Household Suggestions

PASTE MADE AT HOME.

An inexpensive paste is made of one small potato grated fine. Add boiling water enough to make it clear, and boil five minutes; this is much better than flour or cornstarch paste for all kinds of pasting.

WASHING GLASSWARE.

When you wash your pieces of glassware next time, try dropping a few drops of bluing in the soap-suds. The clear look this simple yet most effective treatment gives, and the way the pieces sparkle, will be a revelation to you.

TO LAUNDRY FINE CURTAINS

In doing up fine curtains, the weight alone of the heavy work often tears the curtain. Fry the professional cleaners' method on small pieces. Take cheese cloth that has been shrunk, or old sheets sewed together, on which carefully baste the curtains. Wash, starch, and iron in the usual way. When the bastings have been drawn out, the curtains will be as even as when new, with very little wear on them. It saves old curtains for another season's use.

TO KILL CABBAGE WORMS.

Here is a remedy for cabbage worms that is worth trying: Sprinkle dry wheat flour over the heart of the cabbage early in the morning while the dew is on. The flour sticks like glue and kills the worms. The good lady who sent this in says has tried it herself and found it successful.

TO MEND LINOLEUM.

Cut a rectangular piece of linoleum a little larger than the worn place by taking a ruler or yard stick and cut edges straight with point of sharp knife. Lay this flat over the worn place and cut carefully just the size of the new piece. Take out old piece and place in the new one, tack down edges and you will have a neatly mended linoleum that will be scarcely noticeable.

Genuinely Dressed Beef

We learn from the San Francisco Chronicle that Sir Francis Webster is a wealthy manufacturer of hemp goods in Scotland, and the owner of a stock range in Texas, on which thousands of cattle range, clad during the winter at least, in garments other than their own hide and hair.

Sir Francis's cows wear suits of hemp cloth, made in his own factory, to protect them from the cold and snow, make them less susceptible to tuberculosis, and increase their daily yield of milk.

Each cow has two suits a week. They are not elaborate affairs, by any means—simply cover all blankets that fit loosely. There are a thousand cows in his dairy farm, and they use two thousand hemp blankets a week.

That of course means added expense, but the yield of milk during the cold weather is claimed to be about twenty-seven per cent. larger than from cows not thus protected.

Found Many Dead Germans

Paris, Sept. 22.—French patrols approached the edge of Combles, on the Somme front, last night. The official statement issued here this afternoon says they found a great many dead Germans on the field and took a few prisoners. South of the Somme there is active artillery fighting.

London, Sept. 23.—Col. Repington, the military critic, sees things favorable for the Allies on all fronts. "Except against Roumania, the Austro-Germans and their satellites have scored no successes in many months past," he writes, "and have not retrieved any losses. West, east and south they have lost great numbers of men and continue to lose them."

He deprecates building too much on the order from Gen. von Falkenhayn in reference to the great wear and tear on German guns and stores of munitions, which the war office has just published. He dwells, however, upon the significance of the German fleet still avoiding battle and the increasing effect of the blockade as referred to in German newspapers and letters found on prisoners.

"The Germans at the front are still fighting well," he adds, "but the dejection has been marked. Where the material and moral condition of the people is slowly, but steadily, deteriorating, anxieties regarding the next loan are general, and the fact that German troops have continually to be sent to all fronts to make amends for the failures of Germany's allies provokes bitter comment."

"When the veil is lifted we shall probably find that Germany has sacrificed a far greater number of men, more money, ships, credit and material than we have any idea of, while we can be satisfied that Germany's aggressive war has brought her as much misery as her worst enemy could desire."

Women Suffrage

(Toronto "Globe.")

The British Liberal party seems to be committed to woman suffrage. Mr. J. Gulland, M. P., the Chief Whip of the party, addressing a Scottish deputation, said recently: "A great advance had been made during the last month or two in regard to the question. Mr. Aquith's statement that he would no longer oppose the enfranchisement of women indicated a very great change in regard to the question, and it was only a matter of time when women would have the vote."

Ontario Dry

[Montreal Weekly Witness.]

The Temperance Act went duly into force in Ontario last Saturday, September 16th. At seven o'clock that evening the legalized sale of drink ceased—we hope and trust for ever, as far as Ontario is concerned. There is no doubt that endeavors had been made by those who lived by poisoning the people to have the act upset in some way, so that the will of the people, constitutionally expressed by a unanimous parliament, might have been set aside, and liquor given another lease of life. The Government were patriotic enough and wise enough to do the right thing and the square thing by putting prohibition into force. Judging from the results of local option in Ontario, and also from the effects of prohibition in other provinces, Ontario may look forward to a great decrease of vice and crime and an increase of material prosperity under the new law. There are sure to be repeated attempts to discredit the law. We believe that it will be honestly administered. Temperance people will do well to see that the proper authorities are notified of any violations coming under their notice, and by supporting the officers of the law in every way in their necessary but disagreeable duties. When a certain objective has been gained there is often the greatest danger that muscle will be allowed to grow lax and effort suffered to flag. Disregard of this fact has lost many a battle, and has been responsible for the wreck of many a fair standing character. The same danger hangs over the community. A law will sometimes be left to work itself, or, once placed upon the statute book, no more interest taken in it. We are, however, persuaded better things of Ontario. Temperance enthusiasm must still be kept quick and living, and the active interest in reform, which has brought about the prohibition revolution, must be retained to the full. The weapons that have gained the victory must be kept keen and polished, for it remains eternally true that "the sword must guard what the sword hath won."

Over Military Age Sent to the Front

London, Sept. 21.—The wireless press gave out to-day a despatch from Zurich to the effect that 1,500 Socialists were arrested in Berlin on the ground that they were concerned in an agitation against the war. Although over military age, they are said to have been sent to the front.

Religious Teaching In School Deplored

Springfield, Mass., Sept. 20.—Archibald Ladner, prominent layman of this city, and chairman of the committee on Bible study, praised the Catholic Church for its retention of religious instruction in schools in a report at the meeting of the Westfield Baptist Association in this city today.

He also criticized the public schools for failure to provide religious instruction, saying that Massachusetts was behind other States in this respect. This brought his pastor, Rev. W. W. Weeks of this city, to his feet in stern denunciation of the committee's report. Mr. Weeks said in part:

"I am amazed that in a Baptist meeting any plan favoring religious education in the school should come up. I am unalterably opposed to it. I don't like Mr. Ladner's reference to 'godless schools.' I should not call a business man godless if he failed to read the Bible each morning on opening his place of business."

"If it comes to a question of forcing religious education in the public schools let's leave it to the Roman church. Parts of the report are abominable. I do not care what other States are doing in religious education. We do not want it in Massachusetts schools."

The report or the committee favoring religious instruction in the public schools was referred back to the committee by the association after ten minutes' debate with instruction to either eliminate or at least modify that portion of the report. This action killed the matter for another year, at least.

(Rev. W. W. Weeks comes from Cape Breton, and was pastor of a Baptist church at Moncton for some years.)
