In this connection we hope that the Dominion Government will vield to the pressure brought to bear on them by representatives of Quebec and New Brunswick, and give a subsidy to the line which will connect the New Brunswick railway with a line through Quebec to the Intercolonial. How, if he live until August, can he expect that Princes and representatives of all the Courts of Europe will accept his invitation, to be present at the ceremony, when there is reason for fearing that they may meet sudden death on the railway, any where between St. Petersburg and Moscow, or if they escape that danger, may be exposed to be blown up by a dynamite mine, or infernal machine in the ancient city of the Czars. It appears impossible for the Czar his court and advisers to come to any determination to make concession in the way of constitutional reform in order to appease the spirit of revolution; the fear of it only makes them tighten the grasp of government upon the people. The spirit and temper of the Czar, his councillors and the officers of the army seems to be such that they would welcome any desperate external enterprise that would create a counter excitement in the country, and relieve the strain caused by state of its internal affairs. If this be indeed undertaken, force must be used, and it wil probably be the beginning of very serious re-

The Egyptian army as at present organized consists of nine regiments of infantry, two regiments of artillery, three regiments of coast guards, three regiments of cavalry, and four regiments of gendarmerie. Every Egyptian between the ages of 19 and 40, 1egardless of religion or race, is liable to military service. The term of service in the active army is three years for the infantry and four years for the cavalry and artillery. After leaving the active army the soldiers C. H. THOMAS & CO'S. retire to their villages, and for a period of six years are inscribed in the first reserve; after in a Cold! ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM is your the expiration of the six years they are inscribed in the second reserve, which can only be called out in case of invasion.

The loss of vines through the ravages of the phyllorxera is forcing the wine makers of France to strenuous efforts to find a substitute. M. A. Deleuil, a member of the A large variety, all sizes, in Shirts Agricultural Society of France, insists that This is indeed an enlightened ago, and yet an acceptable substitute has been found in a variety of red beet root, which he describes as "unrivaled in the whole world for its incomparable qualities, which will in time replace all that we have lost in the vine. Beet root produces alcohol of superior quality, why, then, should not its pulp, treated like the must of the grape, produce an equally luscious beverage? In fact, this has been many of the soi-disant wines of our southern vineyards. It possesses the additional advan-The Russian Minister of the Interior pro- | tage of accommodating itself to all soils, and

This year Good Friday, and therefore Easter Sunday, fell upon the very day of the month on which they fell at the time of the Ireland within twenty-four hours, experi- fleet to the latter, receiving Finland if the Lord's Passion and Resurrection in A.D. 30. On that day the full moon was on 1871, the day of the Crucifixion and that of the Resurrection fell as this year. This coincidence will not happen again till 1944. In 1886 Easter Day will fall on April 25, its latest possible date-the first time it has so fallen since the introduction of the new style
