

Protecting Canadian Goods.

The issue of The Adelaide (South Australia) Advertiser for June 14th, just received, gives the particulars of a trial which proves that even in that far away country the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co. is as active in defending its rights and protecting the public against the schemes of the substituters and counterfeiters as it is here as home in Canada. In the trial in question Frank Ashley and William Smith were shown to have been engaged in offering a substitute for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, claiming that the substitute was the same as that justly celebrated medicine. Both men were placed under arrest on a charge of obtaining money under false pretence and conspiring to defraud the public, and evidence was heard before the Chief Justice of the Criminal Court. The defendant's lawyer made a strong fight in their behalf, but in spite of this jury, after a short absence from the court returned a verdict of guilty in both cases. The Chief Justice deferred sentence until the close of the sittings. In addressing the jury, however, the learned judge spoke very strongly concerning the evils of substitution and the dangers to the victim that may ensue from this nefarious and too common practice.—Toronto Globe.

Working Balking Horses.

When a horse has become a confirmed balker, I believe that in a majority of cases he may, with proper treatment, be so far reformed that he may be depended on with reasonable certainty. But some never can, and none of them can ever be trusted with the same implicit confidence as one that has never been spoiled. The practice from time immemorial has been to inhumanly beat the horse that balks. Generally this is the very thing that is sure to defeat the whole scheme of making a good horse out of a bad one. It may make him move that once, but he will not fail to rebel again at the time when good behavior is most wanted. The man who cannot read animals well enough to see where the trouble is would better have but little to do with unruly horses, for there can be no cast iron rules for their management.—National Stockman and Farmer.

Montague, of Dunville, Cured of Ulcerated Itching Piles.

Mr. Robert Montague, of Dunville, Ont., writes:—"Was troubled with Itching Piles for five years and was so badly ulcerated, they were very painful, so much, so that I could not sleep. I tried almost every medicine known when I was recommended to use Dr. Chase's Ointment. I purchased a box and from the first application got relief. Have used two boxes and am now completely cured."

When Commodore Schley called for three cheers for 'the men behind the guns,' the officers of the fleet which had wiped out the flower of the Spanish navy under Cervera gave that tribute with a will. The men who commanded cheered the men who did the fighting. It was the democracy of heroism.—Boston Post.

Confused His Papa.

An amusing incident occurred in a A., B. and C. car on the afternoon of the Fourth. Four young couples, evidently out for an enjoyable day, were seated on one side of the car having a decidedly good time. While their merriment was at its height a 7-year-old boy across the aisle suddenly leaned forward.

'Say, mister,' he called to one of the young men, 'why don't you kiss your girl?'

The young man looked up in surprise, and the girl—a pretty girl too—blushed.

'Talmage, Talmage,' said the boy's father, 'what do you mean by such talk?'

The boy looked at his father in surprised disgust.

What's the matter with you, dad?' he cried. 'You told me you would do it if you was him!'

And the father found the landscape decidedly interesting until the young people left the car.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Glass Globes.

The breaking of glass globes is very frequent, as all housekeepers know. Their durability may be greatly increased if they are tempered beforehand. This is done by putting them in a large pan and covering them with cold water. The pan is then set on the range until the water boils. When that occurs, it is removed from the fire, and the globes are allowed to remain in the water until it is perfectly cold again. This is a common treatment for lamp chimnies, and is equally efficient in the case of glass globes.—Exchange.

A New Garment for Ten Cents.

Have you ever tried to dye over your cast-off garments? Thousands in Canada answer "Yes, and very successfully, too." To those who have not yet attempted the work we would say, "There is money in it when you use the Diamond Dyes." Old dresses, capes, blouses, jackets, coats, pants, vests, stockings, ribbons, and other articles of wearing apparel, can be renewed and fitted for wear at very small cost. The sum of ten cents expended for some fashionable color of the Diamond Dyes will often save you many of dollars. Beware of the cheap package and common soap grease dyes; they spoil your goods, waste your money and ruin your temper. All up-to-date dealers sell the Diamond Dyes. See that the name "Diamond" is on each package you buy.
