Geneva, Aug. 2.—The Tribune prints the following despatch from its Brussels correspondent: The capture of Lublin cost General Woyrsch 70,000 men in killed, wounded and prisoners. Four miles north of Lublin the Russians are fighting fiercely, disputing every foot of ground, while covering their retreat. "An advance of seven miles with seven army corps, Field Marshal Von Mackensen lost 35,000 men. "The Russians, who attacked south of Pozasnyz, killed 5,000, wounded 8,000 and took 1,300 of the eight German army corps." London, Aug. 2.—It is impossible to state exactly what is happening on the eastern front, as obscurity is the most pressing need of the Russian army says the Petrograd correspondent of the Daily Mail, in regrouping and shifting its positions. This re-arrangement of forces is in the hands of General Yanuhovitch, chief of Grand Duke Nicholas's staff. The capture of Warsaw has not yet been accomplished, according to the Telegraph, and the deliberate Russian withdrawal is an encouraging feature of the situation. "The Russians have not yet been defeated, or anything like it," says the Chronicle, which adds that the Russians are inflicting fearful loss on the attacking Germans. Petrograd, via London, Aug. 2.—The military critic of the Rech, in describing the recent campaign, says: "First came the battle of the Lublin front, then a period of calm; after that our troops proceeded to the new positions assigned them. It is evident that the evacuation was followed by the complete denudation of everything that might assist the enemy. "Precisely so will be the abandonment of other points, whose evacuation may be required by our military plans. It will be equally gradual and

Our armies, executing the required manoeuvre at the same time, will take steps to guard it against interference by the enemy. "In Warsaw region the enemy is meeting will steady opposition from our rearguard. At Piaseczno and Gorzalwarys and finally at Blonie our armies beat off the enemy's efforts to enter Warsaw. This means that the hour has not come for the supreme command of our armies to leave the Vistula line. That hour will strike only when extreme necessity is joined with the general strategic situation." British Destroy Many Submarines Boston, July 30.—A member of a banking house who has returned from several weeks in England, says: "England has reached the point of determination where it is bound to see this war through to its conclusion. There is no talk nor thought of peace in England, and will be none until the Teutons are thoroughly humbled. England is so determined that she is prepared to go it alone if necessary. But of this there is no likelihood despite the constant defeats of the Russians. "England has now planted its submarines in the Baltic. They have already bagged one German battleship that we know about. Their presence has had the effect of bottling the German navy up still tighter. "The British have destroyed far more German submarines than has ever been told about. The total runs into very sizable figures, which it is probably not well to have known just at this juncture. The British record against German submarines will be told some day. At present it constitutes one of the unknown, but in reality one of the most splendid phases of Britain's naval power. "There is only one nation in Europe which is today wobbling at all towards the German side. This is Sweden. Sweden is not anti British nor anti-French but is intensely anti-Russian, and the Russian defeats are something of a temptation to Sweden. Were it not that Sweden is so dependent upon England for coal and food-stuff, I would not be surprised to see her join the Teutons. But she hesitates to jump into the fray with the problem of food supply so unsettled. Of course what Sweden wants is to get back Finland, and this Germany is undoubtedly using as a bait to tempt the Swedes. The English know that very large quantities of supplies are being smuggled into Germany through Sweden, and that the Swedish Government is wink- ing at a good many things. "There is ground for the belief that between England and France stretches a great steel net running down 200 feet in some places. This is held taut by trawlers, and is patrolled constantly by destroyers. The net is electrified and connected with floating electric lights on the surface so that when a German submarine touches the net notice is flashed to be waiting torpedo boat destroyers. In this way many a German submarine has come to its end. I am also told that the same kind of a net is being stretched between England and Ireland. "The real situation in the Dardanelles is more favorable to the Allies than the public supposes. For three weeks the British war department has expected the Turks to crack. They are definitely known to be short of ammunition. It is believed that August will see such a famine on the Turkish side that the end will be in sight. The Allied fleet is understood to be returning from its hiding, the German submarines all being accounted for. The fleet will be of vast assistance in helping the land forces. "The British navy is praying that the German ships will come out of Kiel for a fight. There is a chance that as Germany's submarines approach the vanishing-point her navy will make a desperate attempt to give battle. Then things may begin to happen that will shake the seas." Germans Poisoned Water Supplies London, July 30.—(Toronto Globe) —The Press Bureau publishes a facsimile of an interpreted message alleged to have been sent by a German captain named Kruger to Pforte, an outpost in German Southwest Africa. The translation follows: "The patrol at Gabit has been instructed, so far as possible, to contaminate the Ida Mine. Observe extreme caution in entering Swakop and at the Ida Mine. Don't water there." The Bureau comments that the facsimile furnishes proof that the Germans practised contamination of the water supplies. VERDI'S MONUMENT DESTROYED AT TRIESTE. Rome, July 30.—An uncensored despatch from Trieste says that over 300 houses and villas there have been looted and wrecked. Verdi's monument and other works of art have been destroyed. The city is practically empty. A majority of the Italian inhabitants have been arrested and interned.
