FREDERICTON, N. B., March 7, 1883. Mr. Estabrooks in the Field. We have much pleasure in announcing, that Leverett Estabrooks, Esq. of Prince William, a gentleman well known, and highly respected throughout the County of York, has decided to contest the election with Mr. Blair, and the assurances of a hearty support, he has axiom politically applied to Mr. Blair, will already received, augur well for his triumphant return. Mr. Estabrooks is a man from

of ably expressing his convictions, the honesty of which, none have ever doubted. He ran the County in the general elections in June last, and unaided by organization, means, or undue influence, pelled a splendid vote-a vote expressive alone of the estimation in which Mr. Estabrooks is held by the people. In the present contest he will be backed by a party united and enthusiastic, and there can be no doubt of his success although he and his friends must be prepared to fight all manner of questionable canvasses, and misrepresentations. Steady and concentrated effort on the part of the people, will carry Mr. Estabrooks to

York and the New Cabinet.

The unanimity with which the people of IS NOW GOING ON.

Is it is it and County condemn Mr. Blair upnatriotic course in hoisting himself into the Government, regardless of his constituency's interest, is most remarkable. That feeling, however, is not to be wondered at since York, by the overturn of the late Government, has lost whatever of material benefit may be derived from a portfolio When Mr. Colter accepted the office of Minister of Public Works, there was a general expression of approbation from one and of this constituency to the other, but almost before he had warmed the office—and the record of this constituency to the other, but almost before he had warmed the office—and the record of the correspondence of the more was given to upnatriotic course in hoisting himself into the corresponding to the constituents of the foreign takes place! But no! This is all a dream. The city is sombre and dismal. The inhabitants have enclosed their dealing with their policy and measures propsus and when the polys of the Government as to this mode of dealing with their policy and measures propsus and with drooping heads look their thresholds. But Mr. Blair got the Attorney-Generalship, and the snug little salary of $2,400 attached thereto-and what cares he for York.

The New Government.

A weaker combination, or a more heterogeneous collection of selfish politicians than though nominally leader, is only a cipher, must have no participation? occupies a seat, has never before been presented to the public. It has the prophecy of a short and miserable life written upon its every feature. It is composed of men, who while distrusting the supporters who placed it in power, and properly so, have no confiprice for desertion of his old friends, has been promptly paid, there is no element of

Mr. Blair's orgasn were wont to howl over the "prependerance of Westmorland." in the late government, but they are silent now over tht "preponderance" of St. John. The Westmorland members of the late government, Mesers. Landry and Hannington, saved the Parliament Buildings and the Law Courts to Fredericton. That is how Westmorland "preponderance" worked then, but how, let us ask, should such another crisis arise, would St. John " preponderance' exert its influence. Messrs. Elder and Ritchie and especially the latter, were the most persistent enemies to this city and county on the "capital question," and it was to make place for those gentlemen that Mr. Blair by the most unfair method ever adopted to defeat a government, a method which strangled discussion on the policy the government had inaugurated, and kicked them out before a word could be uttered, seduced gentlemen from their party allegiance by a process of barter and sale, which is without parallel in

Mr. Blair in Westmorland

It is a matter of public notoriety, that while in Westmorland a few weeks ago, endeavoring to compass the political death of York County's truest friends, Messrs. Landry, and Hannington, Mr. Blair displayed his utter disregard for his own constituency's interests, by confessing on a public platform that Formation of a New Administration.
