Teachers' Institute

THURSDAY MORNING.

The fortieth annual session of the Carleton Victoria Teachers' Institute met in McLaren's Hall, Grand Falls, on Thursday morning, Oct. 11, at ten o'clock, Miss Bessie Fraser, vice president, presiding.

The first business was that of electing a president to take the place of Mr. G. J. Marr, now on active service overseas.

Mr. A. D. Jonah was elected president and took the chair at once. Miss Bessie Fraser was elected secretary treasurer in place of Mr. Walter S. Daley, who has left the county. Miss Frances Milmore was elected assistant secretary.

The enrolment fee was fixed at 50 cents.

The following committees were appointed:—

Resolutions—Inspector Meagher, Mrs. Shipp, Miss Mary Milmore.

Audit—Mr. Kilpatrick, Miss Chase, Miss Crickard.

The president announced that the following gentlemen have provided the hall for the meetings of the Institute: Messrs H. C. Glenn, J. L. White, H. E. Wiley, A. M. Chamberland, Jas. Stewart, William Pirie, R. P. Donald, A. P. Mackinday, J. M. Keefe, M. Burgess, F. W. Olmstead, G. M. Taylor, D. J. Collins, Dr. C. A. Kirkpatrick, Dr. J. Chapman, Dr. B. A. Puddington, Dr. C. Guy; also that by courtesy of Mr. Jas. Carroll, the teachers may visit the "wells" free of charge.

Inspector Meagher then addressed the Institute in his usual helpful and cheering manner. He advised teachers to study the school law, and also spoke of the necessity of drill in all work, of the teaching of food conservation and the value of surroundings.

Dr. McIntosh and Mr. Higgins spoke briefly.

Mr. F. A. Dixon, assistant director of agriculture, could not be present this morning, his place in the program was taken by Mr. T. Dyson Wallace, who gave an excellent paper on Geometry. The discussion was opened by Mr. C. Douglas Dickinson, who was followed by Mr. Higgins and Inspector Meagher.

Meeting closed by singing the National Anthem.

THURSDAY AFTERNOON.

The second session was called to order at 2 p. m.

The minutes of the first session were read and approved.

Mr. Elmer Close gave a carefully prepared paper on "The Ethical Purpose of the Reading Lesson." He spoke of the value of inculcating a love of good literature in the pupil, in connection with which school libraries are an important adjunct, and every teacher should strive to have one in his school. The moral purpose of the lesson was dwelt upon carefully and the necessity of leading the pupil to infer the same for himself, unaided by the teacher.

Discussion opened by Inspector Meagher who made brief reference to some of the most helpful features of Mr. Close's paper, and urged upon all to keep in mind the great educational maxim that "Teaching is not telling."

The Institute then adjourned for a trip to the "falls" and "wells".

THURSDAY EVENING.

The evening meeting was held at eight o'clock, Mr. Jonah presiding.

After a few opening remarks by the chairman, Miss Mirie Pirie sang two solos.

This was followed by a very interesting illustrated lecture on the Aborigines by Mr. McIntosh.

FRIDAY MORNING.

The third session was on Friday, at 9 a. m.

The session was held in the school house.

Minutes read and approved.

Paper, "Increased Production and the School Garden." Mr. Dixon told of the work being done, spoke of the school fairs held during the past year, of the influence of the school garden, and of the importance of beautifying the school surroundings; summer schools of science were referred to, the teachers urged to attend the same; sanitary conditions are frequently neglected; increased production, economy and the avoidance of waste should be obligatory on those who must stay at home.

The discussion on this paper was opened by Mr. Jonah. He spoke of the superiority of home grown seeds, of practical arithmetic in connection with school gardens, and emphasized the value of stock raising in connection with agricultural work.

"The Connecting Links between Home and School," by Mrs. James E.

OVER 40 YEARS ON THE ROAD

The name of W. G. Reid of Hamilton, Ont., is a familiar one to thousands throughout the Dominion. For over forty years Mr. Reid has been service as a commercial traveller.

Read this letter:

"About four years ago, while you of my condition from Muscular and Inflammatory Rheumatism and Kidney Trouble and my efforts through travel and change of climate to rid myself of these unwelcome guests, and how I only found relief in Gin Pills after spending a lot of time and money in foreign lands.

Since then Gin Pills have been my sheet anchor. I find in advancing years a tendency of the kidneys to get out of order more easily than formerly but a few doses of Gin Pills puts them right and wards off other and more serious trouble. I feel it not only a duty but a pleasure to recommend Gin Pills for Kidney and Bladder Troubles to any thousands of personal friends throughout Canada to whom I am well known as a commercial traveller of over forty years' service."

A sample of Gin Pills sent free upon request to National Drug & Chemical Co. of Canada, Limited, Toronto, or to the U. S. address—N. D. Co. Inc., 202 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y.

Porter of Andover, followed. This paper dealt with home training and emphasized the fact that home training is more vital than school training; children well trained at home, as a rule, are better pupils than those who have not had that advantage. Lessons in discipline, etc., should be given at home. Home more often to blame than school.

Miss Winter, superintendent of Women's Institutes, spoke of the work and objects of Institutes, followed by Inspector Meagher.

"Correct and Fluent Oral Expression," by Miss Mary Grant. Miss Grant dwelt upon the necessity of the teacher always using correct language, and of getting the pupils accustomed to correct language by patiently and carefully correcting all mistakes in pronunciation and grammar made by the pupils whenever they occur; of asking questions to find out what words should be emphasized in the reading lesson and of mastering consonant sounds. The discussion was opened by Inspector Meagher.

Reports of the audit and resolution committees were next presented and adopted.
