Martial Law For All Ireland

London, April 27.—Martial law has been declared throughout all Ireland.

Premier Asquith announced in the House of Commons to-day that the rebels continue to hold important public buildings in Dublin and that street encounters were still in progress. The Premier said there would be a searching investigation into the cause of and responsibility for the outbreak. Mr. Asquith said it was obviously necessary to exercise military censorship while martial law prevailed in Ireland. This censorship, however, would be directed merely with regard to the essential military requirements of the situation. All possible latitude in the transmission of news would be allowed.

Sir Edward Carson and John E. Redmond, who were the leaders of the opposing factions in the Irish Home Rule controversy, expressed in the House of Commons to-day their abhorrence of the uprising, and their desire to support the government.

Premier Asquith said the Irish situation still presented serious features to-day, and that there were indications of a spread of the movement to other parts of Ireland, especially in the west.

The Premier announced that Major General Sir John Maxwell, who formerly commanded the British forces in Egypt, was leaving this afternoon for Ireland. The General has been given plenary power, under martial law, over the whole country. The troops in Ireland have been and are being strongly reinforced, Mr. Asquith added, and the government was satisfied the force despatched was adequate to deal with the situation.

The Irish authorities will place themselves at the disposal of Major General Maxwell to carry out his instructions.

(Proclamation of martial law throughout Ireland may indicate an extension of disturbances, details of which the rigid British censorship is withholding. Cable despatches yesterday and early to-day gave the impression that the British authorities had the situation in Ireland well in hand. Martial law, it was said, had been declared only in the city county of Dublin. A few minor disturbances outside Dublin were reported, but they were described as of small importance.

War On Sparrows Urged In England

London, April 18.—A war on sparrows is suggested as one way to reduce the high cost of living created by the war. Sparrows usually take a serious toll of corn crops, and in order to prevent such wastage at the coming harvest, farmers are being urged to let the school boys and Boy Scouts make raids on sparrows' nests throughout the district.

Can Dispense With Periscopes

London, April 24.—The Geneva correspondent of the Daily Express quotes German newspapers as saying that the latest German submarines are equipped with an invention enabling them to dispense with periscopes. The invention is described as a kind of reflector enabling the boats to fire without coming to the surface, so that henceforth it will be impossible to tell whether a ship has been torpedoed or sunk by a mine.

Dr. Manzer Will Resume Profession

Having been requested by so many of my old patients to do some Dental Work for them I have decided for a short time, or until further notice, to open an office at my Residence, Chapel Street, opposite the Armoury. It was also my aim during my seventeen years' practice to give my patients the best of materials and the most modern appliances to operate with. I have equipped a new office and am now ready to do all kinds of Crown and Bridge Work, make Artificial Teeth, put in Fillings of all kinds or do any kind of Dental Work.

I am still using my old prescription in the painless extracting of teeth and also administer gas and ether.

It is a growing custom now for Dental Surgeons to have their office at their residence. This is a great advantage in many ways to patients as they are always able to find the doctor at any time of day or night. Another is being on the ground floor as many patients object to climbing a flight of stairs and still another—they have all the comforts of a modern home while waiting their turn for an operation.

I will as formerly give special attention to all diseases of the mouth, nose and throat. The specialist today is the man to consult as he has the experience in seeing and operating upon so many special cases.

Make appointments by phone 10-11, by mail or at my office.

I thank you for past favors and hope to see all my old patients back and many new ones.
