The fires in the pine-wood cause annually a heavy loss in Ontario, this year amounting to more than $10,000,000.

Some of the illustrations in Dr. Chandler's new edition of his poems, were drawn by Missie Tucker, of this city.

We are glad to announce that Messrs. Ristken & Co., will have abundance of stock to keep their factory running full time all winter.

Wm. Fletcher, A. B., who was drowned at Cape Breton on the 5th inst., was a brother of Prof. Fletcher, late of the University of N. B.

Mr. Owen McLaughlin, the well known News Agent, Regent Street, died at noon on Monday, and his remains were interred on Tuesday.

The jury in the Dana and Kehoe circus murder case at Ottawa, returned a verdict of "guilty of assault." The prisoners have not yet been sentenced.

Mr. B. Moore, of Upper Haynesville, yesterday shipped 1,400 lbs. of prime butter to the United States, by the American Express Company.

Ald. Hall, returned Tuesday night from his trip to the States. He ordered "white" trousers, a large Xmas stock, which will be opened shortly.

A collection will be made in the Cathedral next Sabbath, to be sent to the Rector of Woodstock for distribution among the sufferers by the late fire.

Mr. A. Seely, of the N. B. Railway, has gone to Cleveland, Ohio, for a few days vacation, well deserved. We wish him a pleasant time and a safe return.

Another slight change has been made in the time table of the New Brunswick Railway, as will be seen by referring to the advt. The train now leaves Gibsons at 7.45 A. M., instead of 7 A. M., as formerly.

Messrs. McMurray & Fenety, are making a magnificent display of Xmas Cards of the newest designs and workmanship. They have never seen as fine a selection in this city and already they are disappearing rapidly. See advt.

Mr. Macpherson, is doing a lively business this season in the manufacture of amulets, which he supplies to the city wholesale and retail trade. He uses the best metal in the market, and enjoys an excellent reputation in his line.

Sir Leonard Tilley has been shown distinguished honors at Washington. On the 14th inst., he attended a dinner given to the new British Ambassador, where he met the representatives of many of the States. Sir Leonard is accompanied by Lady Tilley.

We regret to learn that Mr. Walter Brown died at his home on King Street this morning, after an illness of several weeks. Mr. Brown, a member of the Fredericton Brass Band, was quiet and unobtrusive in his manner and popular among his acquaintances.

Mrs. Charlotte McLaughlin, widow of the late David McLaughlin, of Gibsons, who died last June, has received the offer of business from Life Insurance Company, represented here by Mr. J. G. Gill, the sum of $1,000, the amount of the policy on her late husband's life.

Guests at the "Barber" will miss the familiar face and form of Henry Brinkman, who faithfully served for several years there, as night porter. He died last Friday morning, after a week's illness, and his remains were taken to New Brunswick, on Saturday, for interment, by Mr. Orr.

The new tank on Charlotte Street is about completed, and work has been commenced on the Sunbury Street water works. We presume under the Alderman's close attention, the work will be more faithfully done than on the Mitchell tank.

We are very sorry to learn that Coun. Everett, of Kingsclear, on Monday afternoon suffered a painful accident, by having the fingers of his right hand mangled in a threshing machine, at which he was working. The wound was dressed by Dr. Atherton, who thinks Mr. Everett will regain the use of his hand.

Allan Peterson of Gibsons, a brakeman on the N. B. Railway, had his ankles and feet crushed at Farnsworthville on Sunday, by an engine running over them. He was brought to his home in charge of Dr. Nevers of Harland and Dr. Atherton was summoned. It was at first feared that he would not survive, but he is now expected to be amputated, but now the unfortunate man is doing nicely.

Mr. J. L. Inches, has added another English Insurance Company to his already large list, and is now prepared to take orders for "London & Lancashire," one of the most prominent Companies in Great Britain. All the Companies represented by him are English, a fact which insurers should observe. None have a better record of solvency and deserving than such old and reliable Companies as Mr. Inches represents. See advt.

Saturday's Grip is an exceedingly bright and witty issue. The leading cartoon represents Hon. Mr. Blake taking his pockets inside out in search of something, while he is accosted by a new-boy in whom is recognized the Premier, with "Lost anything?" somewhere in the discursive and significant reply. The number throughout is good, in fact Grip has fairly excelled himself in his latest publication.

The Sun says:—"The pastor of one of the largest Methodist congregations in New Brunswick, has greatly offended his people by, it is said, championing the Rev. Dr. H. W. Thomas, late of Georgetown, who is charged with heresy and suspended from the functions of his office. It is not unlikely that the N. E. and P. E. I. Conference will be called upon to adjudicate in the matter at its next annual meeting."

Mr. R. Hudson, the obliging Clerk of the Phoenix Square Market, informs us that there is a fair supply of produce this week, and that prices are ranging almost the same as last week. There is abundance of hay, with buyers slow. It fetches $13 and downward, per ton. Beef is rather cheap, a good quality selling for 4 and 6 cents per lb. Potatoes continue as high as $1.50 and $1.75, per bush, with only an indifferent supply.

Waterloo Row from Church Street to Rose Hall, is in a scandalous condition, and the public recently have travelled over the ground fronting on the river, which is now out as to be so severely recognizable. The Road Committee this season commenced mending at the end of the Row, and the portion we refer to untouched, although the greater part of the stone required is on the ground. With two Aldermen living in the vicinity, the citizens in that locality expected better things.

A very fair audience attended the concert last Thursday evening in the City Hall, in aid of the Methodist Church improvement fund. The St. John reciters, Misses McInnis and Hea, and Messrs. Peters and McInnis were given a hearty reception, and they sustained their parts in the concert admirably. Miss McInnis especially is an accomplished singer, and her reappearance here will be hailed with pleasure. The performance of the Fredericton Brass Band was more than acceptable, and the selections given by them were heartily appreciated.

Spruce Lake, seven miles from St. John, has been the scene of a terrible tragedy. A team keeper named Theal, who seems to have always treated his wife with much brutality, brought her to an untimely end at last, by the most inhuman and revolting behavior. To inquire on the body of the deceased, revealed the shocking life of the poor woman, and a death must have been welcomed by her. The jury in the inquest have laid the blame on the proper shoulders, and Theal will be hanged at the gallows, and his punishment is too severe for such a villain, and the extreme penalty the law will allow, should be imposed.

Arrival of Government Stock.

We have received the following telegram, announcing the arrival at St. John, of the Government Stock importation, a portion of which is to be sold on the St. John Agricultural Society's grounds, at 11 A. M., tomorrow.

St. John, Nov. 10th. All the cattle of the Government importation, which has just been released from quarantine at Quebec, arrived here to-day in the morning, and were taken to the Agricultural Society's grounds, at 11 A. M., tomorrow.

Mr. Fairweather has managed the transportation in good shape. The sale on Friday will likely be largely attended.

There seems but one opinion regarding this fine stock of animals, that is, that their equals have never been seen in the Lower Provinces. We congratulate the Government, the Board of Agriculture, and our farmers on the event. We quote from a recent article in the Quebec Chronicle, a reporter of which visited the quarantine station a few days ago:—"The New Brunswick Government have some 30 cattle in quarantine. This patriotic Government is setting an example which other Provincial Governments do well to imitate. It is establishing a model farm and importing first-class cattle to stock it. It is certainly to be congratulated upon the magnificent animals which have been received to its order, particularly upon a large Polled Angus bull and a fine Hereford from the Queen's farm at Windsor."

A terrible disaster happened off Sambro, on the Halifax Coast, early Tuesday morning. The iron steamer "Howard" 600 tons burthen, laden with coal from Sydney, in a thick fog, and the brigantine Emma, also laden with coal from Philadelphia, while each were making seven and a half miles per hour, collided, and twenty minutes afterwards both vessels sunk. The crews escaped in open boats, and after a great amount of suffering, were picked up by a passing ship. The losses are estimated at over $100,000. This is one of the worst disasters that has occurred on our coasts for a long time.

On Friday, the MARITIME FARMER issued an issue, in which the transactions of the Woodstock fire, of which over seven hundred were distributed free all over the city. The despatches were kindly furnished us by Mr. Charles McLean of the Woodstock Press, and we acknowledge, with thanks, the courtesy of Mr. A. Seely of the N. B. Railway, in the same connection. The FARMER'S description of the great conflagration was the first that appeared in type here, and we are glad to know it was much appreciated by the public. In another column we republish portions of it, supplemented by extracts from our St. John and Woodstock correspondents. The following is a list of the names of those who were killed or injured:—

On Friday, at Halifax, a social event which excited more than usual interest, was the marriage of F. D. Laurin, Esq., Supt. of the Halifax and Cape Breton Railway, to Miss Joanna, eldest daughter of Lieut. Governor Archibald. The ceremony was performed in St. Paul's Episcopal Church, the largest in Halifax, and it was densely crowded by spectators. Some of our lady readers may be interested in knowing, that the bride wore a handsome very satin dress, trimmed with orange blossoms, veil and wreath, diamond ear rings and diamond and pearl locket, a massive gold bracelet, and carried a beautiful bouquet. The guests included all the social celebrities of Halifax, and after the marriage they sat down to breakfast at Government House, immediately after the bride party left for the Governor's country seat at Truro, by special car provided at the request of Sir Charles Tupper.

The annual meeting of St. Andrew's Society was held in the "Barker House," Monday night last, and was a most successful one in connection with the investment of the Society's fund, and its charities, the election of the officers for the ensuing year took place. The following were elected:—

Wm. J. Howie, 1st Vice President; ALEX. MITCHELL, 2nd Vice President; HON. JOHN JAMES FRASER, Treasurer; E. A. SMITH, Secretary; Wm. J. Howie, Chairman; ROBERT THORBURN, Marshal; DANIEL HOSACK, Paper.

A vote of thanks was passed to the retiring officers, in which Mr. Howie, who was retiring to-day, was complimented for his services in the spring. In moving it, the incoming President, Mr. Gregory in felicitous terms, paid a graceful and well deserved tribute to Mr. Howie's past and present services, and his general business capacity, to which Mr. M. made a feeling reply. In losing him the Society has suffered a great loss, and Scotch enthusiasts, and one who had his interests deeply at heart.

A committee was appointed to make arrangements to celebrate St. Andrew's Day, according to and with the time honored customs. The dinner will be given in the "Barker House," on the evening of the Nov. 30th.

Lord Lorne, according to the Toronto Globe correspondent, who travelled through the northwest with His Excellency, is a most agreeable companion. He says:—"From the first to the last of his Excellency and every member of his party have treated me with the kindest consideration and there is not one of them who has not shown the most friendly interest in the success of my expedition. His Excellency has not only shown His Excellency could not have taken greater pains in affording me every facility for my information concerning the country, through which we have travelled, and which I have been allowed to feel that I was travelling quite independently of the Vice-Royal outfit, I always found in Lord Lorne the most genial and neighborly of fellow-travelers. On every expedition which I wished to join, whether in quest of game or information, I was always a hearty welcomed guest. Whenever I had trouble through breakdowns, or other mishaps, His Excellency invariably showed the kindest interest in my welfare, and when my half-breed had taken seriously ill on the plain below Carlton, he was one of the first to walk through the snow, and to my tent and enquire personally as to his condition."

THE WOODSTOCK FIRE. Some Details of the Conflagration. Woodstock has been overtaken by a great calamity, a fire which has turned out to be a most serious one, and at a most inopportune season. The particulars of the conflagration are given below:—

The fire broke out at midnight, on Thursday, in the Mechanics Institute. A heavy westerly wind blowing carried the flames to Benj. Smith's house just finished but not occupied, and W. F. Dibbles' residence, all being burned to the ground. The fire company was promptly on hand, but could not prevent further spread of fire. In the meantime, the incendiaries torch had been applied to R. K. Jones' barn which was soon in a sheet of flames, the hurricane bore across the barn on his residence, thence across the street.

A WILD MAYOY THEN TOOK PLACE, the fire engine was at work at the Institute fire, and the flames hurried onwards unstayd. Only a short time elapsed before both sides of Main Street, for some distance in flames. The fire company having quitted the flames at the Institute, did their best to stay the ravages, but they were driven to within one house of the new hotel, that is the fire swept.

AFTER THE FIRE. Mayor Fisher of this city, on learning of the fire immediately telegraphed Mayor Jones of Woodstock asking if assistance was needed and received a negative reply.

The firemen fought the fire nobly but against the greatest odds. Of the fire department, a prominent citizen of Woodstock says:—"The great trouble in the past has been that though dependent on hand engines we were not equipped with a steam engine, and what we must have is one steam fire engine and plenty of hose—two engines for each division of the town. With two steamers, the great disaster of Friday night could not have happened, as one engine would have checked the Institute fire, and the other could have been sent sharply on to Mayor Jones' house, and played either from the creek, or from the big tank at the church. Our firemen are as good as any in the world, but they can't fight two fires half a mile apart with one steam engine."

The fire was caused by incendiaries without a doubt, and an investigation into the matter is being held. The work of rebuilding can scarcely be commenced this fall. A walk through the devastated section of the town reveals a level waste, with a few scattered chimneys still towering aloft to mark where venerable homes or modern cottages have lately stood. To nearly all objects to arrest the eye were the brick walls of the Record office and the basement walls of St. Luke's Church; while on the hills to the west, the smoke across the Madawaska, might be seen, still standing, the lower story of the Mechanics' Institute. Houses, barns, outbuildings have all disappeared completely, the scene in this respect differing materially from that produced by a fire in a built up city, where the site of every burned residence can be determined by the piles of brick and stone that outlast the flames. The fire made a clean sweep of four blocks, and took in two main streets, and also took in two smaller blocks down to the bank of the St. John, devastating an area of about twenty acres.

The estimated value of the property destroyed, while the Press puts it as high as $70,000—the latter figures covering the consequential damages. The property owners were for the most part, well insured, though the poorer ones, unfortunately, lost all.

The records and registers in the vault of the record office came through the fiery ordeal all right. It is a lucky thing that the vault on Saturday, as soon as the heat would permit, and found the vault had done its duty admirably.

POST MORTEM EXAMINATIONS have, in some instances, led to the discovery of the scars of completely healed abscesses or sores upon the lung. This of itself shows that the lung tissue when diseased is susceptible of restoration to a sound and healthy condition. Persons afflicted with lung disease may reasonably hope to recover health by the use of well-chosen remedies. Foremost among these are the Northern and Lyman's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda, a thoroughly tested and highly accredited specific for coughs, asthma, bronchitis, spitting of blood, and other affections of the throat, chest and lungs. Pulmonary irritation is promptly arrested by the Cod Liver Oil, and the hypophosphites, which are among the finest remedies used by physicians, revive the flagging energies of the debilitated system.

A lifetime of torture is often endured by the rheumatic. This same may, however, be promptly relieved and the disease eradicated by Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, which, for neuritis, lame back, aches, bruises, frost bite, corns, excoriated nipples, inflamed breasts, liver complaint, and all affections of the breathing organs.

W. W. McLean, L.V.P. O., writes:—"I was afflicted with Rheumatism, and had given up all hopes of a cure. By chance I saw Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil recommended. I immediately sent fifty cents and purchased a few bottles, and with only two applications I was able to get around, and although I have not used one bottle, I am nearly well. The other three bottles I gave around to my neighbors, for the construction of my cure, that I feel bound to relieve the afflicted by writing to you for a supply."
