

Local News.

We wish our readers one and all a Happy New Year.

CONCERT.—The Union Sabbath School of Gibson is to give a Concert on Friday evening next.

A GRACIOUS ACT.—Hon. John A. Beckwith, of the Gibson Leather Company, gave each of the employes a fine turkey for Christmas.

DEATH OF AN AGED PAUPER.—Peter Good, aged eighty years and for upwards of twenty years a inmate of the Almshouse, died on Sunday last.

PIPE BURST.—A steam pipe in the Normal School building burst Monday at noon, necessitating an adjournment of the school till yesterday morning.

ROBBERY.—Mr. Gibson's store at Marysville, was robbed over $200 worth of goods one night last week. The burglars have not yet been discovered.

ACCIDENT.—Howard Reedman, an employe of the N. B. R. R. was slightly injured on Monday, in the machinery shop at Gibson, by being jammed between two cars.

THANKS.—Mr. John Richards will please accept our thanks for a number of very handsome calendars, gotten up by the various Insurance Companies which he represents.

REV. MR. BREWER IN WOODSTOCK.—Rev. Mr. Brewer the popular pastor of the Methodist Church, at Marysville, lectured in Woodstock Monday night, on "Jack of all trades" before a large and appreciative audience.

NEW FERRY BOAT.—The Messrs. Gill are building a new Ferry Boat, which will be put upon the lower route at the opening of navigation. This machinery at Marysville will be used in the construction of the new boat.

DONATION TO REV. MR. McLEOD.—The members of Rev. Mr. McLeod's congregation and friends intend holding a Social Entertainment in the basement of their church New Year's night, at which a presentation of something substantial is to be made to the popular pastor of the church.

ENTERTAINMENT AT ST. DUNSTON'S HALL.—St. Dunstan's T. A. Society intend giving a musical and literary entertainment in their Hall on Monday evening next. Among those who will assist, are Messrs. Campbell, of Portland N. B., who has achieved quite a reputation as a talented vocalist.

NEARLY A FIRE.—A fire was discovered in the washroom of the River Da Loup House, Gibson, at an early hour Tuesday morning, but happily it was extinguished before serious damage was done.

The fire originated from an ash barrel; too often the cause of more serious conflagrations.

THE COUNTRY MARKETS.—The supply in the Country Markets is rather small this week, the Xmas trade having pretty well drained our farmers out. We quote yesterday's prices: Beef 5 to 5 1/2 cts.; Pork 5 to 6 cts.; Butter 15 to 18 cts.; Turkeys 8 to 10 cts.; Hides 7 cts.; Lard 12 to 13 cts.; Chickens 25 to 35 cts. per pair; Geese 45 to 55 cts. each; Hay $6 to $8 per ton.

NOT DEAD YET.—Captain Alfred Peatman, late of the steamer Scamander, is one of the few individuals who have survived their own obituary. The St. John papers recently reported that he had been drowned in Boston Harbor by being knocked off his feet by the jibs, and was reported in a position to state positively that the Captain is alive and well, and enjoyed his Christmas dinner at his home on the Nashwaak, Monday Christmas eve.

He came home from Boston over a week ago, and was surprised to find that many thought him an inhabitant of the Spirit land.

CURLIANA.—Our curlers played their initial game on the rink in Officers' Square this season on Christmas forenoon, the contest being between a rink each, composed of single members, resulting in victory for the former by 12 to 9. In the afternoon of the same day, York County was pitted against Gloucester, two rinks each playing, and the foreigners were beaten two to one, the score standing 24-12. Since Xmas several scratch matches have been played, in which the Knights of the "Snee" and "beson" displayed their wretched skill. The ice has not been in the most desirable condition and it is intended to give it another flooding shortly. To-day, New Year's, rinks and single are to play another match, the marbles to be composed as follows:

MARRIED. SINGLE. Rutter, Hazen. McPherson, J. A. Grieves. Neill, McLaughlin. J. B. Grieves, Skip, Lizzie, Key.

ST. PAUL'S PROPOSED RECEPTION TO REV. MR. MOWATT.—St. Paul's Presbyterian Church and congregation propose giving their new pastor, Rev. Mr. Mowatt, late of Windsor, N. S., a reception in the Sunday School room of the church on the occasion of his change of his new sphere of labor here. To this end a large and enthusiastic meeting of ladies was held Monday afternoon to arrange for the reception, which it was decided should take the form of a High Tea, with musical and literary selections interspersed on the evening of Friday, January 9th, in the basement of the Church. The following committees were appointed to attend to the preliminaries: Reception Committee.—Messrs. H. A. Grieves; John A. Edwards; L. C. Macnutt; J. Frank Gregory; G. Holder; James Adams; John McAdam; Aaron F. Kearney. The subscription committee is at work, and the members and friends of the congregation will no doubt liberally respond to their solicitations.

CHRISTMAS FESTIVITIES.—Christmas in this city is generally a gay and noisy affair, preferring to celebrate the occasion by quiet family reunions and indoor enjoyments, rather than by public displays. Last Thursday was no exception and the day passed off quietly as it should. If we exclude the large amount of driving that was done. It was beautifully fine although a little too cold for driving, but this did not prevent it. Everybody who owned a team or could borrow one, or beg one put in an appearance on the streets during the forenoon or afternoon, and some lively races was indulged in. Mr. Barnham's "J. P. Morris," Mr. Hobbs' "Fidelity" and Mr. Logan's "Le Tour de Rod" bore off the palm for fine trotting, and were the subjects of high encomiums from the sporting fraternity. During the forenoon the Fredericton Social Club and guests drove out to the number of thirty in the "Great Eastern," with a four in hand attached. In the evening some attended the Skating Rink, but the majority of the amusement living remained in-doors, owing to the extreme cold, so almost exclusively the day was given to home pleasures.

THE MUSICAL AND DRAMATIC ENTERTAINMENT TUESDAY NIGHT.—The Musical and Dramatic Entertainment given under the auspices of the Odd Fellows, in the City Hall, Tuesday night, was a success, and drew an audience of fully six hundred persons. The musical part of the programme was sustained by Miss Martin, Mr. Wilson and Mr. W. Adams, the latter especially excelling in his cello solo.

"The Mistletoe Bough," was presented by a company of amateurs, consisting of Mrs. J. Bilop Mauger, as Lady Agnes, Mr. J. M. W. Adams, as Baron De Courcy, Mr. A. Smith, as Sir Reginald de Courcy, Mr. H. McKee, as Sir Henry Lovell, Miss Minnie Richards, as Countess Maud, maid to Lady Agnes, Mr. J. Fred Richards, as Carolus Crochet, Mr. N. Sutherland, as Koko, De Courcy's page, and Mr. W. Adams, Mr. R. M. Pinder, Miss Laura Wood, Miss Miller and Mr. H. V. Edgecombe as Domestic hussies etc. The dresses and acting of the characters were very fine indeed, and we regret that want of space forbids us particularizing. Messrs. Jas. McCausland and W. A. Quinn, acted in the capacity of prompters. We understand that the proceeds which go towards the Ladies' Bazaar Fund, will not be $70.

HEART HARVEST.—At 7.30 A. M. on Monday, the nuptials of Miss Louise, eldest daughter of Judge Wetmore, and T. C. Allen, Esq., Baron-at-Law St. John, were celebrated in the Cathedral in presence of quite a large and fashionable assembly, the fairer sex as usual on such occasions being fully represented. The ceremony was performed by His Lordship the Bishop, assisted by Sub Dean Alexander and Miss Laura Wetmore sister of the bride and Geo. B. Seely played the parts of bridesmaid and groomsmen. The party had breakfast at Judge Wetmore's when the happy young couple drove to the Railway Station, accompanied by their friends, and took the Western train for the West for a short tour. The bride was the recipient of many handsome and valuable presents. We have to add our best wishes for the complete happiness of the newly wedded pair.

We understand that before many days some others of our young friends purpose entering into matrimonial bonds, the name of a prominent Civil Service Official being mentioned particularly in this connection. We know of no better way of beginning the new year than this; besides such a course will be saving money, and avoid the tortures incident to the incoming leap year.

Home Industries. MR. GIBSON'S NEW MILL AT MARYSVILLE.

We had the pleasure on Tuesday, inspecting Mr. Gibson's new flour mill at Marysville, begun in September last, and already noted in these columns, and now nearing completion. It is situated between the saw mill and the right bank of the river, and directly opposite the Marysville Hotel; but is disconnected entirely from the saw mill, the water power being supplied by a new flume.

The building is 30 ft. x 54, three stories and a half high, including basement, and is thoroughly finished inside and out, from top to bottom, being nearly closed interiorly and singled on the outside. It was planned, as well as the machinery, and its entire construction was superintended by Mr. E. P. Cave, a most capable gentleman from Toronto. The work of erection was begun September 1st, 1879, and the entire establishment will be in running order in about ten days.—Through the courtesy of Mr. Cave we were shown through the mill from basement to attic, and the minutest details of machinery was fully explained by our obliging informant, who unites with the fine knowledge of his business a genial and attractive manner.

In the basement the rumbling of wheels and the seething of water, the noise being brought face to face with the motive power that drives the machinery throughout the entire building, and the great booming process of the mechanism impart the vitality of the water wheel to all parts of the establishment. The driving apparatus is what is known as the improved Leffler wheel, manufactured by Wm. Kennedy of Owen Sound, Ontario. It is 62 inches in diameter, and is geared for an eight feet head of water. Here, in close proximity to the water wheel is the bevel gear, which, as we have said, connects the motive power with the different machines.

On the second floor are situated the stones—three runs—two of which are for wheat and one for buckwheat. These are from Mr. Gibson's old mill, which are receiving a new dress, which will make them as good as they were originally. On the same flat are the "Monarch" Brush Machines, made in Toronto, which are of the "Patent" type, and capable of turning out a barrel or bag per minute, the hopper for the reception of the grists, and here too all the spouts which convey the pure flour or meal have their respective uses. These are so arranged as not to necessitate any shovelling, lifting or carrying which has to be done such an extent in ordinary mills. To fill a barrel or bag, all that has to be done is to put the bucket or hopper from which you want to draw, pull out a stopper and the meal, bran, flour, or what not that is required rushes down.

On ascending to the third floor the first object that meets the eye is the grist mill containing two reels and three conveyors. This is used for preparing customers' flour, while next to it is the merchants' bolt, which is similar to the other, except that it is fitted with a finer cloth used in grinding flour that will be put upon the market. Quite near to this are the cornmeal bolt with a single reel and a very fine wing, and the flour mill, which is fitted with a No. 1 Eureka for buckwheat and a No. 2 Eureka for wheat and corn. These both blow out into a smut house which adjoins the main building, and is 10 ft. square and 2 stories in height. Near the smutters are four stock hoppers for wheat which are supplied from a tin spout adjustable to any of the hoppers without the man in charge moving an inch from his track. Near the door, from which entrance is gained from the street, are the Hopper Scales, made by Wilson of Toronto. They will take 45 bushels of wheat at a single draught and have a trap door in them which allows the grain, when weighed, to drop into the immense receiving bin below. They are supplied from the outside of the building by a conveyor, thus saving the trouble of carrying the grain through the customers from moving to be carried into the building. Near the scales is the flour chest which contains the article in its purity after it has passed through the various processes of manufacture, and which is situated immediately over the packer already mentioned, the latter being supplied by it. This chest is 6 feet in diameter and 13 feet in height. In the north end of the building, on this floor, are the granaries, which will be used for the storage of wheat intended by Mr. Gibson, to be manufactured for sale to take the place of that which he now imports to supply his large trade. Corn may also be imported and stored here before being ground.

Ascending to the fourth flat our attention was first directed to the Cooler which receives the meal from the stones. This is nine feet in diameter and feeds the Bolts on the floor directly below already described. All the elevators with one exception have their terminus on this floor. Here, too, is the sifter chest or sifter, clothed in the finest material and used to take the fine flour from the middlings, the former going directly to the flour chest and the latter to the velocity purifier. In this flat, also, are wheat bins with a capacity of 300 bushels.

Climbing up to the fifth flat, still in charge of Mr. Cave, we were shown the dust room, through which the grain first passes. An immense conductor extends for almost the entire length of the building, and the grain can be dropped by means of different pipes which connect with it to any desired place below.

Before concluding this article, let our readers have not been able to follow our rather obscure explanation of the various processes through which the grain passes, from the time it leaves the farmers' wagons until it is packed in barrels ready for use, we shall briefly summarize. As we have remarked, the grain is emptied from the street into spouts that convey it to the scales. When weighed it is sent to the bins below, if desired to be stored, or to the fifth flat if required for immediate grinding. Let us suppose that our wheat is to be manufactured at once into fine white flour. From the fifth floor we start with it, and proceed to the dust room on the same floor, where all the dirt and stones are taken from it and whence it is precipitated to the smut on the second floor. After going through this machine it is conveyed to the stones where the most important process is gone through. From the stones the now flour, but yet impure, goes to the Cooler on the fourth flat, thence to the Master or Sifter, and finally to the sifter chest, from which as before observed, it taken the pure flour to be packed in barrels by the "Packer."

The grinding and shafting costing was done up by Messrs. McFarlane, Thompson & Anderson, and the work is highly spoken of. When completed the mill will be run under the direction of Mr. Ross, a gentleman from Ingersoll, Ontario, who thoroughly understands the business.

Mr. Cave is deservedly proud of his success in erecting the building and fitting the machinery. He was the architect as well of the mill and machinery now in course of erection on the Acropolis. He expects to leave for his home in Toronto as soon as Mr. Gibson's establishment is fairly started.—There can be no doubt of the success of the latter, as an immense quantity of wheat is already stored ready for grinding. All our enterprisers deserve the warmest encouragement, and this last of Mr. Gibson's is in keeping with that gentleman's undertakings.
