A new element in incombustibility in the construction of a building is found in the use of cork bricks. This new material was exhibited at the Nuremberg Exposition, where it attacted much attention. These bricks have not only been largely used for building purposes on account of their lightness and isolating properties, but they are also employed as a covering for steam boilers, and are said to excel even asbestos in preventing the The usual size of the brick is 10 x 4.34 x 2.12 inches.

Mr. Thomas Burt, M. P., in address his constituents at Morpeth on the 29th ult. said, in speaking of Ireland, that agrarian crime and outrages had largely diminished in that country and that the Land Act was bearing good fruit. Up to the close of last year the total number of applications to have fair rents fixed in the law courts was 108 .-217. Of these 82,990 had been disposed of leaving to be dealt with 25,227. Out of court 57,867 cases had been settled. During the first two years in which the act had been in operation, that is, up to August 21st last, the Land Commisioners had made a total reduction of rents of £351,228 per annum. during which the rents would remain fixed, There is a mania among a set of astrono-
