What is the Gain ?

If one should run a noble race, And at the last, with weary pace, Win to the goal, and find his years A harvest-field of waste and tears, Of turmoil and of buried trust, Rich with dead hopes and bitter dust, And strife and sneer and ceaseless pain, What is the gain?

What is the gain? When, having reached a sunlight height, Through barren sweeps of gloomful night Hoping to see beyond the crest, Fair lands of beauty and of rest. There lies before, stretched far away Unto the confines of the day A desolate and shadeless Plain. What is the gain?

What is the gain? To sail for months of cold and toil Across wide seas, where winds recoil, Only to gather strength and roar A louder challenge than before, And find, when through fogs thick and du The rocky coast at last is won. No haven from the storm-vexed main,

> What is the gain? What is the gain?

The race is won, we see the light, We conquer where the storm-winds fight We show the way to those who wait With faint hearts by the walls of fate; Our banners flutter in the van Of battles fought for thought and man, And ignorance and darkness wane, This is the gain.
