A wedding of much interest was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John A. McAuley, Williamstown, on May 1st, when their daughter, Annie Kath rode, was united in marriage to Chas. S. Page, an enterprising farmer of Centreville, Car. Co.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. B. Champion in the presence of the immediate friends and relatives of the contracting parties. During the wedding march, which was skillfully rendered by Miss Myrtle Smith, the happy couple entered the parlour and took their place under an arch of evergreen. The bride was neatly attired in a costume of white silk and bridal veil with wreath of roses, and carried a bouquet of flowers.

After the ceremony the company repaired to the dining room where a bountiful supper was served. The popularity of the bride was shown by the choice selections of valuable gifts, including several substantial sums of money. The groom's gift to the bride was a handsome pearl and peridot necklace.

The bride will be greatly missed in Williamstown where she was ever active in the work of the church and Sunday School, but the best wishes of a host of friends will follow her and her husband to their new home in Centreville.

BABY'S OWN TABLETS ALWAYS KEPT ON HAND

Mrs. Ernest E. Adkins, Brotton Sask., writes: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets with great success for four years and always keep a box on hand." Thousands of other mothers say the same thing—once they have used the Tablets for their little ones they will use nothing else. Experience shows them that the Tablets are the ideal medicine. They are a mild laxative, through in action and never fail to relieve the minor ailments of little ones. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Memorial Service

A memorial service was held in the Reformed Baptist Church Sunday evening May 5, to pay a tribute of honor to Frank McLardy who met his death battling against Kaiserism, the menace of the world. The memory of this young hero will always be respected and cherished.

The decorations around the altar and pulpit were beautifully arranged, with the pulpit draped with the Union Jack and a cluster of flags of the Allies. Banks of flowers added to the impressiveness of the decorations.

The choir rendered special music singing the Anthem "Sweet Hour of Prayer," "Toll Softly Bells," "Soldiers Good Night."

A detachment from the 65th Battery was present and the battery bugler sounded the Last Post.

PTE. FRANK McLARDY.

From the text "That by them thou mayest war the good warfare," 1 Tim. 1:18, the pastor said in part:

War is a word pregnant with horror; associated with all that is disastrous and terrible. No tongue can describe its awfulness. David prayed "O God scatter the people who delight in war." It has deluged the earth with blood. It came into the world through the passage which an opened and has run parallel with all ages, up to the present. Isaiah has predicted that the time is coming when "nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more," for which surely every benevolent heart will pray.

Revelation declares that there was a time when there was war in Heaven and Satan and his angels were cast out and Heaven rejoiced, but "woe to the inhabitants of the earth and of the sea for the devil is come down unto you, having great wrath, because he knoweth that he hath but a short time." It is evident the devil is at his business. But even this shall cease as Satan will be bound, Rev. 20.

Now in this conflict, all humanity on earth are deeply concerned. We are either on one side or the other. There is no neutral ground. We are either enemies to God and rebels against his authority or we are on his side. Which? To be against God is a warfare of the basest and most infatuated character for "Woe unto him that striveth with his Maker."

All who are united with Christ as their Saviour, have to contend against Satan and his host, and by the Holy Spirit and grace of God, "WAR A GOOD WARFARE." Let us not then the Christian warfare.

The enemies are generally said to be threefold. Satan and the powers of darkness, described as coming as an "angel of light," as the "Kaiser with his Peace terms," and also as a "roaring lion"—the Hun with his frightfulness. Satan comes with his wiles as also with his fiery darts. All well described in the present awful war. But God has promised to give us strength to resist and defeat him.

Then the "World" with all its seductive and delusive charms; against which we are warned. Paul says the world is crucified unto him by the cross, and this is the experience of every true Christian. Lastly the "Carnal Mind" against which so many Christians contend, but we may be delivered from this and "serve God without fear, in Baird died at Elm Creek, Man., a few months ago. Mrs. Ayer was a daughter of the late Col. Wm. Baird of Woodstock. For many years she lived at Amherst, N. honesty and righteousness: all the days of our life." God has an armor described by Paul, for defence and offense. Christians then are not soldiers in camp or on parade but on the battle field engaged in strife. This warfare begins when we united with Christ and will continue to the end of life. It is declared to be a "good warfare" as it is in a good cause—truth and righteousness; as we believe the Allies are striving today. It is under a good commander—Jesus Christ, and he has unbounded affection for his troops and good resources. Abundant munitions, exhaustless provisions and secure fortresses, victory is assured. All then are interested—none can serve by proxy. It is a personal matter. In this warfare we need and shall receive, by asking, gracious assistance. It is a fight of faith and not of might.

There is a call for volunteers. Have you enlisted? How is the time, a glorious reward is promised if faithful to the end—A crown of eternal life.

In reference to our lately departed brother, Frank McLardy, we were personally cognizant of his Christian character, as his regiment, the 104th, left the town about the time I came here; but I believe that all the good that has been said of him is true. He was a good and faithful member of this church for years, as also belonging to the choir, the Sunday School and Praying Band. He was very attentive and punctual to his religious duties and maintained his Christian character when in England and France, and we believe he was a sincere and faithful Christian soldier to the end. He heard the call of duty and volunteered and died for King and Country as other noble young men of this town have done. He was a general favorite and beloved by all who knew him. He has gone to receive not a Victoria Cross, but a crown. Our hearty sympathy goes out to the only brother in France and to the only sister in the United States and to all the relatives here.
