Criminal Prosecutions.

This was a subject on which Mr. Blair was wont to shout himself hoarse in denunciation Mr. Wetmore, Mr. Hannington, Mr. of the late government. To in-Mr. Blair had a bill passed abolishing the office of the clerk of the Crown, a mere pittance of $400 per annum. Mr. Blair and Mr. Ritchie were to undertake the duties of that office, and save the country unknown sums. Criminal prosecutions was a strong point in Mr. Blair's arraignment of the old government, and criminal prosecutions, i still a strong point with him, but in an entirely different way.

In looking through the public accounts for 1883, we find that Mr. Henry R. Emmersor. one of the leading Grit lights of Dorchester Corner, has been paid $150 for professional services on criminal prosecutions; that Mr. L. George F. Gregory of Fredericton, and prefessional partner of Mr. Andrew G. Blair du: idg the same period, pocketed $119 for crim . nal prosecutions, and $250 as Counsel and Solicitors fees in the Crown case of the Queen vs. Dunn. In this case the $250 i only a preliminary charge. Mr. Gregory during February last, went to Ottawa to arguthe same case before the Supreme Court, and so we may anticipate further charges in the Public Accounts of next year. During the past year he was financially benefited by his partners accession to power, to the extent of $369 in fees alone. In Mr. Gregory's case we are informed, that in the Carleton Courts he has invariably appeared and taken entire charge of the criminal business which the law provides belongs to the Clerks of such During the debate on this item, the Courts. At Krupp's celebrated foundry mountain guns are finished in two months after work on them is begun, while two years are required to manufacture a 16 inch gun of 35 calibres length. This apparently long time is made necessary by reason of the large surfaces that have to be worked over on a steel cannon of this description 55 feet long and weighing

A common trouble in country blacksmith shops is the going out of the fire while the smith is doing work away from it. This annovance can be prevented by k-eping at hand English, Scotch and Canadian a box containing sawdust. When the fire seems to be out, throw some on the coals and a good blaze will quickly follow. This may that cannot be excelled in quality make seem a small matter, but they are many who will find the suggestion a useful one.
