We think the City Council made a mistake failing to re-appoint Mr. James Farrell t the position of Principal Assessor. He had held the office of Principal and Assistant Assessor for several years, and so for as we can learn, discharged his duties faithfully, and to the full satisfaction of the citizens generally. It is a wrong principle to thrust a man from office, when he has given such good evidence of ability and painstaking as Mr. Farrell, and there ought to be some guarantee that when such a position is accepted, its incumbent will not be dismissed without some
