand jurors were the technical points embraced in the new pleas.

Nervous Children

Hard Study and Too Little Exercise Leads to St. Vitus Dance

There is much criticism of modern educational methods that require too much work of school children, allowing them too little time for play and preventing sufficient out-of-door exercise. When the study of music or any other accomplishment, with the necessary practice, is added the strain is increased. Under these conditions the blood becomes impoverished and fails to nourish the nerves. The child becomes restless and twitching of the muscles follow. Sometimes the child stumbles in walking and drops what it tries to hold. Pallor, listlessness and irritability are symptoms that early show that the blood and nerves are failing to meet the demands made upon them, and that St. Vitus dance has fastened its hold upon the child.

In this condition there is no tonic, but equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which build up the blood, strengthen the nerves and safely help to meet the demands of the growing child. Out-of-door exercise, nutritious food, plenty of sleep with these pills will cure even the most severe cases of St. Vitus dance. We offer the following proof: "Up to the age of ten years," says Mrs. Johnson, of Hemford, N. S., "my son Calvin was as healthy and rugged as any child could be. Then he began to complain that his eyes hurt him, and of pains in the head, and began to fall back in his studies at school. Then I noticed a twitching of the muscles of his face and arms, and later his whole body seemed to be in constant motion. Our family physician was called in and pronounced the trouble a severe attack of St. Vitus dance. He was under the doctor's treatment for some three months but did not seem to improve. We had taken him from school, and were careful that nothing should excite him but notwithstanding he grew worse, and the least start would bring on attacks of hysteria. This went on for some months until Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were brought to my attention, and we decided to give him this medicine. After using a few boxes there was a noticeable improvement, and by the time he had taken nine or ten boxes he had recovered his former good health. There has been no sign of a return of the trouble, and I can scarcely say how thankful we feel for the complete restoration of our son's health."

Parents who find their growing boys or girls becoming nervous should lose no time in giving them Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. You may ward off an attack of St. Vitus dance, or if the trouble has reached that stage the Pills will effect a cure. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Looking Matters In The Face

to let the sons go—the sons who have made the name of Canada glorious, and by whose efforts a real and lasting peace will some day come about. At least a mother will have no reason to blush for her boy.

All sorts of excuses are made. One may be, the wrong party is in power in Canada. It is a tory government, let the tories do the fighting. Well, it was a liberal government on whose action the British people consented to the war—so, there is quits. English tories rallied around the English liberal government and leading men on the opposition benches offered their services in any capacity to the government. The same was here in Canada. At the war parliament in August the last, opposition came to the support of Mr. Borden. It is hard in Woodstock or Carleton county to make the people believe that there is anything quite so important as politics. Fortunately the rest of Canada is not like us in this. If your house is burning you don't ask the fireman as he is handling the hose if he is grit or tory. To be sure we must have our parties—although the differences are more imaginary than real and are kept alive by the wily politicians on both sides—and here in is the real danger to democracy—but these differences are not as great as between the Germans and the allies. If the Germans win there will be no more fun of grit and tory, no more jolly elections, no more heated arguments, no more talks of how the other fellow was worked. Oh, no the Kaiser will not permit this. And the Kaiser is not by a long way out of the running yet.

So much for the political side of it. A Liberal English Government—the most characteristically liberal government in the history of England, were the advisers of the King when this great Empire became involved in the war. So that should satisfy the liberal who has political doubts. Then, to square the matter up, a Conservative government in Canada, heartily backed the liberal government in England in its attitude. So that makes it all right for the tory. Where can you get anything more balanced than that?

As to the position of this commonwealth which we call the British Empire. It is being tested to the very bone. We have always thought that the nation which had the most popular form of government must be the strongest, although we did not so judge by reading our Aristotle very closely. Germany with an autocratic government is showing herself the strongest single nation on the earth today, the most scientific and economically the most advanced. We must give the devil his due. The United States always considered the antithesis of autocracy—the champion of democracy, is perilously near to finding out, that it does not know where it stands. It cannot act quickly, and a nation, in the business of war, that cannot act quickly is likely to be beaten. Germany an autocratic government could act in a moment through the Kaiser, and as a result is today in possession of Belgium and a big slice of France. There is watching this mighty contest a host of easterners, Japan, half in the fight, is going to govern her future largely on the outcome. China's absolute future depends on the outcome. If Germany wins, and the war with one year gone is at stalemate, democracy as exemplified in the British commonwealths and the American republic will be proved a failure. Germany's form of government will triumph. Now, while we love to talk about the people ruling and the glories of self government, and to shriek of freedom, the day of palaver is over. Germany is reteaching the world a lesson she has not learned since the days of the Caesars or at least since Napoleonic days.

No one can sit idly by indifferent to the tragical play now on the world's stage. Never before in this enlightened age, has popular government been flouted, and its weakness exposed as today.

Whether this is to be the end of wars or the beginning of wars, no one can tell.

What we do know, is that Monroism is dead to all intents and purposes. We cannot live on this continent, and let the rest of the world wag on its way as best it can. China tried to do that. We must needs bear our share of the white man's burden.

Real patriots are sadly needed—party men are at a discount. Whether the man feels that his duty is at home or at the front, he cannot get rid of his share in this awful strife, just beginning. Popular government is at stake—let this be burned into the minds of every sane man. United we stand—Divided we fall.

BECKER MUST DIE.

Rangelev, Me., July 10.—Justice C. E. Hughes has refused the application for a writ of error in the U. S., Supreme Court made by counsel for Charles Becker of New York.

England is now Well Organized

London, July 9.—Albert Thomas the French secretary of war, who has been visiting David Lloyd-George, on the eve of his return, to Paris, testified in a statement to the press his belief that England is now so organized that it will be able to furnish an unlimited supply of munitions in any of the Allies' causes.

A Fatal Automobile Accident
A. Andover

On Friday evening last, Miss Geneva Johnston was backing an automobile containing beside herself, Patrick Hefferman owner of the car, out of the yard at her father's house, when by some miscalculation the car was backed over the steep bank. The car turned over, and crushed Miss Johnston to instant death against the trunk of a tree at the bottom of the bank. It was a first thought that Mr. Hefferman had been so seriously injured that he could not recover, but at the present writing he is improving, and it is expected that he will soon be alright.

The news of the accident spread rapidly and hundreds of people gathered at the Johnston home in hopes to disprove the news, and on finding it true stayed to offer sympathy and help to the stricken relatives. Miss Johnston was 21 years of age and had been employed by the Wade Drug Company as clerk for about 4 years. She was well known throughout the community and held the esteem and respect of all who knew her. The funeral was held on Sunday afternoon and the village of Andover was crowded with teams and automobiles, filled with those who wished to pay their last mark of respect to Miss Johnston's memory.

The service was conducted by the Rev. J. R. Hopkins, and held in Trinity Church, Andover, of which the dead girl had been a faithful and consistent member. The service was impressive and was listened to closely by the multitude which filled the church. The tribute paid to Miss Johnston's memory by the Rev. Mr. Hopkins was a splendid one and could only be equaled by the mute and unspoken tribute seen in the bowed heads of the multitude that stood by the open grave.

The pall bearers were members of the firm of the Wade Drug Co., and their employees. The funeral cortege was the largest ever seen in Andover.

The Father has the sympathy of all who know him in his hour of trial.

One of the pressing needs of the great military camp at Valcartier is the establishment of some place for the amusement of the boys when off duty. Of course, the Government supplies them with everything to eat and wear, but it does not provide recreation rooms. When drill is over, on rainy days and dark nights, there is no place for the boys to go except to their tents.

The Khaki League of Montreal was formed last winter for the purpose of establishing recreation rooms for the soldiers mobilizing for the front and for caring for the sick and wounded during the period of convalescence.

The Patron H. R. H. the Duke of Connaught, on a recent visit to Montreal made a careful personal inspection of the work of the League and opened its first convalescent home.

Three club rooms were opened in Montreal and proved very successful in contributing to the material well being of the men, by giving them comfortable quarters where they could obtain light refreshments in the way of coffee, tea, sandwiches, cake etc., play games, read and the latest papers and magazines, write letters and meet their brother soldiers.

The rooms were continually filled and that they were much appreciated by the men, is proved by the numerous letters of thanks received by the secretary and members of the committees.

Club rooms on similar lines have been established in Ottawa and Quebec by committees of the citizens of those places, which have proved to be equally successful.

The Montreal League are now undertaking to establish a branch at Valcartier Camp. This is at the particular request of the Camp Commandant, Col. Hughes.

It has been suggested that, as a great number of Maritime Province men are in training at Valcartier, the people of Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island would like to help in this work.

Perhaps you, who are now reading of the work of this excellent organization, have a son or brother or friend there? You can help to give him many pleasant hours of recreation by subscribing to the League.

The men do not receive this as a charity or anything of that sort. The funds, raised by the League, all go into equipment, providing rooms and furniture. For the refreshments the men pay bare cost. There are no salaries for supervision or to any of the officers.

Many subscriptions of one dollar have been received, as one dollar constitutes a membership in the League. A subscription of fifty dollars or over enrolls a foundation member. The members of the Quebec committee of management are Mrs. Lorenza Evans and Mrs. J. C. McLimont.

It is hoped that a generous response to this appeal may be forthcoming, as of necessity there will be a heavy expenditure required to open the rooms at Valcartier which are bound to be of great assistance and benefit to our soldiers.

Subscriptions should be sent to the Secretary, Mr. Austin Stead, 80 St. Francis Xavier Street, Montreal.

Harry Lutz

Harry Lutz, a very popular young man, a native of Woodstock, youngest son of Robert Lutz, now of Debec, died on Tuesday, after a brief illness from pneumonia, aged 22 years. He is survived by his parents, one brother, Elmer, of Houston, and one sister, Mrs. Thomas Golding, of Speersville, N. B.

The funeral took place the following Thursday and was very largely attended. The interment took place in the Baptist churchyard, McKenzie Corner. Revs. Messrs. Miller and Worden officiated. The pall bearers were: Fred Forrest, Robert Forrest, Clayton Ackerson, John Glanville, Edward and Thomas McDade.

William Forsythe.

The following obituary notice is from the Skowhegan, Maine, Independent R. porter:—

William Forsythe, aged 78 years, passed away Monday afternoon, June 28th, 1915, in the old home, St. Albans, where he had resided for probably 50 years. He was born and raised in Greenfield, Carleton county, where relatives reside at present.

His wife, who is no longer living, was formerly Miss Frances Steward, the daughter of Asa Steward, and there are two surviving daughters, Mrs. Lillian Young, who lived with him, and Mrs. Rose Mitchell of Skowhegan.

Miss Gertrude Fewer, daughter of Walter Fewer of Farmerston, who was successfully operated upon for appendicitis at the Fisher Memorial Hospital by Dr. T. W. Griffin, is now at her home and rapidly recovering.

John F. McBride of Wakefield Center has returned from a recent visit to Boston. He accompanied his son, Donald, to that city who is successfully undergoing medical treatment by a specialist. Mr. McBride's sister, Miss McBride will return with master Donald in August.
