

GinPills FOR THE KIDNEYS How They Work

VICTORIA, B.C.

For several years I have been troubled with kidney and bladder trouble caused by uric acid and the pains caused by the intermittent stoppage of urine was very severe. For this I was taking something or other continually with but little or no relief. At last a friend handed me a sample package of your Gin Pills. The contents of this sample gave me relief that I had not experienced in a long time. Since then I have been taking Gin Pills occasionally and have had no return of my former trouble. (Name on request).

The above letter is from a popular and well-known commercial man in Victoria.

Gin Pills are 50c. a box or six boxes for $2.50 at all druggists. Sample sent free if requested.

A War Prophecy And Its Origin

The Staffordshire Advertiser of Saturday, March 18, contained in Onlookers' Column of Events of the Week the following:

I do not vouch for the accuracy or otherwise of the referred to below, but it comes from a correspondent whose bonafides are indisputable: The wife of a tiller of the soil was washing up the dinner things one day recently and had the misfortune to drop a plate on to the floor and broke it. Instantly a voice from behind said, "That is the first." The woman looked to see who was speaking, but no one was there. She went into the next room, but no one was there except her four months old baby in its cradle. She returned to her culinary duties with worse nerves than before, with the result that she let another plate fall, which shattered, and immediately the same voice rang out "That is the second." That was too much for the poor woman, because no one was to be found anywhere in or outside the cottage, so she went for the local doctor. When he arrived, she told him just what had happened, so he said, "Bring me a plate." She did, and he deliberately dropped it on the hard floor, with the expected result, and again the voice, as from Heaven, distinctly said "That is the third." The doctor now shared the woman's misgivings, but quite undaunted he asked for still another plate out of her small stock. She did so, and he said, "We will go into the other room" (where the baby was). He took up a position near the cradle, and again he let the plate fall, to meet the fate of the others. The same voice, only clearer, again, "That is the fourth," but to his utter chagrin and astonishment the voice came from the mouth of that four-month-old child. Before either he or the mother could recover their surprise sufficiently to speak the wonderful child continued "In one, two, three, four months the war will end," and the infant's soul immediately fled to its place on high.

The issue of March 25 had this supple-

Banish Pimples And Eruptions

In the Spring Most People
Need a Tonic Medicine

One of the surest signs that the blood is out of order is the pimples, unsightly eruptions and eczema that come frequently with the change from winter to spring. These prove that the long indoor life or winter has had its effect upon the blood, and that a tonic medicine is needed to put it right. Indeed there are few people who do not need a tonic at this season. Bad blood does not merely show itself in disfiguring eruptions. To this same condition is due attacks of rheumatism and lumbago; the sharp stabbing pains of sciatica and neuralgia; poor appetite and a desire to avoid exertion. You cannot cure these troubles by the use of purgative medicines—you need a tonic, and a tonic only, and among all medicines there is none can equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for their tonic, life giving, nerve restoring powers. Every dose of this medicine makes new, rich blood which drives out impurities, stimulates every organ and brings a feeling of new health and energy to weak, tired, ailing men, women and children. If you are out of sorts give this medicine a trial and see how quickly it will restore the appetite, revive drooping spirits, and fill your veins with new, health-giving blood.

You can get these Pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

mentary paragraph:

A good deal of interest has been taken in the last paragraph which appeared under this heading of our issue of March 18. As I expected, doubts have been cast upon the truth of the story, which I agree from several points of view appears an impossible one. I have been asked in two cases to give the name of the correspondent who vouches for the correctness of the statement, and have forwarded the name and address of his informant, although, for obvious reasons, it cannot be given in this column. It seems to be a very fit case for the Psychological Research Society to take up.

Germany's Perversion

(From the New York Sun)

The chancellor always blames the war for continuing the war—he does for beginning it. If they would only sue for peace now, while Germany still has the profits of her superpreparedness in her grasp, all would be well. It is their wicked obstinacy in refusing to consent to be beaten, their perversity in developing their resources just as Germany's are beginning to fail, that is going to spoil the whole war. Unless is their guilt blind is their folly in refusing to Germany the reward of her years of patient waiting.

How characteristic it is! The German mind.

May Be Heavy Losses For Germany

LONDON, April 18.—There was a great explosion on Friday last in the new torpedo works at Wilhelmshaven, a number of persons being killed and others wounded. The works were recently finished and were inspected by Emperor William on February 25.

Looting Of Serbia Exemplary Of Kultur

COPENHAGEN, April 15.—Little news has emerged into the outer world about the condition of invaded Serbia, and the conduct of the invaders. But from information I have received it would appear that the exploits of "Kultur" in this unhappy country have exceeded in ruthlessness all those reported in Belgium and northern France.

The enemy had hardly entered the city of Belgrade before they ransacked King Peter's private library and priceless collections found in the royal palace. As soon as the Bulgars had occupied north-eastern Serbia, they despatched M. Cihuzoff, the vice-director of the national library in Sofia, to seize all valuable books and manuscripts throughout the conquered territory. A Hungarian correspondent of the Neue Freie Presse, of Vienna, says, in a recent message:

"We received an order to search for and seize all objects of antiquarian interest, libraries and archives, which the Serbians had concealed. First, we found King Peter's service of antique plate. After this we searched the college library. We found a large hall, lined with huge bookcases full of wonderful books, mostly in precious bindings, and all in perfect order. This library, which contains about 4000 volumes, made a most profound impression upon me. All those which were worth preserving (about 3300) were carefully packed in cases and sent as spoils of war to Sofia."

The possession of other historic Serbian treasures provoked fierce discussions between the Austrians and the Magyars, but nothing of any importance escaped the greed of the invading armies. There is no end to the rapacity of Kultur!

By a series of these slight successes over a period of nearly eight weeks, the German high command has been accumulating a list of important points. Occupying these positions one after another and making them fasten upon the German army, it is believed, the defenders have been unable to gain at any one point to the extent of a single square centimetre. The result of this is that the German army has been able to maintain its position in the face of the most powerful attacks. Mysterious Paper Appears Regularly

(By Henri Rector in the Toronto "Sunday World").

Paris, April 15. Some weeks ago I spoke of that mysterious newspaper, the Reliquie, which appeared regularly; but where or how, none but the organizers knew. It is still dealing its deadly blows at the expense of Von Hindenburg and the Hun. The Reliquie is a very saucy and unflinching organ. It seems that the Reliquie has the support of the German army. A crowd massed on the platform. Among them was a Boche soldier. At a topographical name was called out, and the others then saw that pinned to the back of the German's tunic was a copy of Libre Belgique, its large lettered title attracting all eyes.

To laugh and be round out were dangerous in these days of secret police and traitors, and some even found it more prudent to quit the platform, so as not to be suspected when an explosion came, and the unconscious "Sandwich man" was left alone, dressed in the Kaiser's uniform and holding a copy of the paper, a copy of the paper, a copy of the paper.

Another joke of Libre Belgique was to publish a little circular for the guidance of the conductors of Brussels tramways. In it the streets are renamed. The Rue de l'Empereur becomes "Street of the Bluddy Hets," the "Street of Provisional Government" is changed to "Von Bissing street," "Street of Comedians" is named "Beinmann street," "Elephant street" becomes "Zeppelin street," and most fiercely ironclad of all, "Street of the Big Market" is labelled "Boche Market."

Punish TRAITOR DUKES

LONDON, April 14.—Swift MacNeill suggested in the House of Commons today that an act be passed depriving the traitor Duke of Cumberland and Albany, cousin of King George, who are serving with the German army, of their titles and peerages.

Mr. Asquith replied he did not believe it was the time of the House to employ or frantically with legislation, as the Duke already had been expelled from the Order of the Garter.

Can Hitler Lead Russia?

Petrograd, April 15.—The four daughters of the czar are brilliant riders. The most skillful of them is the Grand Duchess Olga, the eldest who remarks, "I wish I was born somebody else, so that I could be a circus rider." "She can drive three horses abreast, standing on the back of the centre one."
