

Hard Times scared to Death!

"We cannot tell a lie, we did it with our little hands" when we knocked the covers off our immense, low priced

SPRING & SUMMER GOODS.

And now we are ready to give you a welcome that means business. We have laid in a new

SPRING STOCK

OF English, Scotch, French, German, Canadian, and Domestic Cloths.

"Simon pure" Goods.

Ready made clothing

which will equal any lot in the Province

Men's and Youths'

Boots and Shoes,

positively in prices a surprise to all

Gents' Furnishing Goods,

In all the latest styles.

HATS AND CAPS.

Zinc, Leather & Wood

TRUNKS.

Latest Fashion Plates,

Just received—away up.

We establish the right-seer with an unrivalled

Elegant Styles and Beautiful Fabrics.

We delight the purchaser with prices, which are never so low. We afford all an opportunity to secure the

NEWEST AND BEST

Spring Garments

at prices within your means.

These plain factuendium your attention: and

we respectfully advise an early examination,

and invite it.

T. W. Smith & Son

CLOTHIERS,

AND

Low priced Boot and Shoe Men.

Fredericton, May 11

March 30, 1882

ALBION HOUSE.

WHOLESALE.

NEW GOODS!

We beighu announce to our friends and the trade generally, that having largely extended our premises, our facilities

are thereby increased and improved,

which place us in a better position to attend more fully to the wants of our numerous customers. The stock is the largest and most varied ever shown in the city, and the prices are unusually

low. We call special attention to our

CLOTHING DEPARTMENT!

which is now well stocked with a splendid assortment of

Ready Made Clothing,

Scotch, English and Canadian

TWEEDS,

DUCKS, OVERALLS,

JUMPERS, &c.

STRAW AND FELT HATS

for Men and Boys at such low prices as must command the attention of buyers.

Trunks, Valises,

with a complete assortment of

LUMBERMEN'S GOODS.

Orders by mail will be carefully and promptly executed.

F. B. EDGECOMBE,

Wholesale and Retail,

Queen St., Fredericton, N. B.

March 30, 1882

Maritime Farmer.

FREDERICTON, N. B., May 25, 1882.

We take much pleasure in announcing that E. L. Wetmore, Esq., will be a candidate at the coming local election. He has every qualification, personal popularity, official experience, high legal standing, and intimate knowledge of political affairs, for the position of representative of the County.

The Session and Disolution.

The session which came to a close Wednesday 17th inst., was the longest continuous one on record of the Dominion Parliament. It was drawn out by an interminable debate, on the N. P., and many lengthy discussions on motions in amendment to the motion to go into Supply. But if there was much talking there were many important measures passed. The spectre of dissolution hovered over the chamber of the House of Commons; the shadow of the coming event passed before the mind of the speakers, and weighed upon their utterances. Though much time was spent in party discussions, the business of the country was not neglected.

A glance at the character of the bills passed, shows that the spirit of far-sighted enterprise is abroad in the Dominion, chiefly in the way of extending the railway system, shortening distances, and opening up new routes of communication with Europe. Nineteen railway charters were granted or amended, and four bills incorporating companies to build important bridges in connection with railways, were passed. Proof is given, that views of men of enterprise and capital are widening, by the fact of the passage of an Act to incorporate the Lake Superior and James Bay Railway, which work, when carried out, will give the Dominion an independent route, and shorten the distance to Liverpool, 64 and 114 miles, as compared with the distances between that English port and Montreal and New York. Another scheme which has had the sanction of Parliament, is the establishment of cable communication between British Columbia and Asia.

Unlike old countries, the Dominion has no irritating and perplexing questions to set class against class, and to threaten civil war. The people are free to push enterprise to the utmost; to advance their material interests, unobscured by any imminent dangers, and in that they are happier than most peoples.

One of the most important measures of the session was the Civil Service Bill, which provides for a board of examiners, as to be authorized to examine all candidates to the Civil Service; to give certificates of qualification to such persons as are found to be qualified. "All appointments to the Civil Service shall be during pleasure, and no person shall be appointed or promoted to any place below that of a deputy head of a department until he has passed the examination and served a probationary term, nor until he has obtained the certificate. The persons appointed to the first, or inside departmental, division of the Civil Service must not be less than eighteen or more than thirty-five years of age."

The Governor General prorogued a session which will long be memorable, with a speech that set forth the prosperous condition of the country, and enumerated the numerous measures passed to encourage enterprise, lessen cost of articles of food, repeal irksome imports, and aid manufacturing industry. The most striking paragraph was the last, in which was set forth the fact and reasons of dissolution.

"I heartily congratulate you on the rapid and successful development of our manufacturing, agriculture and other industries. I am, however, advised that their progress would have been still greater were it not that capitalist hesitates to invest his means in undertakings which would be injured if not destroyed by a change in the trade and fiscal policy adopted by us in 1879. In order, therefore, to give the people, without further delay, an opportunity of expressing their deliberate opinion on this policy, and at the same time to bring into operation the measure for the readjustment of the representation in the House of Commons, it is my intention to cause this Parliament to be dissolved at an early day."

The Reconstruction.

The public was treated to a genuine surprise when it became known how the local government had been reconstructed. No one except those in the innermost confidence of the members of the government for a moment imagined that they would choose Mr. Fraser's successor in the Attorney General's office, a gentleman outside their ranks and outside of politics. The appointment of Mr. McLeod has been well received. He is a strong man in the City and County of St. John, and stands high in the legal profession, and is much esteemed by his brethren. His appointment has been a startling and unexpected surprise to the Opposition, for he brings to the Government the elements of strength. An impression was sought to be made, that by the withdrawal of Hon. Messrs. Fraser and Wedderburn the government would be shattered or could never be reconstructed in a durable manner. So eager was the organ of the Opposition to create this impression that it did not stop to distinguish between the false coin of imagination and sterling truth, and passed the first into the public currency. The government would have been in a bad way indeed if they had approached Mr. Blair with an offer of the Attorney Generalship. But the statement had hardly been more than a hour current, when it met the indignant refutation of the members of the government severally, and the prompt contradiction of Mr. Blair. Whereupon the organ immediately cried "peccati." It is to be hoped that this incident will teach that paper which assumes to lecture its contemporaries on the proprieties, and is so sensitive that it grows indignant at the slightest suggestion of disparagement to any of its friends, a lesson not to be so ready to use unauthenticated rumors to the damage of its opponents.

The government re-constructed created a most favorable impression which was deepened by the very excellent appointments made to the Legislative Council. The people of York will appreciate the appointment of Mr. Collier, as the head of that most important department of government, the Public Works. And they will be much gratified at the recognition of the merits of a gentleman who has long been one of the foremost of business men, esteemed for the honorableness of his dealings, and respected for his constant courtesy and liberality. We mean the Hon. A. F. Randolph.

Speaking of the gentlemen named as candidates in the coming local election in York, the Reporter with ill-becoming superciliousness, asks "who is Mr. Grant?" Whether the editor asks this question in ignorance, or superciliousness he shows to much disadvantage. If he does not know that Mr. D. W. Grant, is Councillor for Canterbury, and has long taken an active part in the public business of his parish and the County generally, he knows little of the doings of that important body, the County Council. If he affects ignorance, his sneering is, to say the least, illmanly. There are few men better well-known in York, than Councillor D. W. Grant. He is not a man whose presence can be ignored in any place or company. He might well address the Reporter in the words of a certain potentate, as reported by the poet Milton, "Not to know me, argues yourself unknown; the man that knows me, knows my name."

The Reporter is the organ and mouthpiece of the aspiring Dominion candidate for York. When it speaks Mr. Fisher speaks. "What can the people of York think of a man who shows contemptuous ignorance of one of the finest fellows, (to speak colloquially,) in their midst, but that he is "not the man for York?" There are a good many gentlemen in the County whom Mr. Fisher does not know, and a great many who do not know him, which is more to the point.

The Westmorland Liberal-Conservative Convention.

The meeting of the Liberal-Conservative Convention to choose a candidate, at Sackville, last week, which Josiah Wood, Esq., was nominated to oppose Sir Albert J. Smith, will be likened to the proverbial straw. It proves, at any rate, that since 1878 a strong feeling in favor of the N. P., and the policy of the present Government, has grown up in the great agricultural county of Westmorland, some of whose foremost men look forward to its becoming a manufacturing centre. At last election, it was with considerable difficulty (certainly with diffidence on the part of the gentleman who did come forward), that a candidate was found to contest the county. But the difficulty in this year of grace, when another election is in prospect, was in deciding who among a number of eligible candidates was the fittest man. Personal feelings are often the element of an election contest, but the motives which have induced such men as Mr. Josiah Wood, Mr. John A. Humphrey, Mr. Harris, and Mr. John McKenzie and others, formerly his supporters, and, no doubt, still his friends, to secede from Sir Albert, were, undoubtedly, founded on the conviction that the Government had inaugurated and carried out a policy which has had a most beneficial effect upon the trade and manufacturing industries of the county at large, and which it would be most hurtful to its interests to reverse. The prospect before Sir Albert, who has been so long the King of the Castle in the county, and assured of victory in any election contest, cannot be very pleasing. The French vote will tell with effect in the contest. With Hon. Mr. Landry, whose influence with his constituents is so great, working in the interest of the party, the preponderance of that vote should fall on the side of Mr. Wood, and do much towards deciding the contest in his favor. Mr. Landry stood high in the esteem of the Sackville Convention, but the vote did not fall on him because, we presume, he is too useful and able a man in the sphere in which he has done such good service to his county, and because Mr. Wood represents in his own person the interests which have been benefited by the N. P., and is, therefore, a fitter person to support that policy in a contest with Sir Albert. But he is still young, and can well afford to bide his time.

Last "18th of May."

That it is very difficult to work up anything like enthusiasm for the earliest history of the Province, can hardly be denied. There are not a few who cherish a deep feeling of reverence for the founder—the U. E. Loyalists—but the temper of the general body of people seems to be rather antipathetic in that respect. We do not for a moment mean to insinuate that they are disloyal; only that they cannot enter vividly into the feelings that actuated those brave men of old, in siding for King and country, and putting their fortunes at stake on the issue of the war. The historic sentiment must be somewhat weak in St. John, par excellence, the city of the Loyalists, when the memorial celebration, the oratorical and musical festival, held to commemorate the 50th anniversary of the landing, on the 18th of May, 1783, failed to draw nearly as large a crowd as would have gathered to witness the performance of a third rate theatrical or negro minstrel troupe. The spirit of the day, as manifested by the Mechanics' Institute last Thursday evening and listened to the addresses of J. W. Lawrence, Esq., Senator Boyd, Rev. Mr. Currie, Wm. Elder, Esq., Judge Weldon, D. S. Kerr and Hon. J. Burpee, was excellent, and their action showed that no effort would be wanting on the part of some of the best known gentlemen in St. John, aided by a most influential committee of ladies, to secure subscriptions to raise a permanent memorial in honor of the founders and to celebrate the centenary of the Province next year in a worthy manner. We trust that they will be successful.

The Marine Railway.

Mr. H. G. Ketchum will soon be in London pushing his scheme for a Marine Railway in the London money market. The resolutions granting the conditional subsidy, were passed on the 12th inst. Mr. Ketchum immediately left Ottawa for New York, and took passage for England by the "Servia." It is hoped that he will be able to induce English capitalists to take hold of the enterprise. The Toronto Mail, speaking of it, says that it is a project which is possessed of more than Dominion interest: "The scheme is being watched carefully by such men as Eds. and Read and other eminent engineers in the United Kingdom and the United States. Eds. with a host of supporters, believes that a marine transport railway across the Atlantic, by means of a canal would. Read and others believe that the time will come when the locomotive will be replaced by the steam engine. The Government of Canada take a certain part in the experiment, but not one risking the people's money. If a company can be raised to construct the railway, and put it in operation, then, and only then, do the people of Canada contribute to the undertaking."

The March of Mice.

Very strange things happen, and are happening, in far away countries, if we can believe what some newspapers say. The trouble is, that the countries in which events marvellous in their nature are said to be occurring are so distant, that there is no verifying the statements of said newspapers. In ancient times insignificant insects and fowls locusts and geese, for instance, played an important part in the Jewish and Roman history; the first did something to free the chosen race from Egyptian bondage, and the other saved Rome, which became the mistress of the world, by their timely marching. From being sacked and ruined by the Goths, the Calcutta Englishman is to be credited, something worse than a plague of locusts, is now working devastation in the Russian Empire in Asia. The London Globe, commenting on the Englishman's statement, (and we must say that the levity of its tone is inexcusable, if it has any faith in it), lets off the following: "After all, the Car is not to have it all its own way in Asia. While a dull world has been imagining that the English Government was taking no steps to prevent that consumption, the whole edifice of the Russian Empire is, it appears, on the point of falling. We are glad that the English Government does him every credit, Lord Ripon has kept silent on the matter, but the Calcutta Englishman at last lets the cat—er rather the dog—out of the bag. These are the English allies in the grand work of staying the course of Russian aggression. Afghan help might be treacherous, not to mention its costliness; the Chinese would not probably appear in the field until a few years after the struggle had terminated. As for the Turkomans, what brigs him there, the present Russian position compared to that blissful lot of India which Russia could dangle before the eyes? A ally had plainly to be looked for. The English Government has already appeared. Our Calcutta contemporary reports that countless myriads of Indian mice have made their way to South-Eastern Siberia, plundering the land, and are already appearing. They go on the march, relentless, remorseless, through Persia, through Semirachinsk, and right up to the shores of Lake Baikal. They are not to be deterred, and what do to stem the devastating deluge, and even the dauntless Russian warriors turn pale when the cry goes forth, "The mice are coming!" The English Government has already appeared. Our Calcutta contemporary reports that countless myriads of Indian mice have made their way to South-Eastern Siberia, plundering the land, and are already appearing. They go on the march, relentless, remorseless, through Persia, through Semirachinsk, and right up to the shores of Lake Baikal. They are not to be deterred, and what do to stem the devastating deluge, and even the dauntless Russian warriors turn pale when the cry goes forth, "The mice are coming!" The mice are coming! The English Government has already appeared. Our Calcutta contemporary reports that countless myriads of Indian mice have made their way to South-Eastern Siberia, plundering the land, and are already appearing. They go on the march, relentless, remorseless, through Persia, through Semirachinsk, and right up to the shores of Lake Baikal. They are not to be deterred, and what do to stem the devastating deluge, and even the dauntless Russian warriors turn pale when the cry goes forth, "The mice are coming!" The mice are coming! The English Government has already appeared. Our Calcutta contemporary reports that countless myriads of Indian mice have made their way to South-Eastern Siberia, plundering the land, and are already appearing. They go on the march, relentless, remorseless, through Persia, through Semirachinsk, and right up to the shores of Lake Baikal. They are not to be deterred, and what do to stem the devastating deluge, and even the dauntless Russian warriors turn pale when the cry goes forth, "The mice are coming!" The mice are coming! The English Government has already appeared. Our Calcutta contemporary reports that countless myriads of Indian mice have made their way to South-Eastern Siberia, plundering the land, and are already appearing. They go on the march, relentless, remorseless, through Persia, through Semirachinsk, and right up to the shores of Lake Baikal. They are not to be deterred, and what do to stem the devastating deluge, and even the dauntless Russian warriors turn pale when the cry goes forth, "The mice are coming!" The mice are coming! The English Government has already appeared. Our Calcutta contemporary reports that countless myriads of Indian mice have made their way to South-Eastern Siberia, plundering the land, and are already appearing. They go on the march, relentless, remorseless, through Persia, through Semirachinsk, and right up to the shores of Lake Baikal. They are not to be deterred, and what do to stem the devastating deluge, and even the dauntless Russian warriors turn pale when the cry goes forth, "The mice are coming!" The mice are coming! The English Government has already appeared. Our Calcutta contemporary reports that countless myriads of Indian mice have made their way to South-Eastern Siberia, plundering the land, and are already appearing. They go on the march, relentless, remorseless, through Persia, through Semirachinsk, and right up to the shores of Lake Baikal. They are not to be deterred, and what do to stem the devastating deluge, and even the dauntless Russian warriors turn pale when the cry goes forth, "The mice are coming!" The mice are coming! The English Government has already appeared. Our Calcutta contemporary reports that countless myriads of Indian mice have made their way to South-Eastern Siberia, plundering the land, and are already appearing. They go on the march, relentless, remorseless, through Persia, through Semirachinsk, and right up to the shores of Lake Baikal. They are not to be deterred, and what do to stem the devastating deluge, and even the dauntless Russian warriors turn pale when the cry goes forth, "The mice are coming!" The mice are coming! The English Government has already appeared. Our Calcutta contemporary reports that countless myriads of Indian mice have made their way to South-Eastern Siberia, plundering the land, and are already appearing. They go on the march, relentless, remorseless, through Persia, through Semirachinsk, and right up to the shores of Lake Baikal. They are not to be deterred, and what do to stem the devastating deluge, and even the dauntless Russian warriors turn pale when the cry goes forth, "The mice are coming!" The mice are coming! The English Government has already appeared. Our Calcutta contemporary reports that countless myriads of Indian mice have made their way to South-Eastern Siberia, plundering the land, and are already appearing. They go on the march, relentless, remorseless, through Persia, through Semirachinsk, and right up to the shores of Lake Baikal. They are not to be deterred, and what do to stem the devastating deluge, and even the dauntless Russian warriors turn pale when the cry goes forth, "The mice are coming!" The mice are coming! The English Government has already appeared. Our Calcutta contemporary reports that countless myriads of Indian mice have made their way to South-Eastern Siberia, plundering the land, and are already appearing. They go on the march, relentless, remorseless, through Persia, through Semirachinsk, and right up to the shores of Lake Baikal. They are not to be deterred, and what do to stem the devastating deluge, and even the dauntless Russian warriors turn pale when the cry goes forth, "The mice are coming!" The mice are coming! The English Government has already appeared. Our Calcutta contemporary reports that countless myriads of Indian mice have made their way to South-Eastern Siberia, plundering the land, and are already appearing. They go on the march, relentless, remorseless, through Persia, through Semirachinsk, and right up to the shores of Lake Baikal. They are not to be deterred, and what do to stem the devastating deluge, and even the dauntless Russian warriors turn pale when the cry goes forth, "The mice are coming!" The mice are coming! The English Government has already appeared. Our Calcutta contemporary reports that countless myriads of Indian mice have made their way to South-Eastern Siberia, plundering the land, and are already appearing. They go on the march, relentless, remorseless, through Persia, through Semirachinsk, and right up to the shores of Lake Baikal. They are not to be deterred, and what do to stem the devastating deluge, and even the dauntless Russian warriors turn pale when the cry goes forth, "The mice are coming!" The mice are coming! The English Government has already appeared. Our Calcutta contemporary reports that countless myriads of Indian mice have made their way to South-Eastern Siberia, plundering the land, and are already appearing. They go on the march, relentless, remorseless, through Persia, through Semirachinsk, and right up to the shores of Lake Baikal. They are not to be deterred, and what do to stem the devastating deluge, and even the dauntless Russian warriors turn pale when the cry goes forth, "The mice are coming!" The mice are coming! The English Government has already appeared. Our Calcutta contemporary reports that countless myriads of Indian mice have made their way to South-Eastern Siberia, plundering the land, and are already appearing. They go on the march, relentless, remorseless, through Persia, through Semirachinsk, and right up to the shores of Lake Baikal. They are not to be deterred, and what do to stem the devastating deluge, and even the dauntless Russian warriors turn pale when the cry goes forth, "The mice are coming!" The mice are coming! The English Government has already appeared. Our Calcutta contemporary reports that countless myriads of Indian mice have made their way to South-Eastern Siberia, plundering the land, and are already appearing. They go on the march, relentless, remorseless, through Persia, through Semirachinsk, and right up to the shores of Lake Baikal. They are not to be deterred, and what do to stem the devastating deluge, and even the dauntless Russian warriors turn pale when the cry goes forth, "The mice are coming!" The mice are coming! The English Government has already appeared. Our Calcutta contemporary reports that countless myriads of Indian mice have made their way to South-Eastern Siberia, plundering the land, and are already appearing. They go on the march, relentless, remorseless, through Persia, through Semirachinsk, and right up to the shores of Lake Baikal. They are not to be deterred, and what do to stem the devastating deluge, and even the dauntless Russian warriors turn pale when the cry goes forth, "The mice are coming!" The mice are coming! The English Government has already appeared. Our Calcutta contemporary reports that countless myriads of Indian mice have made their way to South-Eastern Siberia, plundering the land, and are already appearing. They go on the march, relentless, remorseless, through Persia, through Semirachinsk, and right up to the shores of Lake Baikal. They are not to be deterred, and what do to stem the devastating deluge, and even the dauntless Russian warriors turn pale when the cry goes forth, "The mice are coming!" The mice are coming! The English Government has already appeared. Our Calcutta contemporary reports that countless myriads of Indian mice have made their way to South-Eastern Siberia, plundering the land, and are already appearing. They go on the march, relentless, remorseless, through Persia, through Semirachinsk, and right up to the shores of Lake Baikal. They are not to be deterred, and what do to stem the devastating deluge, and even the dauntless Russian warriors turn pale when the cry goes forth, "The mice are coming!" The mice are coming! The English Government has already appeared. Our Calcutta contemporary reports that countless myriads of Indian mice have made their way to South-Eastern Siberia, plundering the land, and are already appearing. They go on the march, relentless, remorseless, through Persia, through Semirachinsk, and right up to the shores of Lake Baikal. They are not to be deterred, and what do to stem the devastating deluge, and even the dauntless Russian warriors turn pale when the cry goes forth, "The mice are coming!" The mice are coming! The English Government has already appeared. Our Calcutta contemporary reports that countless myriads of Indian mice have made their way to South-Eastern Siberia, plundering the land, and are already appearing. They go on the march, relentless, remorseless, through Persia, through Semirachinsk, and right up to the shores of Lake Baikal. They are not to be deterred, and what do to stem the devastating deluge, and even the dauntless Russian warriors turn pale when the cry goes forth, "The mice are coming!" The mice are coming! The English Government has already appeared. Our Calcutta contemporary reports that countless myriads of Indian mice have made their way to South-Eastern Siberia, plundering the land, and are already appearing. They go on the march, relentless, remorseless, through Persia, through Semirachinsk, and right up to the shores of Lake Baikal. They are not to be deterred, and what do to stem the devastating deluge, and even the dauntless Russian warriors turn pale when the cry goes forth, "The mice are coming!" The mice are coming! The English Government has already appeared. Our Calcutta contemporary reports that countless myriads of Indian mice have made their way to South-Eastern Siberia, plundering the land, and are already appearing. They go on the march, relentless, remorseless, through Persia, through Semirachinsk, and right up to the shores of Lake Baikal. They are not to be deterred, and what do to stem the devastating deluge, and even the dauntless Russian warriors turn pale when the cry goes forth, "The mice are coming!" The mice are coming! The English Government has already appeared. Our Calcutta contemporary reports that countless myriads of Indian mice have made their way to South-Eastern Siberia, plundering the land, and are already appearing. They go on the march, relentless, remorseless, through Persia, through Semirachinsk, and right up to the shores of Lake Baikal. They are not to be deterred, and what do to stem the devastating deluge, and even the dauntless Russian warriors turn pale when the cry goes forth, "The mice are coming!" The mice are coming! The English Government has already appeared. Our Calcutta contemporary reports that countless myriads of Indian mice have made their way to South-Eastern Siberia, plundering the land, and are already appearing. They go on the march, relentless, remorseless, through Persia, through Semirachinsk, and right up to the shores of Lake Baikal. They are not to be deterred, and what do to stem the devastating deluge, and even the dauntless Russian warriors turn pale when the cry goes forth, "The mice are coming!" The mice are coming! The English Government has already appeared. Our Calcutta contemporary reports that countless myriads of Indian mice have made their way to South-Eastern Siberia, plundering the land, and are already appearing. They go on the march, relentless, remorseless, through Persia, through Semirachinsk, and right up to the shores of Lake Baikal. They are not to be deterred, and what do to stem the devastating deluge, and even the dauntless Russian warriors turn pale when the cry goes forth, "The mice are coming!" The mice are coming! The English Government has already appeared. Our Calcutta contemporary reports that countless myriads of Indian mice have made their way to South-Eastern Siberia, plundering the land, and are already appearing. They go on the march, relentless, remorseless, through Persia, through Semirachinsk, and right up to the shores of Lake Baikal. They are not to be deterred, and what do to stem the devastating deluge, and even the dauntless Russian warriors turn pale when the cry goes forth, "The mice are coming!" The mice are coming! The English Government has already appeared. Our Calcutta contemporary reports that countless myriads of Indian mice have made their way to South-Eastern Siberia, plundering the land, and are already appearing. They go on the march, relentless, remorseless, through Persia, through Semirachinsk, and right up to the shores of Lake Baikal. They are not to be deterred, and what do to stem the devastating deluge, and even the dauntless Russian warriors turn pale when the cry goes forth, "The mice are coming!" The mice are coming! The English Government has already appeared. Our Calcutta contemporary reports that countless myriads of Indian mice have made their way to South-Eastern Siberia, plundering the land, and are already appearing. They go on the march, relentless, remorseless, through Persia, through Semirachinsk, and right up to the shores of Lake Baikal. They are not to be deterred, and what do to stem the devastating deluge, and even the dauntless Russian warriors turn pale when the cry goes forth, "The mice are coming!" The mice are coming! The English Government has already appeared. Our Calcutta contemporary reports that countless myriads of Indian mice have made their way to South-Eastern Siberia, plundering the land, and are already appearing. They go on the march, relentless, remorseless, through Persia, through Semirachinsk, and right up to the shores of Lake Baikal. They are not to be deterred, and what do to stem the devastating deluge, and even the dauntless Russian warriors turn pale when the cry goes forth, "The mice are coming!" The mice are coming! The English Government has already appeared. Our Calcutta contemporary reports that countless myriads of Indian mice have made their way to South-Eastern Siberia, plundering the land, and are already appearing. They go on the march, relentless, remorseless, through Persia, through Semirachinsk, and right up to the shores of Lake Baikal. They are not to be deterred, and what do to stem the devastating deluge, and even the dauntless Russian warriors turn pale when the cry goes forth, "The mice are coming!" The mice are coming! The English Government has already appeared. Our Calcutta contemporary reports that countless myriads of Indian mice have made their way to South-Eastern Siberia, plundering the land, and are already appearing. They go on the march, relentless, remorseless, through Persia, through Semirachinsk, and right up to the shores of Lake Baikal. They are not to be deterred, and what do to stem the devastating deluge, and even the dauntless Russian warriors turn pale when the cry goes forth, "The mice are coming!" The mice are coming! The English Government has already appeared. Our Calcutta contemporary reports that countless myriads of Indian mice have made their way to South-Eastern Siberia, plundering the land, and are already appearing. They go on the march, relentless, remorseless, through Persia, through Semirachinsk, and right up to the shores of Lake Baikal. They are not to be deterred, and what do to stem the devastating deluge, and even the dauntless Russian warriors turn pale when the cry goes forth, "The mice are coming!" The mice are coming! The English Government has already appeared. Our Calcutta contemporary reports that countless myriads of Indian mice have made their way to South-Eastern Siberia, plundering the land, and are already appearing. They go on the march, relentless, remorseless, through Persia, through Semirachinsk, and right up to the shores of Lake Baikal. They are not to be deterred, and what do to stem the devastating deluge, and even the dauntless Russian warriors turn pale when the cry goes forth, "The mice are coming!" The mice are coming! The English Government has already appeared. Our Calcutta contemporary reports that countless myriads of Indian mice have made their way to South-Eastern Siberia, plundering the land, and are already appearing. They go on the march, relentless, remorseless, through Persia, through Semirachinsk, and right up to the shores of Lake Baikal. They are not to be deterred, and what do to stem the devastating deluge, and even the dauntless Russian warriors turn pale when the cry goes forth, "The mice are coming!" The mice are coming! The English Government has already appeared. Our Calcutta contemporary reports that countless myriads of Indian mice have made their way to South-Eastern Siberia, plundering the land, and are already appearing. They go on the march, relentless, remorseless, through Persia, through Semirachinsk, and right up to the shores of Lake Baikal. They are not to be deterred, and what do to stem the devastating deluge, and even the dauntless Russian warriors turn pale when the cry goes forth, "The mice are coming!" The mice are coming! The English Government has already appeared. Our Calcutta contemporary reports that countless myriads of Indian mice have made their way to South-Eastern Siberia, plundering the land, and are already appearing. They go on the march, relentless, remorseless, through Persia, through Semirachinsk, and right up to the shores of Lake Baikal. They are not to be deterred, and what do to stem the devastating deluge, and even the dauntless Russian warriors turn pale when the cry goes forth, "The mice are coming!" The mice are coming! The English Government has already appeared. Our Calcutta contemporary reports that countless myriads of Indian mice have made their way to South-Eastern Siberia, plundering the land, and are already appearing. They go on the march, relentless, remorseless, through Persia, through Semirachinsk, and right up to the shores of Lake Baikal. They are not to be deterred, and what do to stem the devastating deluge, and even the dauntless Russian warriors turn pale when the cry goes forth, "The mice are coming!" The mice are coming! The English Government has already appeared. Our Calcutta contemporary reports that countless myriads of Indian mice have made their way to South-Eastern Siberia, plundering the land, and are already appearing. They go on the march, relentless, remorseless, through Persia, through Semirachinsk, and right up to the shores of Lake Baikal. They are not to be deterred, and what do to stem the devastating deluge, and even the dauntless Russian warriors turn pale when the cry goes forth, "The mice are coming!" The mice are coming! The English Government has already appeared. Our Calcutta contemporary reports that countless myriads of Indian mice have made their way to South-Eastern Siberia, plundering the land, and are already appearing. They go on the march, relentless, remorseless, through Persia, through Semirachinsk, and right up to the shores of Lake Baikal. They are not to be deterred, and what do to stem the devastating deluge, and even the dauntless Russian warriors turn pale when the cry goes forth, "The mice are coming!" The mice are coming! The English Government has already appeared. Our Calcutta contemporary reports that countless myriads of Indian mice have made their way to South-Eastern Siberia, plundering the land, and are already appearing. They go on the march, relentless, remorseless, through Persia, through Semirachinsk, and right up to the shores of Lake Baikal. They are not to be deterred, and what do to stem the devastating deluge, and even the dauntless Russian warriors turn pale when the cry goes forth, "The mice are coming!" The mice are coming! The English Government has already appeared. Our Calcutta contemporary reports that countless myriads of Indian mice have made their way to South-Eastern Siberia, plundering the land, and are already appearing. They go on the march, relentless, remorseless, through Persia, through Semirachinsk, and right up to the shores of Lake Baikal. They are not to be deterred, and what do to stem the devastating deluge, and even the dauntless Russian warriors turn pale when the cry goes forth, "The mice are coming!" The mice are coming! The English Government has already appeared. Our Calcutta contemporary reports that countless myriads of Indian mice have made their way to South-Eastern Siberia, plundering the land, and are already appearing. They go on the march, relentless, remorseless, through Persia, through Semirachinsk, and right up to the shores of Lake Baikal. They are not to be deterred, and what do to stem the devastating deluge, and even the dauntless Russian warriors turn pale when the cry goes forth, "The mice are coming!" The mice are coming! The English Government has already appeared. Our Calcutta contemporary reports that countless myriads of Indian mice have made their way to South-Eastern Siberia, plundering the land, and are already appearing. They go on the march, relentless, remorseless, through Persia, through Semirachinsk, and right up to the shores of Lake Baikal. They are not to be deterred, and what do to stem the devastating deluge, and even the dauntless Russian warriors turn pale when the cry goes forth, "The mice are coming!" The mice are coming! The English Government has already appeared. Our Calcutta contemporary reports that countless myriads of Indian mice have made their way to South-Eastern Siberia, plundering the land, and are already appearing. They go on the march, relentless, remorseless, through Persia, through Semirachinsk, and right up to the shores of Lake Baikal. They are not to be deterred, and what do to stem the devastating deluge, and even the dauntless Russian warriors turn pale when the cry goes forth, "The mice are coming!" The mice are coming! The English Government has already appeared. Our Calcutta contemporary reports that countless myriads of Indian mice have made their way to South-Eastern Siberia, plundering the land, and are already appearing. They go on the march, relentless, remorseless, through Persia, through Semirachinsk, and right up to the shores of Lake Baikal. They are not to be deterred, and what do to stem the devastating deluge, and even the dauntless Russian warriors turn pale when the cry goes forth, "The mice are coming!" The mice are coming! The English Government has already appeared. Our Calcutta contemporary reports that countless myriads of Indian mice have made their way to South-Eastern Siberia, plundering the land, and are already appearing. They go on the march, relentless, remorseless, through Persia, through Semirachinsk, and right up to the shores of Lake Baikal. They are not to be deterred, and what do to stem the devastating deluge, and even the dauntless Russian warriors turn pale when the cry goes forth, "The mice are coming!" The mice are coming! The English Government has already appeared. Our Calcutta contemporary reports that countless myriads of Indian mice have made their way to South-Eastern Siberia, plundering the land, and are already appearing. They go on the march, relentless, remorseless, through Persia, through Semirachinsk, and right up to the shores of Lake Baikal. They are not to be deterred, and what do to stem the devastating deluge, and even the dauntless Russian warriors turn pale when the cry goes forth, "The mice are coming!" The mice are coming! The English Government has already appeared. Our Calcutta contemporary reports that countless myriads of Indian mice have made their way to South-Eastern Siberia, plundering the land, and are already appearing. They go on the march, relentless, remorseless, through Persia, through Semirachinsk, and right up to