Heifers from the Best Milkers.

We think all the best darymen are agreed in regard to the profit of raising their own cows to supply additions to their herds. Very few have ever selected a valuable herd wholly by purchase. It has been said that if total depravity can ever be alleged against a farmer it will be found in his representations on the sale of cows. We have often enumerated the important points in favor of selecting the heifer calves from the best milkers, both for quantity. If the dairyman gave no heed to this point he will that do not pay their keeping, and though we strongly recommend dairymen to raise their own cows, we are far from advising them to perpetuate their poor cows. It would be even better policy to give them away to a favorite brother-in-law. The heifer calves from only the best cows should be raised and the weeding out should go on still further. When these heifers come into milk those that do not come up to the proper standard should be discarded. A careful test should always be made of each cow in the herd and of each heifer during her first period of milking. If the heifer has the appearance of a well formed milker and of having had a good dam it may not be judicious to pass upon
