KEEPING THE NEST EGG

Times are good financially. Everybody is making more money and enjoying more prosperity undoubtedly than in those dark days when wheat sold for 60 cents, eggs for 10 cents, pork for 5 cents, beef for 4 cents, and labor went begging for a dollar a day or less. No one would so dispute the fact as to volunteer a return to those struggling times.

Such prices as we are receiving to-day, and such wealth as the savings banks are accumulating, and as every individual is getting, carry prosperity from the Great Lakes to the Sea. Unfortunate as it may be that this is one of the accompaniments of war, it is nevertheless true that everything which is produced commands its maximum price under such abnormal conditions.

Equally certain follows the corollary that the valley of depression will open up when the pendulum has swung the other way. When that time comes, as it assuredly will, the savings of to-day will be the only bulwarks to defeat the hunger offensive of the after-the-war drive.

The conserved surpluses from the flowing coffers of our farms and business interests will place any one of us in a position to ride the bumps of adversity with comparative ease. Save the surplus, is a mighty fine slogan for any one to march under as we reap the wide advantages of big returns. Be sure that the nest-egg is kept

To the strains of the wedding march, played by Mrs. Adney, the bride entered the parlor leaning on the arm of her father. Immediately after the ceremony, a delightful supper was served, after which the happy couple left for Montreal and other Canadian cities, amidst a shower of confetti, and the good wishes of their many friends.
