CHAPTER XLV.

" CHRISTINE, AWAKE ! FOR YOUR LIFE !" Dennis was too much stunned and bewildered to do more than instinctively work his way to the windward as the only point of safety, but the fire was now becoming so broad in its sweep that to do this was difficult. The awful event he is a work of the coming so broad in its sweep that to do it only ask you to give the coming so broad in its sweep that to do its sweep that the as the scorching flames, was scarcely uttered before Mr. Ludolph's lips were closed forever. He and his ambitious life! O ye gods what does it all mean?' dream perished in a moment, and he was and she passed her hand in bewilderment summoned to the other world to learn what his proud reason scoffed at in this. For a block or more Dennis was passively borne along by the rushing mob, Suddenly a loud voice seemed to shout

'The north side is burning!' and he started as from a dream. The thought of nis Fleet; he is a white man, and you are put out her hands and clung to him. Christine flashed upon him, perishing black! You are an impostor! Leave! 'Oh, we shall perish! Are you not that now she had no protector, and that quick, or my father will come and take afraid? he for the moment had forgotten her; though in truth he never imagined that the north side would burn

In an agony of fear and anxiety he put forth every effort of which he was capable, and tore through the crowd as if mad. nel. Into this dark passage he plunged with multitudes of others. It was indeed as near Pandemonium as any earthly condition could be, Driven forward by the swiftly pursuing flames, hemmed in to be his cavern. Every moral difference was represented there. Those who led abandoned lives were plainly recognizable, their guilty consciences finding expression in their livid faces. These jostled the refined and delicate lady, who, in the awful democracy of the hour, brushed against thief and harlot. Little children wailed for their lost parents, and many the depths of my soul!"

'Oh, pardon me, Mr. Fleet!' she cried eagerly. 'I am not worthy of this, but now that I know you, I do trust you from the depths of my soul!'

What a rush of memories came over him as he looked around the familiar place. There stood the easel where, through Christine's gifted touch, his painted face had pleaded with scarcely less eleoquence, till he blotted it out with his watch tick, and his heart beat. He pushed the door open with the feeling of one who was profaning a shrine, and looked timidly in. Even in that hour of peril and anxiety, his eye was enraptured by the beauty of the room. Not only was it furnished with the utmost luxuriance, but everything spoke of a quaint and cultured taste, from the curious marble clock and bronze on the mantel, even to the pattern of the Turkey carpet on which the glare of the fire, as it glinted through the shutters, played faintly. One of the most marked features, however, was an exquisite life-size statue of Diana at the foot of the bed, grasping her bow with one hand, and in the act of seizing an arrow with the other, as if aroused to that he stepped back into the passage. But, with all the beauty of the room, it its modern air, it might just as well have been the resting place of a Greek or Roman maiden of rank.

As Dennis entered the utter darkness a confused roar smote his ear that might have appalled the stoutest heart, but he was oblivious to everything save Christine's danger. With set teeth he put his shoulder against the living mass and pushed with the strongest till he emerged into the glare of the north side. Here escaping from the throng somewhat, he made his way rapidly to the Ludolph mansion, which to his joy he found was still considerably to the windward of the fire. Very truly,

J SIMONAUD, M. D. New Orleans, La. December 10th, 1878.

Messrs. Scott & Bowne—Gentlemen—In September 1877, my health began to fail and my physician pronounced it spinal trouble; under his care I got some relief from pain but my general health did not improve, and early in the winter, I began to raise blood and rapidly grew worse. In May last I was taken with a violent bleeding which brought me to my bed and my life was despaired of for many weeks; violent symptoms appeared, night and morning coughs, night sweats, short breath, and a return of the spinal trouble. My physician stopped the bleeding and then ordered Cod Liver Oil and Lime; and I used various preparations, but they did no good. I lost all hope of life, and was an object of pity to all my friends. Last September I purchased a bottle of your Emulsion and before it was all taken I was better. I then bought a dozen bottles and have taken all with the following result: Cough subsiding, night sweats stopped, appetite re urned, pains in spine disappeared, strength returning, and my weight increased from 118 to 140 pounds in sixteen weeks. I have taken no other medicine since commencing with your Emulsion and shall continue its use until I am perfectly well. I frequently meet some friend on the street who asks, what cured you, and I answer Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, &c. I have a friend who has not spoke aloud for 15 months and he is getting better. I gave him a bottle, and he bought two more then

H. F. SLOCUM, Lowell, Mass. Very truly yours, that no one who saw me thought I could live but a few days at most. I could retain nothing on my stomach and was literally starving. I commenced the use of the EMULSION in small doses; it was the first thing that would stay on my stomach; I continued its use, gradually increasing the dose; and from that hour I commenced mending, and now am able to ride and waik and am gaining flesh and strength rapidly. I have advised other parties to try it, and some two or three have already tried it. I am sure I shall entirely recover.
