LARGEST ANIMAL ON EARTH

Sparks' World Famous Shows are billed to exhibit at Houlton Me.

Monday July 3.

and from the newspaper reports preceding them their exhibition will be worth going many miles to witness.

Among the many features the show carries is what is claimed to be the largest land animal on earth. It is an elephant said to be three inches taller than Jumbo and a half ton heavier.

Some idea of her immense size can be obtained when you consider that she is 11 feet, 7 inches tall and weighs over 5 tons. In other words she weighs as much as 10 ordinary horses.

Another extraordinary feature with the show is Capt. Wesley's troupe of educated Seals and Sea Lions. These interesting sea animals perform the most seemingly impossible feats; balancing chairs, umbrellas and whirling brands of fire while climbing ladders, walking tight ropes and riding the backs of galloping horses. This feature baffles description and must be seen to be appreciated.

Many other wonderful things are to be seen with this mammoth show, and the main performance beneath the big tents will present a number of the most marvelous foreign acts of the century.

The menagerie of wild animals carried with the show is complete in every detail, and contains rare and curious specimens of the earth's most interesting and curious animals.

A mile long street parade of dazzling splendor, beautiful women, and handsome horses, interspersed with three brass bands and a steam callopie will traverse the streets shortly before noon and this feature alone will be worth going many miles to see.

Don't forget the date and the place of exhibition Houlton Me. Monday July 3.

A Tribute To Earl Kitchener

Montreal Herald: One of the best tribute to Lord Kitchener which has yet been published comes from a Mohammedan named Achmed Abdullah, who has written to the New York Times as follows:

"The news of Lord Kitchener's death will come to the vast majority of Great Britain's Mohammedan subjects, what ever their race, with a shock of sharp personal grief. In fair play, straight, strict justice, impersonal ambition, physical vigor and moral cleanliness, broad humanity and broadest tolerance, he embodied in himself the true reasons why the English have accomplished that which no other nation—not even Rome—has ever accomplished; to live together, with many peoples of other races and creeds and civilizations and social and political prejudices, within the limits of the same empire, without too much friction, with liberty of action and thought to everybody, with the same basic laws applying to all, and with always a united, close knit front against the enemy.

"I saw him the last time, a good many years ago, at the occasion of an informal visit which my kinsman, the Ameer of Afghanistan, paid to India, and I shall always remember one of the things he said to be in the course of a conversation dealing with military and political preferment. He spoke in the Urdu, and I am translating nearly word for word: "Do your own duty, large or small, in whatever capacity your country demands from you. Never mind what your neighbor is doing. Let everybody attend to his own job, single minded, regardless of the others' criticisms. And then the country as a whole will take care of itself."

Here is presented we believe, the secret of Kitchener's power with the races of the East—the fact that he was the personification of the best traditions of the British race.
