Whence come or whither sent. From southward to westward drifted All of this April day, Full lightly they swing, uplifted Over the city's gray : Tossed free of the wind and rifted In darts of sudden blue, Caught warm of the sun and sifted

With clear light thro' and thro'. O'er shadowless deeps of azure All as the wise winds blow, With a seemly grace of leisure, Cloud after cloud they go; In a dance of sunny pleasure That keepeth high and clear, As unto an airy measure

Too fine for human ear. I watch them drift and dally, And shine as they were wet, With the brightness blown in sally, Of winds that veer and fret; Till my youth dreams rise and rally And press me still to seek
A cloud-land of slope and valley,
Sun-touched on one pure peak.

O clouds! you have me for lover, With love that shall not cease, Though the dreams of youth be over, Your beauty bringeth peace; In me ye can still discover The merry-hearted lad, Literature.

Who was wont to watch you hover,

In dreams that made him glad.

So you want ter know how I came ter hev Caleb, when I knew jest heow he used Nancy, his first wife. Wall, I'll tell you

TRAINING A HUSBAND.

You know Dan'l left me pretty poorly off. I hed two little children, an' what ter dew I didn't know. The mortgage was ter run eout in about a year an' half arter he died: I'd sent the children down to brother Islan's down to brother John's ter go to school. Brother John wanted me to give them ter him, and he'd do well by 'em, an' I was meditating on it, orful loth to dew it. But what else could I dew with them when the old farm was took away from

One day when the time was near cout, I was a hoein' the beans side of the fence jinin Caleb's cornfield. I tell yer, Han nah, I never felt bluer in all my born days. I'd allers lived an' worked on a farm, an' couldn't do no other kind of work; so what was to become of me I didn't know. Purty good hoein' for a green hand, sez somebody over the fence. Yes, sez I. I've done enough of it since I was left alone. Practice makes perfect, we used ter write in our copy book when we were children, an' I couldn't help heaving a sigh. Wal, Emmerline, sez he, your'n seem to be in the same fix. You need a man to do your hoeing and sich, and I need a woman to see ter my house, an' if you're agreed we'll hitch horses and work in double harness. I can't find no hired help that'll do as Nancy did. (Thinks I to myself, an' you'll never find another 'twill, either.) "So what d'ye say, Emmeline?

P'raps I didn't think o' nothin for the nex' few minutes. It all flashed over me in a second, what an unfeelin' man he'd allers ben. Poor Nancy had ter dew all the house-work, an' a good deal belonged ter him ter dew, an' he was stingier than on old miser, tew.

I knew he was a smart man ter work, was forehanded and was able to live in good deal better shape than he did, an' you know, Hannah, that poor Dan'el was just the oppersite. He was an orful clever man, was Dan'el, but kind o' shiftless an' easy, an' it allers worried me so much tew hev things goin' so slack. Sez I to myself, a body can't hev everything; ther's allers some outs, an' a poor man's better'n none. So I speaks right up, an' "Caleb, we've been nabors for many a year. I know your failin's an' s'pose you know mine; an' so, ef you say so, all right; p'r'aps we both might do wuss. Wal, ter make a long story short, we agreed to hev the business dun right off. Caleb said thet it was styllish to go on a weddin' tower now-a-days, and, as he wanted ter go deown to Fredericton to see about selling his wool, an' as Sarah Jane Curtis (who used ter work for him), lived about half way, an' we could stop there both ways and not cost us anything, he thought we'd better go. His neice, Rebecca Gilman, yer know, lives there, and we could make her a visit at the same time. Brother John lives there tew, you know, and I'd make up my mind that I'd jest bring home the child'en. An' so I did; but Caleb he was orful sot agin it, but sed of course they can come and make us a visit; an' I let him think so, 'cause I wan't quite ready to have words with him, yet.

We stayed about a week an' got home along in the afternoon all right. The nex' mornin' I woke up purty airly, an' I sez to myself: "Courage Emmerline, now or never." I kep' still, for Caleb was still a snorin', but bime by he fetched an onairthly snort that wake't himself up, an when he see as it was gettin' daylight, he nudged me an' sez he: Wake up, Emmerline. Emmerline, its broad day light; come, come, get up, we shan't hev any breakfast terday.

I was orful hard ter wake, but after a while I managed tew, an' while I was a rubbin' my eyes, I sez, "got a good fire ain't ye, Caleb?" Fire! said he. No, I never build any fires. Nancy allers built the fires.

Did she? sez I, as cool as a cucumber. So did Daniel. I turned over and went to sleep again-or, at least, he thought I did. Wall, he wiggled, and turned, and twisted, an' he didn't move ter get up fer about an' hour, an' when the sun rose an' shone inter the bedroom winder, he got up and built the fire. There wasn't no kindling's, nor a stick o' wood, and he had to skirmish round lively an' get some.

Arter the fire got tew crackling in good shape I got up. I didn't hurry none, let me tell you. I was most dead lying abed so long, but sez I to myself. Ef I make the fires now, I'll prob'ly hev to do it in the cold weather, an' I won't do it for any

He was pretty sullen all day, but I didn't take no notice of him, an' he got over it. The next day he was ter begin hayin', and had six men ter help him. I had to do all the work, an' take care of the milk an' churnin', an' it was no fool of a job. Come time ter get dinner, an' there wasn't a sliver o' wood cut. I sent Johnny (he was then about seven years old) out in ther field ter tell Caleb I wanted him.

He came in looking savage enough, and wanted to know what it was I wanted. Sez I— "I want some wood ter burn."

"Wal," sez he, "thar's a whole woodpile

"It means what it means," sez 1. "You said yest'day that you didn't want ter be called in from the mowin' field again, unless it was for victuals, an' here | Wholesale Agents, - - St. John, N. B.

"Nice shape, tew," sez he. "Wal, I can't cook without wood," sez I. With that all seven of 'em started for the door, an' they never left that pile till it was ready for the stove. I never was bothered for wood again. A few weeks after I wanted some money purty bad. I wanted ter send Johnnie and Nellie back to school, an' I was bound and Nellie back to school, an' I was bound that they should have some clothes fit to wear. I asked Caleb a number of times to let me hev some, but he made all kinds of excuses. I didn't tell him what I wanted of it, mind you. So one day along comes a pedlar that bought butter'n eggs. I had considerable on han' that Caleb was intending to carry into ther city when he had time. So I sold every pound of butter an' eggs I had in the pound of butter an' eggs I had in the house. I got nigh on to twenty-five dollars for 'em. When Caleb come home I told him nad sold the butter'n eggs. "Heow much did you git?" sez he. "Where's the money?" sez he.

"I've got it," sez I. "Wall," sez he, "Nancy allers give me all the money that she took for her butter and eggs." "Did she?" sez I. "And so did Daniel."

He got tired of holding Nancy up afore my eyes, for I would offset her with Daniel every time. He found that I was powerevery time. He found that I was powerful sot in my way, an' he thought he might as well let me hev my own way, an' so he sez, "I don't mean to be ugly, but I won't be trod on by nobody." When he wouldn't let me hev what money I wanted, I'd sell something every time. I sold two tons of hay one time, when I knew he only had enough to winter his critters. So, on the whole, he found out that I wasn't afraid of him, and he behaved quite decent. I told him not long ago that he was growin' clever. ago that he was growin' clever.

STRANCE BUT TRUE. The only Sure Cure for Dropsy. READ THE FOLLOWING.

GETSON'S POINT, Nov. 20th, 1881 MESSRS. C. GATES & Co.: Gentlemen .- I should have written to you before, but neglected to do so. I feel it my duty to send you the following information, from gratitude to you and the benefit of those suffering as I was. About five years ago I was greatly afflicted with Rheumatism and Dropsy; my afflicted with Rheumatism and Dropsy; my legs were swollen to an enormous size; I could not even get from my bed without the aid of my wife for several days. I tried all kinds of patent medicine, and a number of bottles of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, and also Johnson's Liniment, but found myself worse. I applied to several doctors, from whom I received no benefit. In the following summer I went to Halifax, to the Provincial Hospital, and there lay under the doctors' treatment for eight weeks. I had my leg tapped twice and blistered several times. I suffered day and night—everything but death. ffered day and night-everything but death.

suffered day and night—everything but death. I then left that institution and retured home, having received little or no benefit, and expecting never to get any better. I was then advised by a friend to resort to your valuable medicine, No. 1 Syrup and No. 2 and No. 3 Bitters, with a box of Nerve Ointment and Vegetable Plaster. The first few bottles I used I did not feel much better, but when I had taken six bottles the swelling was going down in my legs, and my whole system began to feel better. In all I used but twelve bottles, and I am now enjoying the but twelve bottles, and I am now enjoying the best of health. I am thankful to God that he made your medicine an instrument in His ly attended to.
